City Councillors are elected during November of each odd numbered year and serve two-year terms beginning on the first Monday in January of the year following election. The terms of the city charter, specifically section 49 of Chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, provides that the salary of City Councillors be set by ordinance and that "...no other sum shall be paid from the city treasury for or on account of any personal expenses directly or indirectly carried by or in behalf of any city councillor." A similar provision of the General Laws (section 6A of Chapter 39) authorizes salaries of the Council to be set by ordinance and further provides that notwithstanding any contrary city charter provision, councillors "...shall receive no other compensation from the city...." Chapter 15 of the Ordinances of 1994 set the salary for City Councillors at $54,500 effective January 1, 1995.

Personal Staff Aides

Each Councillor is empowered to appoint and employ a number of personal office assistants. Standards for selection, salary and benefits for personal office aides are determined by the individual Councillor. Each Councillor has a staff salary account of $100,000 with the Council President's staff salary account set at $130,000 (CBC 2-8.3). The administrative aspects of payroll and accounting for each Councillor's office are performed by the Staff Director and Business Manager. Personal staff aides are paid and appointed by ninety-day order. The Business Manager tracks Council office personnel expenditures to ensure that the $100,000, or in the case of the President $130,000, is not exceeded. In those fiscal years during which an election for City Council takes place, Council office personnel allocations are halved to ensure that in the event that a Councillor does not seek re-election or loses an election the new Councillor has one-half of the allocation. All personal staff aides serve at the pleasure of the appointing Councillors with all terms and conditions (including vacation, sick and compensation time) set by that Councillor.

Interns and Work Study Students

The City Council, as funds permit, may hire and place in personal offices or the central staff office part-time interns and/or work-study students. The City Council maintains contractual agreement with most local universities to provide meaningful, school-related employment to qualified students. The sponsoring institution pays 70 percent of the student's salary and the City Council pays 30 percent. Hourly wages, amount of grant-in-aid, and number of hours are set by the terms and conditions promulgated by the college or university. Application for aide positions can be made through the Staff Director. Councillors interested in student employees shall make their desires known to the Staff Director. Councillors interested in student employees shall make their desires known to the Staff Director, who, in turn, will attempt to place qualified students. The Staff Director shall be responsible for all administrative matters relating to such employment, i.e. application, interview, payroll, time charts and payment. The Councillor charged with such a student employee shall be responsible for work assignment and schedule of hours to fit the student's and Councillor's needs. All student employees serve at the pleasure of the individual Councillor and the body as a whole.

Personnel Transactions

All personnel transactions, including hiring, terminations, salary changes and vacation advances, must be initiated through filing a Personnel Transaction Form with the Staff Director or the Business Manager. No personnel transactions will be processed without the signature of the employing Councillor on the Personnel Transaction Form. All hirings and changes in salary must be approved by the entire City Council at a regular Council session. Therefore, all Personnel Transaction Forms requiring full Council action should be submitted no later than 5 p.m. on the Monday before the Wednesday Council session.

Vacation Advances

Pursuant to Chapter 635 of the Acts of 1945, Council employees may receive a vacation advance. Requests for vacation advances must be made on a Personnel Transaction Form no later than the Monday before the Friday when the employee would like to receive the advance.

Health Insurance

All Council employees working more than twenty hours per week are entitled to health insurance. The Council's Central Staff does not process any health insurance paperwork and all inquiries should be directed to the Health Insurance and Benefits Division in Room 807 (5-4570).

Administrative

The City Council is a separate branch of municipal government. As such, the Council maintains its own administrative operation. Under current law, the City Council's budget may not be lowered from the previous year's appropriation (Chapter 190 of the Acts of 1982 — Tregor) without the consent of the Council. Sums appropriated to the City Council shall be expended subject to the approval of the Council President (CBC 2-8.2). Although the Council, for book-keeping purposes, uses the same system of disbursing as the executive branch, it is not a line department subject to the directives of the Mayor.

The Staff Director is the chief administrative officer of the City Council. With the written approval of the Council President (in accordance with CBC 5-5.31), the Staff Director may sign all payrolls, contracts, non-orders and service orders on behalf of the Council for goods and services.

City Council Budget

The budget of the City Council is prepared annually by the Council's Budget Director and Staff Director. The budget may be separated into two general categories, personnel and non-personnel.

Personnel Budget — The City Council maintains a personnel budget account for all employees, including Councilors. Salaries for Councilors, elected officers of the Council and individual office limits are set by ordinance (CBC 2-8.3). Salaries for all other employees, i.e., non-elected members of Central Staff and individual Councilor aides are paid through a ninety day temporary employment order. These orders are submitted to the full Council and are subject to a majority vote. As of January 1995, a Councilor's salary is $54,500. The personnel spending limit for each Council office is $100,000 per fiscal year and $130,000 per fiscal year for the office of the president. All personnel funds are carried in line 0100 of the Council's budget.

Non-Personnel Budget — The City Council provides funds for all aspects of its operation. The Staff Director is charged to maintain all receipts, charges and orders of equipment, supplies, contracts, and/or any expenditure of money. Each Councillor's office receives equipment, supplies, telephone service, postage, computers and other essentials from the funds appropriated for those purposes.

Below is an outline of the budget line item numbers and their application.

Line 210 Communications — used for telephone and fax service as well as other expenditures of a communication nature.

Line 270 Repair and Service of Equipment — used for the repair of office machinery, the Council's sound system and the Xerox machine.

Line 290 Miscellaneous Contractual Services — used for various recurring or contractual expenditures, i.e., work study students, stenographic services, advertising, water cooler service.

Line 360 Office Supplies — used for the purchase of all disposable office supplies and postage stamps.

Line 410 Unemployment compensation and insurance.

Management of Council Rooms

In accordance with CBC 1-5, Council rooms shall be under the control of the Council President. Use of the Iannella Council Chamber, the Curley and Piemonte Rooms and various public hallways shall be restricted to legislative functions or invited guests of the Council President. Arrangement to use any room of the City Council must be made in writing on a form provided by the Council receptionist. The Staff Director shall be responsible for the maintenance, scheduling, and over-all care of all rooms assigned to the City Council. Use of Council rooms outside of normal business hours (Monday — Friday, 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.) shall be restricted to events at which a Councillor or Council staff member will be present for the entire time. No rooms may be used by any person or group attempting to lobby or influence through public exposure an issue which is or may come before the Council.

Mail

The City Council is charged for all mail which is sent through the City Hall mail room. In order to ensure that the Council is being properly charged, all mail sent through the City Hall mail room must be counted and entered into the mail voucher log book by the Council Receptionist. Outgoing and interdepartmental mail may be left in the baskets behind the Receptionist's desk and will be brought to the main room at 2:30 p.m. each day. Incoming mail is brought from the mail room daily at 12:30 p.m.

Postage stamps may be ordered by filling out a supply requisition form and submitting it to the Staff Assistant on Central Staff.

City Documents

The City Council sells certain official city documents, they are:

Boston Streets, $10.00

Municipal Register, $10.00

Public Document #10 (election reports), $2.00

Documents are sold at the reception desk. Documents are available to Councillors at no charge. However, when obtaining a city document, Councillors must submit a letter to the City Messenger indicating the publication and number of copies taken is required in order to ensure adequate inventory control.

Stationery

All City Council letterhead, business cards, envelopes and forms are printed by the city's Printing Division and must be ordered through the City Messenger. Because the Council is charged by the Printing Division for all departmental printing it is essential that all orders be placed through the City Messenger in order to ensure that the Council is being properly billed.

Office Supplies

Council offices may request supplies by completing an Office Supply Requisition Form and submitting it to the Staff Assistant. Because the City Council has a limited office supply appropriation and must purchase supplies from a particular vendor, special orders will be filled subject to availability of funds and product.

Legislative

Council Sessions

The City Council meets in regular session each Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the Christopher Iannella Chamber. Special meetings may be called in accordance with Rule 1 of the Rules of the City Council (see legislative glossary). The Rules of the City Council, contained in the Organization of City Government, detail the rules which govern action during Council sessions and provide a description of each of the Council's committees and their responsibilities.

Council Agenda

The City Clerk's Office prepares the City Council's agenda for its weekly Council session. In order for matters to be considered at a Council session an original and two copies of the legislation (home rule, order, ordinance, resolution or committee report) must be submitted to the Clerk's Office (Room 601) before 1 p.m. on the day before the meeting. In addition, eighteen copies of the matter to be considered are to be delivered to the City Messenger in order for them to be distributed to each Councillor. A folder containing all items on the agenda is distributed to each Councillor at 4 p.m. on the day before a Council session. If a matter is of a congratulatory nature only two copies are to be submitted to the City Messenger (the original and two must still be submitted to the Clerk by the 1 p.m. deadline).

Items which are not submitted to the Clerk's Office before the Tuesday 1 p.m. deadline must be treated as late filed matters and require unanimous consent (suspension of Rule 11) to be added to the agenda for consideration.

Legislative Calendar

The Staff Director, with the assistance of the Office of the City Clerk, prepares a weekly legislative calendar. The order of the calendar (sometimes referred to as "the green sheets") is as follows:

Sixty-day Orders (ordinances submitted by the Mayor which go into effect if no action is taken within 60 days of submission)

Matters Assigned for Further Action (most often mayoral vetoes which the Council may override with two-thirds vote)

Unanswered Home Rule Petitions

Legislative Research

The Staff Director is responsible for coordinating the research/legislative arm of the Council's central staff. The chief of research, legislative assistants, budget director and city messenger are available to work on projects assigned by individual councillors or the staff director. Unless otherwise instructed, all work done by central staff for a particular Councillor is to be kept strictly confidential. Central staff employees should make available to councillors research done from out-of-town newspapers, periodicals, the Massachusetts General Laws and the City of Boston Code. Additionally, at the direction of the requesting councillor or the staff director, central staff members can be authorized to attend meetings, seminars, libraries, and/or conventions for further investigation of an assigned project. Any employee attending such an outside event, does not represent the City Council, nor any individual or group of City Councillors, and should conduct himself/herself accordingly. Public statements and relations with the media on behalf of Council employees shall be handled exclusively by the staff director, subject to approval of the Council President or an individual Councillor.

The Staff Director is charged with appointing staff members to serve as committee liaisons. The responsibility of central staff members at committee hearings is to aid in set-up, maintain order, provide information upon request and prepare notes of the hearing and a committee report as well as research and draft legislation. The central staff person assigned shall prepare a hearing report detailing specifics of committee testimony. The hearing report shall be kept on file by the central staff, available for Councillors or staff, or for distribution by order of the chair.

Committee Hearings

A committee chair may call a committee hearing on any matter properly before the committee as listed on the legislative calendar.

The chair should arrange for a committee hearing with the committee liaison assigned to the committee. All hearings are subject to the Massachusetts Open Meeting Law, which requires forty-eight hours advance notice and availability to the public. The chair should select a date, time and location for the hearing. Together with the committee liaison, the chair should develop a list of persons who will be invited to attend and give testimony on the particular matter before the committee. In addition to those notified of the hearing, the chair shall select those people who will be requested to attend and offer testimony. In accordance with MGL c 233, s. 8, the Council has the authority to compel the attendance of witnesses, and letters citing that authority will be sent to persons designated by the chair. A list of Administration officials who will be required to testify is forwarded to the Mayor's liaison to the City Council.

The list of invitees, time, place and subject of the committee hearing should be delivered to the committee liaison for processing. Committee announcements are prepared for the chair's signature and announcements are sent to all councillors, certain city officials, members of the press and persons who have asked to be notified of Council hearings. Upon request, committee liaisons shall make follow-up telephone calls to key witnesses to confirm attendance.

The committee liaison shall ensure that any committee hearing held outside of the Council rooms has all necessary items i.e. seating, sound system, etc. Regardless of where committee hearings are held, the rules of the City Council are applicable and shall be enforced by the central staff at the direction of the chair.

Tape recording of committee hearings is possible whether the hearing is held in the Iannella Chamber, or the Curley or Piemonte Rooms. The committee chair should notify the committee liaison that the hearing should be taped and shall announce to the witnesses at the beginning of the hearing that their testimony is being taped. The completed tape is kept with other committee records on file, available by order of the committee chair.

In the absence of the chair, the vice-chair and/or any other committee member may be empowered to conduct or direct committee proceedings with the consent of the chair.

Pursuant to Rule 27 Committees are forbidden from spending funds for committee hearings (such as advertising, sound equipment, printing, etc.), unless an order allowing such expenditure is passed by the full Council prior to the committee hearing or endorsement of the funds.

Committee Reports

Final reports of committees are issued by the chair of the committee. A final report consists of a signed report of recommendation by the chair and an original docket signed by the chair. All original dockets are kept on file with Central Staff until a committee report is filed. These documents are delivered to the City Clerk's office for consideration at the next Council session. Committee reports may be drawn up by the chair or a member of the central staff and may recommend that a matter ought to pass, ought not to pass, ought to be rejected without prejudice, ought to pass in the new draft or be placed on file.

Two other committee reports are possible:

Interim Committee Report — issued by the chair as an informational update to the Council, normally does not contain a final recommendation.

Minority Committee Report — issued by a member or members of a committee when they disagree with the final recommendation made by the chair. Typically, this report details areas of disagreement and suggests an alternate course of action.

Exceptions to this law include the discussion of a person's character or personality, or Council's discussion with its attorney.

BOSTON PARK RENAMED TO HONOR ROSA L. PARKS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has renamed the park and playground near the intersection of Walnut Avenue and Seaver Street in Roxbury after civil rights activist Rosa L. Parks. The Mayor made the announcement at the Grand Theatre during the City of Boston's 3rd Annual African American Achievement Awards.

The Mayor said, "It's been forty long years since Rosa Parks kept her seat on the Montgomery bus, an event which helped shape the cause of racial justice in this country. The quiet courage that Rosa Parks showed on that all evening lives on in Boston today. Like Mrs. Parks, many people who work in Boston have made a difference in their neighborhood in their own quiet way. Tonight we honor Mrs. Parks and those individuals who have put their own personal considerations aside to benefit others."

During the ceremony, Mayor Menino presented awards to ten individuals for their contributions toward racial justice in the last year. The award recipients include:

Dana Barros, the Boston Celtics
Dr. Joscelyn Evering, CEO of the Harvard Street Health Center in Dorchester

Rev. Gregory Groover, Pastor,

The Lifetime Achievement Award was presented to legendary jazz artist O. Haynes. Haynes was born in Roxbury in 1925 and is one of the founding fathers of modern jazz drumming. His career parallels the history of jazz for six decades. Haynes has played with several jazz giants, including, Charlie Parker, Sarah Vaughn, Thelonius Monk, and Miles Davis.

The Strand Theatre ceremony included performances by Poet Alda Marshall, Dancer Fredrick Hayes, and the choirs of the Morning Star Baptist Church and Holy Tabernacle Church.

MAYOR AND CITIZENS BANK LAUNCH THREE-DECKER HOME PURCHASE AND REHAB PROGRAM

Mayor Thomas M. Menino recently joined officials from Citizens Bank of Massachusetts and the Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB) to launch the joint "Triple Decker Dream" program, which offers a low interest rate, low downpayment and rehab funds for qualified first-time homebuyers purchasing three-decker homes in Boston. The initiative was announced at the Dorchester home of Amy Waltz, who is buying the Gibson Street triple decker she previously rented. Mayor Menino presented Waltz with a $1,000 check for closing costs, available through the city's homebuying classes.

Mayor Menino said, "Boston is filled with triple decker homes. But their size often puts downpayments and interest rates beyond the reach of working people. This partnership will help stabilize our neighborhoods by putting the dream of homeownership within the reach of many hard-working individuals and families in Boston."

BOSTON RATES TOP IN COUNTRY FOR CHILDHOOD IMMUNIZATIONS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced recently that the Centers for Disease Control has released data showing that Boston has the highest immunization rate of any city in the country — 87% — for young children. Boston's 87% immunization rate is 12% above the national average. The CDC, whose report is based for the first time on a full year of collected data, looked at immunization levels of children 19 to 35 months old.

Mayor Menino said, "The CDC has confirmed what we in Boston have known for some time. Our Boston coalition of providers, government agencies and community organizations is leading the way to protect our children against childhood diseases and to bring them into a network of health care."

Mayor Menino explained, "Boston

Purchasing and Rehab Program . . .

The Triple Decker Dream package offers:

- a 5% fixed interest rate — one of the best rates in the country — from Citizens, with support from the FHLB, on a 30-year mortgage with a 5% downpayment.
- a $5,000 rehab grant from the city's Public Facilities Department, with a $5,000 matching loan from Citizens, for homebuyers who want to fix up the home they buy; and
- a $1,000 closing cost grant from PFD upon completion of the city's homebuying classes.

A qualified buyer is a first-time homebuyer purchasing a three-decker home in Boston, whose income is 80% or less of the city's median income ($41,600 for a family of four), and who participates in the city's homebuying classes.

Robert M. Mahoney, CEO and President of Citizens Bank, explained, "The real message behind this announcement today is that the American Dream of owning your own home and building a future for yourself and your family is still within the grasp of lower- to middle-income families. This program works because a lot of people in a lot of different organizations rolled up their sleeves and decided to make it work. Mayor Menino's commitment to the working people of this city is evident in his housing strategy."

Susan Elliott, Executive Vice President/Member Services of the FHLB, added, "Our Mission — together with Citizens Bank and our other members — is to help make the dream of homeownership possible for Ms. Waltz and many other first-time homebuyers in Boston and New England."

There are nearly 16,000 three-decker houses in Boston, with the greatest numbers in Roxbury (2,255), East Boston (2,188), South Boston (1,644) and Dorchester (1,626). 56% of the city's triple-deckers are owner-occupied.

The Triple Decker Dream program supports previous neighborhood stabilization and homeownership efforts by the city, including:

- the Yard Sale program, which enables residents to purchase more easily vacant and abutter lots;
- absentee landlord legislation, which holds absentee landlords more accountable to their tenants and to their neighborhoods; and
- the Main Streets program, which helps local merchants in neighborhood business districts remain competitive.

Childhood Immunizations . . .

has always been successful at immunizing children by school age. The challenge has been reaching children or immunizing children effectively by ages two and three. Our Boston Immunization Coalition, developed in 1993, coordinated health centers, hospitals and community agencies to develop the action plan that has gained this success."

The Mayor added, "With $300,000 from the CDC and with city support, the Boston Coalition's Action Plan went into effect and its tracking system was developed. To day, that system tracks 58,000 children and has effectively immunized those children between 19 and 36 months. The results we are looking at today show how successful this investment has been in fighting childhood diseases."

I'd like to recognize the good work of the Department of Health and Hospital's Division of Public Health, the twenty-one participating Boston health centers, BCH, Carver Hospital, Franciscan Children's Hospital and Children's Hospital.

REMARKS OF MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO TRIPLE DECKER DREAM FEBRUARY 23, 1996

Since I became Mayor, one focus of my administration has been to build neighborhood pride throughout Boston.

- We've done it with the Main Streets program — which is revitalizing our neighborhood business districts.
- We've done it with the Yard Sale program — which is helping to clean up vacant lots in our neighborhoods.
- We've done it with legislation that makes absentee landlords more accountable to their property and their neighborhoods.
- And we've done it with those basic city services that are being delivered better than ever.

Partnerships — between the public and private sector — around the city are helping to build, and rebuild, our neighborhoods and our downtown.

Today, with help from the Federal Home Loan Bank, we are pleased to join with Citizens Bank to announce a partnership which will breathe new life into our three-deckers. This is a program which not only provides a fixed-rate, 5 percent mortgage, but also provides funds for fix-up and repairs when they are needed.

who has pursued the dream of homeownership. She found the time to take the City's home buyer education classes, and she saved the money for her downpayment. And now, here he is — about to become a new homeowner in Boston. This purchase is good for her, and it's good for Boston as well. So, I'm glad to officially welcome Amy into the ranks of Boston homeowners.

Throughout Boston, we have so many triple decker homes. And because of their size — down payments and interest rates on their purchase are often out of reach for working people. With this new program, we have solved that problem. With a down payment and a fixed, low-interest mortgage — the dream for people like Amy Waltz is being realized.

This is a great house. But without an owner who cares, that's all it is — just a house, a building. With Ms. Waltz here, it will be a home. We are encouraging new owners to live in their property. Amy will do just that. Her presence on Gibson Street will enrich the neighborhood. She will maintain the house and keep it clean. She will be proud of it. Following her lead, her tenants will care about the house they live in. They will be concerned and involved residents of this neighborhood too — helping to build that pride I am talking about.

Last month, I delivered my third State of the City speech at the Burke High School in Dorchester. That evening, I spoke about my administration's plans to build economic security for everyone in Boston — through good jobs, safe streets, public health, quality of life and better schools. And when you think about it, having a nice place to call home is important to the success of all of these goals.

This partnership is putting the dream of homeownership within the reach of many hardworking individuals and families in Boston. This is important, because their future success and prosperity are the success and prosperity of our neighborhoods and our entire city.

I want to thank all of our partners who have come together for this project to make Boston's neighborhoods stronger. I especially want to thank Amy Waltz, who has hosted one of the most unique housewarming gatherings that I have ever been to.

Thank you.

REMARKS OF MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE FEDERAL GANG VIOLENCE ACT, FEBRUARY 23, 1996

When it comes to fighting crime here in Boston, this has been a week full of good news:

- On Monday, I was pleased to join Commissioner Evans in releasing crime statistics for 1995 — which show that serious crime in Boston has reached its lowest level in twenty-three years.
- On Tuesday, we put the "resisting arrest" law into effect — to protect our police officers from harm.
- Now, today, I am pleased to join Senator Kerry as he announces a new federal initiative that targets a problem that is growing throughout this country — street gangs.

This legislation — which Senator Kerry is introducing with Senator Feinstein of California — doubles the penalty for federal crimes committed by a member of an organized street gang. But more importantly, it sends a message to these gangs — a message that gangs simply cannot and will not be tolerated.

Everyone here today is well aware of the tragic effect that gang life can have on our neighborhoods. Teenagers — children, really — are seduced into a life of drugs, crime, and violence. The effects are devastating — not only for the young people who fall into gangs — but for the residents who live in fear of them.

If passed, this legislation will work. How do I know that? Because I've seen similar efforts work — right here in Boston.

- The Police Department's Youth Violence Strike Force is identifying kids at risk and offering them positive alternatives to gangs — with programs like "Summer of Opportunity" that lead them away from a life of crime.
- In conjunction with the Probation Department, Boston Police have launched "Operation Night Life" — which has tripled the rate of probation compliance where the program is in effect.
- We've worked in close partnership with A.T.F. officials to restrict the flow of illegal handguns into the city.
- And the Federal Crime Bill of 1994 — thanks to President Clinton, Senator Kerry, and others — has meant less crime and more cops on the street. And the City has supplemented the Federal bill with our own resources, with more police now and more coming on.

The statistics we released this week show that these efforts are making a difference. But we're not resting on our laurels. We can do more. And we will use every tool in our arsenal in order to succeed.

Today, we are offered another tool — the Federal Gang Violence Act. All of us must work together to pass this vital legislation. We can't afford to wait any longer. It's time to get gangs off our streets for good.

Thank you.

SENIOR GAMES ARE COMING

By Mike Flynn

Boston Mayor Thomas Menino, along with the City of Boston's Commission on Affairs of the Elderly, Harvard Community Health Plan and Pilgrim Health Care are pleased to announce the first annual Greater Boston Senior Games.

To be held at the University of Massachusetts Boston Harbor Campus, May 18, 1996, it will afford Greater Boston's seniors the opportunity to compete against one another in a variety of athletic events.

For the past five years the state of Massachusetts has held a Senior Games in the City of Springfield. Competing in the State Games offers the senior athlete a chance to qualify for the National Senior Games, which this year will be held in San Antonio, Texas. The Greater Boston Senior Games will allow each competitor to see how he or she stacks up against the local talent before perhaps participating at the State or even National level.

The Games are structured so athletes compete only against those in their age categories, which are: 50-54, 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79 & 80-plus. Events include shot put, long jump, 100 meter run, 200 meter run, 1500 meter race walk. Swimming competition will include 50 and 100 meter freestyle and 50 and 100 meter breaststroke. There is also a basketball free throw event and a softball toss. In the morning there will be a kickoff 3 mile walk. Line dancing is a special group event. Age categories are designated by the teams youngest member. The Games are open to all Greater Boston area men and women who are 50 years of age or older as of May 18, 1996.

We are looking forward to spirited competition, as well as having a lot of fun.

An application is in this City Record issue and they will soon be available at your local senior centers, councils on aging, local YMCA, health club and at the Elderly Commission at City Hall. Call 635-4374 for more information.

This marketing agency will also be required to coordinate said marketing campaign under the direction of the Public Facilities Department in tandem with a full public relations slate. The term of this contract will commence immediately after "Non-Price" proposals will be opened first and evaluated based on ratings of criteria as "Highly Advantageous" (HA), "Advantageous" (A), "Not Advantageous" (NA), and "Unacceptable" (U). Only after the "Non-Price" evaluation has been completed for each proposal will the "Price" proposals be opened and evaluated.

The award of the contract is subject to the approval of the Public Facilities Commission. The Official will make an award within 90 days of the proposal due date. The Official reserves the right to reject any and all proposals or any item of a proposal if it be in the public interest to do so. ORDER FOR PETITION FOR SPECIAL LAW RE THE RESTORATION OF THE BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY'S McKIM BUILDING (DOCKET NO. 1312)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor
September 15, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I transmit herewith for your approval a home rule petition relative to the restoration of the Boston Public Library's McKim Building, an international icon of architectural history.

As this restoration requires unique and highly specialized artisans and craftspeople, qualified contractors from such a limited field are difficult to locate and coordinate. This petition aims to increase the overall coordination and efficiency of the project and to eliminate costly delays and disruptions.

This legislative measure will insure that this complex historic restoration follows a streamlined procedure that will allow the general contractor to assemble and coordinate an appropriate restoration team while at the same time conforming to the state's policy for public construction.

I urge your Honorable Body to approve this legislative measure as a means of providing for timely restoration of the Boston Public Library, one of this City's great architectural treasures.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

Ordered, That a petition to the General Court, accompanied by a bill for a special law relating to the City of Boston to be filed with an attested copy of this order be, and hereby is, approved under Clause (1) of Section eight of Article two, as amended, of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the end that legislation be adopted providing precisely as follows, except for clerical or editorial changes of form only:

Whereas, The McKim Building of the Boston Public Library located in Copley Square in the City of Boston is an individually listed National Historic Landmark, an international icon of architectural history and a master work of a master architect; and

Whereas, The nature of the unique craftsmanship required for this proposed historic preservation project involves both specialty trades and services outside the realm of standard construction trades; and

Whereas, The level of skill and expertise called for to successfully complete this project are very select and hard to come by from a limited field;

Whereas, The intent of this project is to maintain a standard of quality commensurate with the original artistry of the McKim Building and to install work that will endure for the next one hundred years beside the original, as well as to avoid harm to existing architectural and decorative elements; and

Whereas, The next phase of the restoration of the building involves, among other work, the restoration of Bates Hall, the very centerpiece of this international icon; and

Whereas, Because of the complexity and historic nature of the proposed project there is great potential for delay and disruption for an unacceptable period of time with an associated additional expense to the taxpayers if the general contractor and subcontractors are not prequalified to bid on the project and completely coordinated in their work; and

Whereas, The bid selection procedures for public works projects contained in Chapter 30, Section 39M of the General Laws offer a streamlined bidding procedure by allowing the general contractor to assemble the appropriate subcontractors in the respective disciplines required for the project, while at the same time conforming to the public policy behind the regulation of public construction bidding; and

Whereas, The City of Boston Public Facilities Commission and the Trustees of the Boston Public Library intend to enter into a Memorandum of Agreement in order to establish appropriate procedures to reflect current requirements regarding the expenditure of funds appropriated by the City of Boston.

Section 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary the City of Boston is hereby authorized to award any or all of the construction contracts for the proposed phase two renovation and restoration of the McKim Building of the Boston Public Library in Copley Square under the procedures contained in Chapter 30, Section 39M of the General Laws. The City of Boston is also authorized to prequalify general contractors and subcontractors to bid on the project. Applications for general contractors and subcontractors to be prequalified to bid on the project in their respective disciplines will be publicly advertised in the Central Register published by the Secretary of State pursuant to Section 20A of Chapter 9 of the General Laws, the official City Record of the City of Boston and a newspaper of general circulation in the locality of the proposed project. Evaluations of applications will be conducted by a committee of professionals jointly appointed by the Director of the City of Boston Public Facilities Department and the Director of the Boston Public Library to establish a list of those general contractors and subcontractors who will be prequalified to bid on the project. Only prequalified general contractors and subcontractors will be allowed to bid on the project. Applicant qualifications and experience will be established and rated in accordance with the standards of the United States Secretary of the Interior for construction/preservation on significant historic structures, for example National Register property. A certificate of eligibility will be issued to each prequalified general contractor and subcontractor by the Director of the City of Boston Public Facilities Department. The project shall be awarded to the prequalified general contractor submitting the lowest responsible and eligible general bid on the project utilizing prequalified subcontractors.

Section 2. Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, including provisions of ordinances of the City of Boston, to the extent any such provisions of law are inconsistent with the regulations, requirements and standards governing public construction in the Commonwealth, the construction activities in connection with the project shall be under the exclusive control of the Mayor of Boston.

Section 3. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any provision hereof shall be held invalid in any circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect any other provisions or circumstances.

Section 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Referred to the Committee on Government Operations.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Whereas, Approximately five years ago the sixteen condominium units at the attached properties at 12, 14, 16 and 18 Locust Street, Dorchester, were badly damaged by fire; and

Whereas, Following the fire, a number of units were sold to investors who, because of the unlivable and blighted condition of the properties, were unable to obtain fire insurance; and

Whereas, For the past five years neighborhood residents have been forced to tolerate the blighted properties because none of the owners made any effort to fix the properties and make them livable; and

Whereas, Three weeks ago, there was another fire at 12, 14, 16 and 18 Locust Street. The end result of the five-alarm fire is that only a shell of a building remains; and

ORDER ACCEPTING PROVISIONS OF CHAPTER 126 OF ACTS OF 1995 RE ABSENTEE PROPERTY OWNERS (DOCKET NO. 1340)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

September 25, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I transmit herewith for your approval an order to accept the provisions of Chapter 126 of the Acts of 1995, which will help the City track down bad landlords by requiring absentee property owners to tell the City where they live or face fines, liens or property loss.

This measure will permit the City to find absentees so that we will no longer have thousands of cases a year in which tenants complain about problems and City officials can't locate the landlord who can fix them.

Specifically, Chapter 126 will permit the City to require the filing of an affidavit of address with the preliminary tax bill for real estate and personal property taxes. Where the owner of record is located outside the Commonwealth, the owner must also designate a Massachusetts agent. Additionally, the statute provides for improved notice to the City of changes of address. Further, the measure contains an enforcement mechanism which includes warnings, fines and, ultimately, the imposition of a lien.

As this measure will make absentee landlords accountable for the properties they own, and as the winter heating season is fast approaching, I urge your Honorable Body to pass the attached order at the earliest possible date.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

Ordered, That the City of Boston accept the provisions of Chapter 126 of the Acts of 1995.

On motion of Coun. KELLY, the rules were suspended; the order was passed.

Coun. MODICA, on behalf of the Committee on Commerce and Transportation, submitted the following:

Report on Docket No. 1173, communication from the Massachusetts Port Authority re Massport Environmental Filings (referred August 16) — recommending the communication be placed on file and the attached resolution be adopted.

The report was accepted; the communication was placed on file.

RESOLUTION OPPOSING CONSTRUCTION OF RUNWAY 14/32 BY MASSPORT AND URG-

ING MEPA DIRECT MASSPORT EXPLORE OTHER ALTERNATIVES TO ADDRESS CONGESTION AND DELAY AT LOGAN AIRPORT (DOCKET NO. 1359)

Coun. MODICA, offered the following:

Whereas, Massport filed an Environmental Notification Form with the Massachusetts Environmental Protection Agency for review which was noticed in the Environmental Monitor on August 8, 1995. Said Environmental Notification includes among other recommendations, a proposal to construct a new 4500-foot runway 14/32 at Logan International Airport for use by smaller regional aircraft and review will take place by the Federal Aviation Administration and the United States Environmental Protection Agency and;

Whereas, Massachusetts Port Authority claims the additional runway is needed to reduce congestion and delay at Logan, improve efficiency on the airfield, maximize safety and improve environmental conditions and;

Whereas, Massachusetts Port Authority's proposal for this new runway is based upon an internal agency study which was conducted for over one year without the participation of impacted communities, despite their repeated requests for input and information, and;

Whereas, By engaging in such a closed process, other viable options for handling the alleged congestion and delay were not considered. These options would include the development of a second major airport, greater diversion of commuter aircraft to existing regional airports, especially Hanscom Airfield in Bedford which Massport owns and Fort Devens in Ayer, a decommissioned air base, a portion of which is presently landbanked, and the development of a North-South rail link, and high-speed rail along the North East corridor which could provide a safe and fast alternative were not incorporated into the study process thereby limiting the study's scope, and;

Whereas, A public hearing of the Council's Committee on Commerce and Transportation was held on September 14, 1995, at the East Boston Harborside Community School and was attended by approximately 200 residents and elected officials, all of whom expressed numerous environmental concerns related to the proposed runway 14/32 including air quality, noise and traffic impacts and who were unanimously opposed to the construction of runway 14/32 and;

Whereas, Public health risks associated with Logan Airport operations on impacted neighborhoods raise serious public policy issues and a 1994 report on the health of East Boston produced by the Department of Health and Hospitals, Public Health Division, ranked heart disease as the leading cause of death in East Boston, followed by lung cancer, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and chronic liver disease, all of which raises serious questions about the correlation between the prevalence of these diseases and noise and air quality impacts, especially the effects of volatile organic compounds associated with jet fuel operations and;

Whereas, Massport is currently undergoing a $1.2 Billion landside modernization project called Logan 2000 which it claims is necessary to handle not only its current 25 million passengers annually, but its anticipated 45 million passengers projected for 2010 and;

Whereas, The United States Environmental Protection Agency has already expressed concerns that this anticipated passenger growth at Logan Airport has the potential to significantly increase air pollution emissions associated with increased traffic and the region is in serious "non-attainment" of the air quality standard for ozone and any increased traffic generated by the airport will make the commonwealth's job of attaining the ozone standard more difficult and.

Whereas, Executive Order 12898 on Environmental Justice issued by President Clinton in 1994 directs federal agencies to closely monitor projects such as the proposed Massport Airside Improvements Project for its disproportionately high and adverse human health or environmental effects on minority and low income populations and;

Whereas, Testimony was received at the September 14, 1995, hearing regarding existing breathing problems due to aircraft emissions, of soot and dirt impacts on homes and in backyards from passing aircraft, of jet fuel emissions deposited on roof tops from low flying aircraft and of impaired hearing due to aircraft noise and;

Whereas, Recently, Councilors have received constituent complaints regarding aircraft noise in other parts of Boston including Dorchester, Roxbury, South Boston, Charlestown, the South End, Beacon Hill, Back Bay, the North End and Jamaica Plain and;

Whereas, As a major transportation agency in the Commonwealth and New England, Massport should be engaging in comprehensive, responsible and environmentally sound transportation planning and throwing its considerable weight behind other viable transportation alternatives and;

Whereas, While Logan Airport congestion and delay problems warrant sound economic and environmental strategies, placing but further burdens on East Boston and adjacent neighborhoods of the city is not the answer and.

Whereas, The health and welfare of the thousands of people in the entire City of Boston is at stake; now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council opposes the construction of runway 14/32 by the Massachusetts Port Authority, and urges MEPA to direct Massport to explore other alternatives to address congestion and delays at Logan Airport and be it Ordered, That copy of this resolution be forwarded by the City Clerk to the Massachusetts Environmental Protection Agency, Federal Aviation Agency, the United States Environmental Protection Agency, the Massachusetts Port Authority and the Honorable William F. Weld.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

"BLACK & WHITE BOSTON COMING TOGETHER" DINNER FOCUSES ON INNER-CITY YOUTH GOLF PROGRAM

This year, the "Black & White Boston Coming Together" dinner celebrated the third annual Black & White on Green, Golf Tournament held last September at the Franklin Park Golf Course. Most importantly, the Dinner focused on how future tournaments will help the City of Boston Parks Department add the unique Franklin Park Caddie Scholar Program to its many successful Junior Golf activities.

The Franklin Park Caddie Scholar Program will be geared toward young people 14-18 years of age, and will include an academic and summer jobs component. In addition, it will feature golf instruction, equipment and free play at designated times, completion of a Caddie Instructional Program, attendance at one week Golf Camp and introduction to Agronomy under the supervision of the New England Superintendents Association.

The enthusiasm for supporting inner-city youth golf was further exemplified by the fact that over $100,000 in donations of both funds and services was raised at the recent Black & White on Green Golf Tournament, up from $18,000 in the previous year. Much of this dramatic increase in support was the direct result of the efforts of Charlie Fox of MED TAC and the co-chairs, Rusty Gaston of EDS, Earl Tate of Excel Placement, Archie Williams of Roxbury Technology, and John Cullinane of the Cullinane Group.

Also, the Tournament sparked the interest of the Francis Ouimet Scholarship Fund in joining with other financial aid sources to support golf for inner-city youth.

Dick Stimets, President of the Ouimet Fund said that "the Ouimet Fund wants to encourage deserving inner-city students who participate in and/or work around golf courses in various capacities including caddy-ing, to apply for scholarship aid." The Ouimet Fund currently provides over $600,000 per annum to more than 200 such students.

In addition, the City of Boston Parks Department will coordinate its Junior Golf activities under a single executive director to be located at the beautifully restored Franklin Park Golf Course. Patrick S. Harrington, Commissioner of the City of Boston Parks and Recreation Department said, "the Franklin Park Caddie Scholar Program is very exciting. For the first time, inner-city youth will have the opportunity to work around golf courses and participate in the game of golf while receiving academic mentoring, tutoring and, finally, meaningful scholarship aid."

Mayor Thomas Menino said that, "the Black & White on Green Golf Tournament, in addition to supporting the Inner City Youth Golf Program, is a remarkable opportunity for CEOs of Black and White businesses to get together on a social basis." Harry Daniels of Hale and Dorr, who played in the same group with Mayor Menino, Charlie Fox of Med Tac, Pat Roche of Roche Brothers Supermarkets and George Lyons, the Golf Professional at Franklin Park remarked that "the Tournament is an invaluable vehicle for bringing people of different backgrounds together in a pleasant and most enjoyable setting."

Brian Leary and Pam Cross of WCVB-TV Channel 5 hosted the event that featured about 400 attendees at the John F. Kennedy Library on March 8, 1996. Longtime observers at the library have stated that the Black and White Boston Coming Together Dinner is one of the liveliest and most fun activities held there each year.

Joining Mayor Menino and guests this year were: Henry Louis Gates, Jr., of Harvard University; Police Commissioner Paul Evans, Paul LaCamera of WCVB-TV Channel 5, the Rev. Charles Stith, Patrick Purcell, Joseph Corcoran, Milton Benjamin, Joan Wallace-Benjamin, Ron and Cheryl Homer, Harry Dani and many more government and business leaders.

Background

Black & White Boston Coming Together was created by Diddy Cullinane in the Fall of 1989 in connection with a benefit performance Bill Cosby at The Wang Center sponsored by Catholic Charities Archdiocese of Boston.

A cross-section of business and professional people, the Committee decided to remain intact after a very successful Cosby appearance not primarily as a fund raising entity but as an independent group of concerned citizens who would work together to improve the racial climate of the Greater Boston community.

Interest and membership have grown, and after a memorable Nelson Mandela luncheon as guests Senator Kennedy at the John Kennedy Library in June of 1995 the Committee has been involved such events as an annual gala Dinner Dance at the John F. Kennedy Library, a CEO business conference Harvard's Kennedy School of Government which is being developed into a more specific program and for the last three years, the Black White on Green Golf Tournament Franklin Park which has inspired Caddie Scholar Program for inner city students.

Black & White Boston Coming Together has proven to be not only important network within itself, but a valuable, existing resource for other Boston institutions wishing to broaden their cultural base. This unique collaborative effort seeks to demonstrate the good will that exists between the races and have substantive and positive impact on the future of our diverse community.

MENINO ADMINISTRATION REPORTS PROGRESS IN HIRING OF WOMEN AND MINORITIES

Mayor Thomas M. Menino reports progress has been made in the area of affirmative action during the fourth quarter of 1995. The minority hire rate for that quarter was 42 percent. The promotion rate for minorities during that quarter was 21 percent. (Comparatively, in the fourth quarter of 1994 the promotion rate for minorities was 13 percent.) The full-time employment rate for women in the fourth quarter of 1995 was 35 percent, a one percent increase over the same period in 1994. Mayor Menino said, "We are already starting to see positive results in the restructuring of our Affirmative Action Program, especially at a managerial and professional level. I'm confident that with continued efforts, the City will make even more progress in 1996."

The full-time employment rate for the City is 31 percent. Curley, 36 percent of full-time minority employees are at or above the salary level of $33,000. (During the fourth quarter of 1994, 32 percent of full-time minority employees were at that salary level or above.)

The full-time women employment rate is 35 percent. 37 percent of the full-time women are at the salary level of $33,000 or above. During the same period in 1994, only 35 percent of full-time female employees made at least $33,000.

All in all, women head 36 percent of all City departments and minorities head 19 percent of all City departments.

Mayor Menino restructured the Affirmative Action Unit in 1994. The Director of the City's Office of Human Resources became the City's Affirmative Action Director. Under the leadership of Director Roscoe Morris, recruitment efforts are now more closely aligned with affirmative action goals and the City is saving approximately $60,000 a year.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON PALM RESTAURANT

Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced that a working agreement has been made between the Palm Restaurant and the Building Trade Unions. Acting as a mediator, Mayor Menino said, "I asked all the parties to come to the table to discuss their differences. Representatives to the Palm were flexible and willing to compromise, and members of the union were reasonable in their demands to bring this dispute to an end."

Under a Memorandum of Agreement between the Palm and the unions, elements of the job which are not yet begun will be re-bid by the owner and performed by union labor. Additionally, the Palm has agreed that any future work, be it new construction, renovation or remodeling, will be done with union labor.

Mayor Menino said, "Boston is a first-class city which stands for progress through cooperation and collaboration. I am pleased that a new business, the Palm Restaurant, is coming to town and now can be welcomed and embraced by the entire community. This is the kind of business and working atmosphere that my administration is trying to foster. When people of good will come together, solutions are possible. That kind of cooperation is the strength of this city."

The Mayor congratulated the representatives of organized labor, particularly Joseph A. Dart, President of the Massachusetts Building Trades Council; David Dow, Carpenters' Union; Ralph Harriman, Painters' Union; and Paul War, Electrical Workers' Union, for working cooperatively and representing organized labor in a professional and thoughtful manner. He also acknowledged the efforts of Alfred L. Thimm, Jr., of the Palm Management Corporation for coming to Boston and being flexible enough to find a satisfactory solution to labor/management issues.

STATEMENT OF
MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO
MARCH 7, 1996

The recent acts of terrorism against the people of Israel have left all of us — from Jerusalem to Boston — in a state of shock, horror, and sadness. It is our deepest hope that these acts of violence will not jeopardize the tremendous peace process that has fostered an unprecedented sense of goodwill between the Arab and Israeli people.

If the terrorists responsible for these acts succeed at undermining the peace process, surely we are all victims. We cannot allow these ruthless individuals to replace our feelings of accomplishment and optimism with those of fear and hatred. Instead, we must join Prime Minister Shimon Peres and Chairman Yassir Arafat in condemning these acts of violence. Most of all, we must support them in their efforts to advance the vital Middle East peace process.

On behalf of the entire City of Boston, I join the international community in extending my deepest sympathy to the families and friends of the innocent victims of these heinous crimes. In the spirit of unity for which Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin gave his life, we will continue to pray for peace and work for justice in the Middle East and around the world.

STATE TO TRAIN BANK EMPLOYEES TO FIGHT
FINANCIAL ABUSE OF SENIORS

By Mark Swadling

Governor Weld recently unveiled a new state program to train bank employees in how to identify, report and to prevent the financial exploitation of the elderly. The Bank Reporting Project is a public-private partnership sponsored by the Executive Office of Elder Affairs, the Office of the Attorney General, the Executive Office of Consumer Affairs, and the Massachusetts Bankers Association. The program is designed to help protect Seniors from scam artists and unscrupulous caretakers while maintaining confidentiality. The program will also be establishing an industry wide standard that will help to prevent victimization by educating Bank employees and providing simple reporting procedures for banks that will enable more effective cooperation between bank officials, elder service agencies and local law enforcement.

Bank employees, who typically have frequent contact with elderly customers, will be the first line of defense for the Seniors by being trained to detect deviations from sound financial practice and to report them to the appropriate officials.

Secretary of Elder Affairs, Franklin Ollivierre, notes that older people find it especially hard to acknowledge that they're being financially exploited and abused by family members or friends. As a result, "all types of elder abuse are under reported and financial exploitation is often not discovered until an elder's assets are depleted." The new standards and procedures involved in the Bank Reporting Project will work to prevent scams and make prosecution of elder exploiters faster and easier.

MAYOR MENINO ANNOUNCES
$50,000 JUNIOR GOLF
PROGRAM DONATION

Mayor Thomas M. Menino hosted a press conference at his office in City Hall to announce a major funding contribution to the Boston Parks and Recreation Department's Junior Golf Program.

Black & White Boston Coming Together, presenter of the Black & White on Green golf tournament, is donating $50,000 to support the Parks Department's 1996 Junior Golf Program. The cornerstone of this year's program is the new Caddie-Scholar Camp, which will provide kids with hands-on golf instruction, caddie training, and academic instruction.

"Here in the City of Boston we have two great golf courses right in our back yards — the William Devine at Franklin Park, and the George Wright in Hyde Park," Mayor Menino said. "We want to help the youth of our city realize the health and social benefits offered by learning and playing the game of golf. This generous donation by Black & White Boston Coming Together will go a long way towards promoting the sport to Boston's young people."

The Parks Department's 1996 Junior Golf Program also includes Middle School Golf, daily lessons at both municipal courses, the Massachusetts Golf Association Camp, celebrity golf clinics featuring such renowned players as Chi Chi Rodriguez, and the Mayor's Cup Junior Golf Tournament, all offered to Boston residents ages 6 to 19 free of charge.

"Our golf courses are a great resource available to all those who live in Boston" noted Parks Commissioner Patrick S. Harrington. "We want neighborhood kids to realize that these facilities are here for their use, and that golf is a sport they can enjoy for a lifetime."

Now, every week is "your week" to recycle.

EVERY WEEK RECYCLING PICK-UP

EXPANDED RECYCLING PROGRAM

The new recycling program lets you include MAGAZINES, CARDBOARD and BROWN PAPER BAGS. So, now you can put out almost twice as much.

IT'S JUST AS EASY AS EVER

Here's how: save your newspapers, brown bags, corrugated "waffled" cardboard (no cereal or tissue boxes) and magazines in a brown paper bag or tied up with twine. Then put it out, on garbage day, next to your trash, by 7:00am.

Exceptions: If your area has 2 trash pick-up days, you should recycle on the first day, if you have three garbage days, recycle on the middle pick-up day.

MAYOR MENINO ANNOUNCES NEW PANEC PROGRAM

(Phone Alert Nine-1-1 Emergency Call)

Mayor Thomas M. Menino and Police Commissioner Paul Evans announced the Boston Police Department's new PANEC Program at an 11 a.m. press conference on Friday, March 8th, at the offices of the Massachusetts Coalition of Battered Women's Service Groups, 14 Beacon Street, in their first-floor conference room.

The Boston Police, in partnership with Wireless, Inc., a local telecommunications company, initiated this program to assist high risk victims of domestic violence in contacting the Boston Police through the use of cellular phones. Wireless, Inc. has donated 100 cellular phones and all monthly access and air-time charges for the first year. These phones are programmed to allow the victim a "one button" method of calling the Boston Police at 9-1-1 directly, thus contacting help quickly.

Mayor Menino said, "During Women's History Month, as we celebrate the accomplishments of women throughout history, we must also continue to break down the barriers at today prevent women from achieving their full potential. Through this innovative partnership, we are supporting the courage of those women who are breaking the cycle of violence in their lives. This program will help give these women peace of mind and reassure them that they are not alone."

Wireless' V P of Operations, Thomas Johnson said, "Understanding the problems first hand that victims of domestic abuse face, I felt strongly that my company could make a difference by providing the technology to help women reach the police department wherever they may be. The timing was right. The BPD is ready to act on our offer and we are happy to help."

The PANEC Program went into effect on February 29, 1996, after Thomas Johnson delivered the 100 cellular phones to the Boston Police. Officers of the District Stations have received phones that will be issued to high risk victims for up to 30 days. Eligibility of the victims is established under the guidelines of the Boston Police Special Order 96-6.

PHONE ALERT NINE-1-1 EMERGENCY CALL (P.A.N.E.C.) PROGRAM

Remarks of

Mayor Thomas M. Menino
March 8, 1996.

Today, we are proud to take another step in our ongoing efforts to curb domestic violence in our city. Through an innovative public-private partnership, we are giving cellular telephones to women who are at risk of abuse. But more importantly, we are giving these women peace of mind — a reassurance that they are not alone. These cellular phones are a reminder that anytime — day or night — help is only a phone call away.

This program has come about — as most great initiatives do — because individuals have come together to work toward a solution. I am very proud of the partnership that has brought together Wireless Inc., the Domestic Violence Units of the Boston Police Department and the District Attorney's Office, the shelter community, and other groups who are committed to protecting the women of our city.

SECOND ANNUAL MAYOR'S YOUTH SUMMIT HELD MARCH 9

The second annual Mayor's Youth Summit was held on Saturday, March 9 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Boston Latin School. In spite of the snowy weather, over 1,200 Boston youth, ages 12-18, attended and enjoyed a day of workshops, youth speakers and entertainment.

The purpose of the Youth Summit is to offer young people a chance to learn about all that Boston has to offer them. Last year's Youth Summit, the first ever, was attended by over 1200 Boston youth. 50 agencies set up information tables in the resource area. This year, 75 information tables distributed a wide variety of information about programs and services available to Boston youth.

At the opening address, Mayor Thomas Menino said, "Providing the young people of Boston with programs, activities and services is one of my Administration's priorities. As you wander around the Youth Summit, you'll see that Boston has plenty to offer our youth. The young people here today should be commended for coming on a Saturday to learn more about what's available to them. The overwhelming turnout to Police Commissioner Evans stated, "We hope that this program will give women the courage to pursue normal lives, and if one life can be saved, or a violent act prevented, then we can be most grateful to this technology which Wireless has offered our Department."

"The Boston Police Department researched various alternatives for victims considered to be at high risk. The use of panic alarms is only good when the victim is in her house," stated Sgt. Det. Jeanette Atterberry of the BPD Domestic Violence Unit. "Our Domestic Violence Unit wanted to offer an alternative that would provide a sense of security for women while outside of their home."

PHONE ALERT . . .

I think it's especially appropriate that we are launching this program during Women's History Month — when we celebrate the accomplishments and contributions of women throughout history. This is a time for empowering women — for breaking down the barriers that prevent women from reaching their full potential. Domestic violence is one such barrier — but with programs like this one, it's a barrier that we can eliminate.

So, I want to thank you — all of you — for your commitment to this issue. I want to thank Joyce Williams Mitchell of the Mass. Coalition of Battered Women Service Groups for hosting this event — and for bringing the issue of domestic violence to the forefront with such terrific events as the Jane Doe Walk.

I especially want to thank Thomas Johnson and Wireless Inc. Your presence here today — and your contribution to this program — set a fine example for the entire city. I hope that other businesses and individuals will follow your lead — and join the growing network of people who are committed to making domestic violence a thing of the past.

day proves just how capable our young people are."

The morning of the Summit included a continental breakfast, several youth speakers, comments from Mayor Thomas Menino, and remarks from guest speaker, Donna Harris Lewis. Following the opening remarks, youth headed off to two workshops, the first one they selected from a variety of topics, and the second one, "My Choice, My Responsibility" was offered to all participants. The workshop topics for the first workshop were:

Resume Writing and Job Applications,

Teens and Police College

Youth and the Media

Teens and Domestic Violence

Diversity and Communication

Managing Money

Violence Prevention and Theatre

Expression and Music

Community Service and Youth Organizing

Financial Survival for College Pursuing Careers Teens and Their Appearance

All of the workshops were led by a Boston youth and a professional from a youth service agency. The afternoon session included lunch, and youth performances.

The Youth Summit was free due to the generous sponsorship of the City of Boston, Bank of Boston, Blue Cross/Blue Shield and NYNEX.

ST. PATRICK DAY CELEBRATION HELD AT ST. AUGUSTINE'S PARISH HALL

The Commission on Affairs of the Elderly in conjunction with the August A. Busch Co. sponsored a St. Patrick's Day celebration for South Boston seniors on Saturday, March 9, 1996, at St. Augustine's Parish Hall located at 225 Dorchester Street in South Boston.

Approximately 500 South Boston seniors representing the many senior organizations, nursing homes and housing complexes enjoyed a traditional corned beef and cabbage dinner and an afternoon of socialization. Musical entertainment was provided by the Lieutenant Norman Prince Chorus and the Mary Madden Irish Step Dancers.

This celebration began in 1984 to give seniors normally excluded from many St. Patrick's Day activities an opportunity to socialize and celebrate their heritage. This celebration was held for the first two years at the Gate of Heaven Parish Hall and included approximately 250 seniors and in 1986 was moved to its present location to increase the participation of the senior community.

Welcoming remarks were given by Commissioner Diane Lopes, Commission on Affairs of the Elderly. The Master of Ceremonies for the afternoon's event was the Mayor's Neighborhood Services Director, Michael Kineavy. Also in attendance were Representative Stephen Lynch, MAYOR PROCLAIMS THE END OF WINTER!

Mayor Thomas M. Menino stood in Boston City Hall Plaza on March 8 and proclaimed the end of Winter in the City!

As light snow fell, the Mayor said, Notwithstanding what the calendar says, the people of this City have had cabin fever long enough — they're sick and tired of wearing winter coats and shoveling sidewalks — so I'm using the authority vested in me not waiting until the official start of Spring March 20 — and proclaiming today as the last day of Winter in Boston!

The Mayor issued the proclamation standing in front of a 100-inch-high snowman built by employees of the Office of Neighborhood Services, Office of Business Services, Property Management, and Public Works. The snowman's height deliberately exceeded 96.3 inches, the previous record snowfall in Boston. Employees built the snowman after finishing their shifts answering snow-related phone calls in the 24 hour service.

"Four Seasons Boston" donated freshments for the event. The Boston City Store contributed Winter and Summer Street signs. Employees and passersby took turns sitting in lawn chairs under a beach umbrella. After issuing the proclamation, the Mayor was handed a golf club so he could practice his swing. After one putt, the Mayor declared the "green" too rough!

Whereas, For the 17th time this winter Boston has been buried under snowstorm, and,

Whereas, Boston just broke the record 96.3 inches of snowfall set during the winter of 1993, and,

Whereas, The people of this City have had cabin fever long enough, and,

Whereas, We are all sick and tired of wearing winter coats and shoveling sidewalks.

Therefore, I, Thomas M. Menino, Mayor of the City of Boston, do hereby join with the entire Boston community on this day, March 8, 1996, in proclaiming today as the last day of winter in Boston and I urge all my fellow Bostonians to join me putting aside the shovels for the suntan lotion!

BOSTON EDUCATION REFORM COMMITTEE

Remarks of Mayor Thomas M. Menino, March 9, 1996

This past January, I went to the Jeremiah Burke School in Dorchester to deliver my third State of the City address. In that speech, I outlined my vision for Boston's future:

Education equals economic security.

A plan that linked the educational success of today with the economic success of tomorrow.

People wondered why I chose the Burke School which, after years of neglect, had lost its accreditation. Some thought it was crazy, others thought it was gutsy.

But I'll tell you why.

I went there that night to show that the Burke School — the symbol of everything we had done wrong in public education — must now become the symbol of everything we can do right.

And we are doing things right. We have established the building blocks of reform with:

- Site Councils made up of parents, teachers and principals — a cooperative effort to chart our children's futures; and
- a fair and equitable Teachers' Contract which recognizes the role our educators play in reform; and

- a School Committee, chaired by Bob Gittens, representing the diverse needs of our population; and
- Superintendent Tom Payzant, a nationally-recognized educator, using his intelligence and determination for the future of Boston's schools and students.
- We have a great legacy of education in Boston.
- We are the birthplace of public education.
- We are home to some of the finest institutions of higher learning in the world; and
- we have produced some of the greatest minds in the history of this country.

I have come to the Lyndon School today — a school that was closed by the elected School Committee, but re-opened as a pilot school by the appointed School Committee — to tell the people of Boston that our great legacy of public education will continue.

Today, I am proud to announce the formation of the Boston Education Reform Committee — a concerned group of parents, educators, and business people. This committee will work with my office, Superintendent Payzant, the School Committee and a grassroots organization of neighborhood people — to guarantee a bright future for Boston's Public Schools.

MAYOR MENINO ANNOUNCES ONE BILLION DOLLAR CAPITAL PLAN

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has unveiled his third five-year capital plan for 1997-2001, titled "Getting the Job Done," at the site of a future ice skating rink on the Frog Pond funded through the plan. The $1 billion plan marks Mayor Menino's largest yet, adding 113 new projects for a total of 63 projects in the plan. Education is the major focus of the plan; public safety, neighborhood revitalization, and economic development are other priorities.

Mayor Menino said, "This capital budget takes the words of my State of the City address and puts them into action. When it comes to public education in Boston, we are putting our money where our mouth is. All the themes in this plan address real quality of life issues which affect our citizens everyday."

The plan represents the first year of full funding for the Mayor's educational commitments from his State of the City address. The $201 million earmarked for education will now begin full funding for the multi-year capital improvements recommended by the Blue Ribbon Commission and the goals of the School Boards Initiative. Capital funding for education has increased 255 percent since the Mayor's first plan in 1994. Aside from education, there are three other main themes in the plan. AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY SPRINGS AHEAD TO DAFFODIL DAYS $1 MILLION GOAL

Although the days are still wintery and short, American Cancer Society volunteers are already springing into action for the Massachusetts Division's Daffodil Days fundraiser with their eyes on the $1 million mark. More than three million fresh flowers arrived in Massachusetts during the first week of spring — March 26-31. Sales of the flowers will support American Cancer Society programs of cancer research, education, and local services to patients.

The Society's goal is to net $1 million from sales of daffodils — the first flower of spring and the Ameri-

Daffodil Days are chaired by Joyce Kulhawik, WBZ-TV's arts and entertainment reporter. "I love Daffodil Days because it comes at a time when the earth is reawakening, and represents hope in the fight against cancer," said Ms. Kulhawik, who has successfully battled cancer three times. "Anyone can participate, from employees at a company ordering boxes and boxes of flowers, to one person buying a bouquet for someone they love. Each contribution sustains our hope that we will beat cancer, once and for all."

CVS/Pharmacy is supporting Daffodil Days for the third consecutive year, helping spread the word about the fundraiser by displaying posters and registration forms in their 300 stores across the state, and hosting sales of daffodils in many of those stores during the week of March 25.

More than 5,000 American Cancer Society volunteers are now contacting businesses, schools, and organizations, encouraging them to place daffodil orders. Besides ordering daffodils to give to their employees and clients, many Massachusetts businesses sponsor boxes of daffodils can Cancer Society's flower of hope that cancer will be beaten. Orders for bouquets of 10 flowers ($5) and boxes of 500 ($250) were taken through March 15.

For the 14th year, Massachusetts to be delivered to local hospitals at nursing homes.

"Daffodil Days has been one of the American Cancer Society's most successful fundraisers in Massachusetts for the past 15 years," said Mara Aspinall, chairman of the Division's income development committee. "Daffodil Days endures because everyone loves the coming spring. Our daffodils are a perennial favorite. They're beautiful and they represent hope."

BOSTON'S HOPE FOR PUBLIC HOUSING

Mayor Thomas M. Menino

The revitalization of public housing in Boston passed an important milestone recently when developers submitted formal responses to the Boston Housing Authority's request for development proposals for the Mission Main and Orchard Park HOPE VI projects. The BHA received three development proposals for each of the two projects, all from highly respected and competent development teams with the expertise required to successfully address the challenges posed by the redevelopment of severely distressed public housing.

Using a combined $80 million of federal HOPE VI funds as leverage, the BHA and the residents have successfully engaged some of the most talented real estate developers and planners in a competition to invest private resources in two distressed public housing developments. The BHA, along with Orchard Park and Mission Main residents, will now determine which development team has demonstrated the most creativity in planning and the greatest commitment of private resources in its bid to earn designation as the developer for each project.

Submission of these development proposals brings to conclusion the initial phase of a very complex and challenging process conducted by the BHA. Mission Main and Orchard Park residents, and other City agencies and marks the beginning of the next phase in the HOPE VI revitalization plan. Soon, the selected developers will join this team and begin to finalize redevelopment concepts for further discussion with the wider community.

The physical and social distress associated with Mission Main and Orchard Park is well documented. Addressing these existing conditions is an extraordinary challenge in and of itself. It is even more challenging in the current context of federal budget cuts and of shifting and uncertain national housing policies. As I have been arguing consistently, we must reject misguided policies that have crowded the poorest families together into poorly designed, deteriorating housing, cut off from the social and economic mainstream. Instead, we must create diverse, safe, and self-sustaining communities which give families a stepping stone to opportunity. At every turn, I have said to do things the right way, not the expedient way. This approach takes time and hard work, and the commitment to rework the plan as HUD continues to eliminate outdated regulations. But, I believe public housing residents and their neighbors deserve no less, and that Boston's public housing will be far better for it in the long run. I directed BHA and City of Boston officials to seize the opportunity presented by HOPE VI to break the mold of public housing and achieve the following goals:

- Reverse the isolation of public housing by integrating it physically, socially, and economically into the surrounding neighborhood.
- Reinvest in the surrounding neighborhoods as required to improve conditions which could jeopardize the long term viability of the redevelopment.

- Build high quality housing that will attract and retain mixed income families and will be a catalyst for additional neighborhood investment.
- Establish a new model of public/private partnership for the redevelopment, ownership, and management of public housing.
- Foster family self-sufficiency through supportive services, community service, and training programs.
- Promote economic development at Mission Main and Orchard Park and in the surrounding neighborhoods by providing jobs for residents and access to contracts for goods and services for minority- and women-owned businesses.

Over the next few weeks, these goals will be the measuring stick used to evaluate the competing development teams and their proposals. The two teams who are eventually selected in this competition will then begin the detailed planning and design process in earnest. Public housing residents and interested neighbors from the wider community should and will have ample opportunity to review and comment upon any plan before it is finalized. It is only through a collaborative and inclusive process such as this that we can ensure the ultimate success of these two critical redevelopment efforts.

Through a deliberate, yet aggressive planning process, we are well on our way to realizing a new vision of public housing in Boston. Using the HOPE VI opportunity thoughtfully and creatively will truly restore Mission Main and Orchard Park as vital affordable housing assets that benefit not only public housing residents, but also the surrounding communities. Further, the impending transformation of Mission Main and Orchard Park will give hope and direction to similar efforts at transformation elsewhere in the Commonwealth and throughout the nation.

Poet's Corner

"FATHER TIME AND MOTHER NATURE"

I found out who the culprit is, the blame is placed at last,
The criminal is Father Time, he's going much too fast.
If he would only realize the trouble he can cause,
He'd run the race much slower, even stop and take a pause.

For the faster that he travels the tired I get,
The circles underneath my eyes are now a matching set.
If Father Time would take a break, and slow the kids a bit,
What a kick it'd be for once, to see that their clothes fit.

But Father Time, he's got a partner; Mother Nature is her name.
And they've combined their forces to play this cruel game.
They made a deal some years ago — actually a bet,
To outrace one another while they fuss and fight and fret.

So with broken veins and sagging elbows, Mother Nature does her deed.
While Father Time quickly leaves us holding memories to heed.

But Father Time and Mother Nature don't know that in the end.

The best of time and beauty with eternity will blend.

If they could learn this lesson, if we could learn it too,
It's not how fast you run the race, it's what you say and do;

It doesn't matter how you look, or Mother Nature's part,
For the beauty that's eternal you hold within your heart.

So slow down, Father Time, Mother Nature, look within, Won't you run the race of life as one another's friend?

Debbie Kea.

THE LEARNED LADIES

The Balch Arena Theater is proud to announce its third and final show of its 1995/96 season, The Learned Ladies, written by Moliere and directed by Barbara W. Grossman. The show runs Thursday, April 18, through Saturday, April 20, and Thursday, April 25, through Saturday, April 27, 1996. All performances begin at 8 p.m.

In Moliere's penultimate work, The Learned Ladies, his comic characterizations and satirical style both depict and mock the society that fostered the evolution of the femme savante of seventeenth-century France. Quarreling pedants, love-struck young women, and lively comedy come together in Moliere's portrayal of the salon lifestyle of noble women, and their roles in the public sphere of polite society. The Learned Ladies is a "modern" play in its ability to poke fun at the affectations of some women, while affirming their right to play a vital role in society.

Tickets are $5 on Thursdays and $6 on Fridays and Saturdays. Tickets go on sale Monday, April 1, 1996. Mastercard and Visa are accepted. Group rates are also available. Questions and phone orders should be directed to the Balch Arena Theater box office at (617) 627-3493, and tickets can also be purchased at the box office. The Balch Arena Theater is located at Tufts University Medford/Somerville campus, about miles north of Boston.

PRESIDENT CLINTON'S FY 97 BUDGET

Statement of Mayor Thomas M. Menino, March 19, 1996

For the fourth year in a row, President Clinton has put forward a federal budget that reduces the deficit while increasing our investment in education, community development, public safety and jobs. Boston has benefited greatly from the Clinton Administration's commitment to America's cities and I urge the Congress to stop the stalling, and adopt the key provisions of the President's FY 96 and FY 97 budgets.

Several of the President's new initiatives fit like a glove with what we are doing in Boston:

- The President's technology challenge fund will help us meet my pledge of one computer for every four students in Boston by the year 2001;
- President Clinton's new initiative for "opportunity areas for out of school youths" will enable us to build on the strong network of programs we currently have to serve these young people. In fact, Boston is one of three areas cited by the Administration in their description of the new program, and;
- The Administration has proposed several new tax incentives to bring private capital into empowerment zones such as Boston's. This has been a major priority for our nation's mayors over the past year and one that originated with the passage of my resolution on tax incentives for empowerment zones that the mayors adopted last June.

The President's proposal meets the Republican Congress' challenge that the federal budget be balanced by the year 2002. At the same time, it would continue Washington's commitment to helping put more police on the street. It increases the important community development block grant program. And, it increases investment in our youth — through education, training and nutrition programs.

The people of this country have given a resounding raspberry to Congress' harsh proposals to decimate key domestic programs for young and old. Americans want to reward good students with Pell grants. They want to reward work with the earned income tax credit. And, they want to prepare our country for the challenges of the next century through investments in science and technology.

I urge the Congress to get down to business and pass President Clinton's budget proposals. There is plenty of time for politics this fall. For now, let's enact a budget that is good for the vast majority of Americans.

MARATHON EXHIBIT OPENS IN HANCOCK OBSERVATORY

"The Race Through History" Celebrates 100 Years of the Marathon Exhibit Runs through April 13

On April 15, thousands of runners, spectators, volunteers and TV viewers will celebrate a milestone in sports history — the 100th running of the Boston Marathon. As a prelude to the Centennial, an historical exhibit, "The Race Through History," will be displayed in the John Hancock Observatory through April 13, 1996.

The exhibit pays tribute to the people and events which have helped shape the race and recognizes the light cities and towns along the 6.2-mile route. It is divided into five sections of the race corresponding to eras in the race's evolution. Visitors will learn about the Start (1897-1910), the Early Miles (1911-1930), the Halfway Point (1931-1956), the Run to the Top (1957-1974), and the Race to the Finish (1975-present).

Items on display include trophies and medals from the 1915 and 1921 Boston Marathons; the autobiography of Clarence DeMar of Melrose, Mass., who won the race more times than anyone else; photos of John A. Kelley's victory in 1945; first place medals from the 1960s and 70s; the 1971 second place trophy; and Joan Benoit's singlet from her first victory in 1979.

"The Race Through History" will be at the Hancock Observatory, through April 13, Monday through Saturday, 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., and Sunday, 12 noon to 11:00 p.m. Admission is $3.75 for adults and $2.75 for children 5-17 and senior citizens. Group rates are available for ten or more. For more information, please call (617) 572-6429.

DiMarzio has been Vice President and Manager, Organizational Productivity and Efficiency, for the last two years at Arkwright Mutual Insurance Company, headquartered in Waltham. DiMarzio joined Arkwright in 1981 to manage the company's real estate division and later the personnel department.

Prior to his work with Arkwright, DiMarzio worked at Prudential Insurance.

REGISTRATION FOR 1996 YOUTH ROLLER HOCKEY TOURNAMENT

The Boston Parks and Recreation Department has announced the opening of registration for the Second Annual Boston Youth Roller Hockey Tournament being presented in partnership with Boston Professional Roller Hockey.

"We had a terrific turnout last year," said Mayor Thomas M. Menino. "The first tournament gave over 600 youngsters the chance to compete with teams from throughout the city. We hope that this year's series will provide even more kids with a healthy recreational outlet and the chance to meet other players from Boston's neighborhoods."

Roller hockey is one of the fastest-growing youth sports in the country.

GREEK INDEPENDENCE DAY RECEPTION

*Remarks of Mayor Thomas M.
Menino, March 21, 1996.*

On behalf of the people of Boston, it is my great pleasure to welcome you to City Hall for this celebration of Greek Independence. I'm so pleased to see all of you — who have come from near and far to take part in this tremendous occasion. I'm especially proud to welcome the Consul General of Greece and Cyrus. Thank you for being a part of these festivities.

We are here to commemorate the 151st — to mark the 175th anniversary.

BAA EVENT

*Remarks of Mayor Thomas M.
Menino, March 25, 1996.*

Next month, during the course of Marathon weekend, the eyes of the whole world will be on Boston. Our city will be host to one of the largest public events in our long and storied history. As you can imagine, an event of this size and popularity will require a tremendous planning process — a process that began quite some time ago.

For the past several months, 15 city departments have been meeting every week to prepare the city for what the world will bring to Boston.

GREEK INDEPENDENCE DAY . . .

sary of Greek independence. But we are also here to celebrate the present and the future — to acknowledge the vital role that the Greek community plays in our city.

Today, we look to Greece for our roots in democracy and government, science and art. We also look to the many Greek-Americans who have come to this country — especially to Boston — and have been models of hard work and accomplishment.

Throughout my years in public life, I have had the pleasure of working with the Greek-American community here in Boston. Your institutions — such as the Greek Orthodox Churches, social service programs, and Greek-American clubs and organizations — have served so many people over several generations. And all across the city, small Greek-owned businesses contribute to the life and spirit of our neighborhoods.

For many years, I have heard wonderful stories about your homeland. And tonight, I am pleased to announce that my wife Angela and I will be visiting Greece in May. We will see the sights, taste the food, and discover the Greek spirit that many of you have brought here to Boston.

Last year, I was honored to serve as Grand Marshal of Boston's first-ever Greek Independence Day Parade. This Sunday, we will proudly continue that tradition. And tonight, with these Greek-American Community Service Awards, we begin another tradition that I hope will continue here in Boston for generations to come.

Now it gives me great pleasure to present this proclamation declaring today "Greek Independence Day" here in Boston. As many of you know, it was a Greek Orthodox Bishop who carried the banner as Greece marched to independence. So it's only fitting that I should present this proclamation to His Grace Bishop Methodios — a bright and dedicated leader of the Greek-American community here in New England.

BAA EVENT . . .

on Patriots' Day weekend. These meetings — among departments like public safety, public works, parks and recreation, and several others — have resulted in a comprehensive plan to keep the City of Boston "up and running" for residents and visitors alike. For those of us at City Hall, it is a total team effort. And we have been joined by the BAA, the MBTA and our corporate sponsors to make sure that Marathon weekend is a safe and fun time for everyone in Boston.

Believe it or not, the 100th Boston Marathon is just one of the festivities planned for that weekend. There will be another road race — besides the "big one", youth events, a party on Landsdowne Street, and the traditional Ronzoni Pasta Party, to name a few.

We are aware that there will be questions — particularly from residents and businesses — regarding a wide range of concerns like street closings, public transportation and parking. Next week, we plan to release a blueprint of our plans to handle the traffic and public safety issues for those neighborhoods affected by the Marathon. We are doing our best to make sure that these plans are considerate of all involved, but I ask you to keep in mind that they will require some patience and cooperation from everyone.

The 100th Boston Marathon will be quite an event — the city, the BAA and everyone we have been working with will make sure of that. And while we are basking in the international limelight, I want to ask everyone who plans to be in Boston that weekend — and everyone is invited — to work with us to make sure that we're all safe and having a good time. I have always said that Boston is a world-class city — and this is our chance to show the world just how true that is.

KEEP BOSTON MOVING . . . SAFELY!

ance Company in Boston for 17 years. He managed several divisions during that time, including, group insurance, health insurance claims, the New England field service office for property and casualty claims, and the debit policy division. During his career with Prudential, DiMarzio was considered an exceptional manager with particular strengths in organization development, motivation, and leadership skills.

DiMarzio is currently serving as Chairman of the Board of the Boston Water and Sewer Commission, a public service agency that has an operating budget of approximately 200 million dollars and assets of 750 million dollars. He has served as Chairman since 1994.

DiMarzio received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Finance from Boston College in 1964 and has been active in the community, serving on local school boards and coaching youth athletic activities.

DiMarzio is a resident of Hyde Park.

surpassing ice hockey in number of participants. The game is played on in-line roller skates following the same rules as ice hockey. A plastic ball replaces the puck, and helmet and padding are required.

"Boston is on the leading edge of this exciting new sport," noted Park Commissioner Patrick S. Harrington. "Based on last year's participation, looks like roller hockey is here to stay."

The series features three divisions for age groups 6 to 8, 9 to 11, and 12 to 14. Elimination rounds will be held on Saturday, May 4, at LoPres Park in East Boston, and McGonag Park in Charlestown; Saturday, May 11, at Columbus Park in South Boston, and Garvey Playground in Dorchester; and Sunday, May 19, at Ross Field in Hyde Park, and Fallick Field in Roslindale. Finals will be held on Saturday, June 1, at Columbus Park.

In 1997, tournament sponsors

Boston Professional Roller Hockey will be launching a Boston team to compete in the Roller Hockey International League.

"This great sport provides affordable entertainment for the entire family," noted Jim Leahy, CEO of the new Jersey Rockin' Rollers and Long Island Jaws pro teams and spokesman for Boston Professional Roller Hockey. "Roller Hockey is experiencing an unprecedented surge in popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It's exciting to see that Boston is riding this wave."

Please note that pre-registration for the tournament is required. The registration deadline is April 26. To register your team, please call Joe Curran of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department at (617) 635-505.

MWRA'S BAY STATE ORGANIC EXPANDS ITS FERTILIZER OUTLETS

The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) announced that 16 garden centers will be selling MWRA's Bay State Organic fertilizer this year, more than twice the number of retail outlets selling it a year ago.

"We are pleased that more people will have an easier time purchasing our fertilizer which can be used to grow anything from salad greens to golf greens," said MWRA Executive Director Douglas B. MacDonald.

Bay State Organic fertilizer pellets are manufactured from treated wastewater sludge collected at MWRA's Deer and Nut Island treatment plants. The sludge is treated biologically, dewatered and then dried at high temperatures to kill all germs and bacteria. The MWRA has been manufacturing pelletized fertilizer at the Fore River Shipyard in Quincy since December 1991, when sludge pumping in the Boston Harbor stopped. The fertilizer manufacturing facility is privately operated by New England Fertilizer Company, which markets the fertilizer in bulk quantities in Southern agricultural states.

The 1995 pilot program resulted in the distribution of almost 300 tons of Bay State Organic: 108 tons were sold commercially and 177 tons were donated to MWRA sewer customer communities.

"We encourage everyone to use this recycled, organic compound," said MacDonald. "Bay State Organic causes less nutrient pollution and is therefore better for the environment."

Many of the MWRA's sewerage customer communities took advantage of the availability of Bay State Organic at no charge for use on public property. These communities included: Malden, Boston, Wellesley, Canton, Everett, Hingham, Westwood, Burlington, Arlington, Medford, Bedford, Melrose, Wakefield, Winchester, Woburn, Waltham, Wollaston, Winthrop and Framingham. The fertilizer was used in various settings, including public housing grounds, parks, school grounds, athletic fields, public golf courses, cemetery grounds, a non-profit community garden and several landscaped areas.

Country clubs and golf courses accounted for the majority of the fertilizer sold. Golf course superintendents and homeowners alike are attracted to the product's gradual release of nutrients, its ability to improve soil quality and environmental safety.

Based on the results of the 1995 pilot program, MWRA has a goal of doubling commercial sales for 1996. In addition, MWRA anticipates an increase in orders from sewerage customer communities of at least 50 percent over last year's quantities.

Bay State Organic will be sold at the following stores in Massachusetts: Mahoney's Garden Centers in Cambridge, Tewksbury, Falmouth, Osterville, Oak Bluffs, Stoneham and Winchester; Sylvan Nursery in Attleboro; Ashmont Discount in Braintree; Percira Grain & Supply Co., in Fall River; Laughton Garden Center in North Chelmsford; Agway in Plymouth; Longmeadow Supply in Taunton; and Atlas True Value Hardware in West Roxbury. It will also be sold at 4 Seasons Garden Center in Seabrook, New Hampshire, and at Beardsley Gardens in Sharon, Connecticut.

"100 YEARS OF THE BOSTON MARATHON" ON EXHIBIT AT BPL

"The Race Through History," an exhibition chronicling the first 100 years of the Boston Athletic Association's world-famous Boston Marathon, will be on display through April 29 in the Great Hall of the Boston Public Library in Copley Square.

Like the historic race itself, this exhibit has traveled along the famous 26.2-mile route — with stops that began last January at public libraries or town halls in Hopkinton, Ashland, Framingham, Natick, Wellesley, Newton, and Brookline — before arriving at the finish line at the Boston Public Library on Boylston Street.

The eight-panel exhibit is divided into five eras — "The Start" (1897-1974), "The Early Miles" (1911-1930), "The Halfway Point" (1931-1956), "The Run to the Top" (1957-1974), and "The Race to the Finish" (1975-Present) — and features trophies, medals, clothing, and photographs from 1897 to the present. Highlights include seven-time champion Clarence De Mar; John A. Kelly, who ran the Marathon 61 times, finishing first twice and runner-up seven times; John J. "Johnny" Kelly, who was the only person to win the Boston Marathon wearing Boston Athletic Association (B.A.A.) colors; Bill Rodgers, four-time champion; the emergence of women marathoners (including Joan Benoit Samuelson) and wheelchair athletes (including pioneer Bob Hall).

The exhibit provides fond remembrances of the past and inspiration for the future, while capturing the present-day excitement and is free and open to the public during library hours. The Central Library is wheelchair accessible. For more information, please call the Boston Public Library at 536-5400, Ext. 336.

TRANSPORTATION DEPARTMENT

General Repair Work

July 12, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

In response to an advertisement published in the City Record on March 20 and 27 and April 3, 1995, inviting interested, competent persons or firms engaged in General Repair work to enter into contracts for estimating periodically the cost of, and thereafter upon the lowest responsible estimate, performing work on properties under the care and custody of the Property Management Department, the following applicants, among others, declared their intent to enter into contract with the City under the above conditions:

3317, A & B Construction Co., Inc., 17 Saybrook Street, Brighton, MA 02135.

3319, A-N Construction Corp., 53 Cooper Street, Boston, MA 02113.

3320, D & F Construction, 105 Homes Avenue, Dorchester, MA 02122.

3324, Dom Giannangelo Contractors, 30 Readville Street, Boston, MA 02136.

3325, Fleming Bros., Inc., 121 Sycamore Road, Braintree, MA 02184.

3329, J & L Cleaning Company, 205 Portland Street, Boston, MA 02114.

3332, Performance Building Co., 45 Woodley Avenue, West Roxbury, MA 02132.

3333, S & L Ventures, Inc., 77 Bedford Street, Boston, MA 02111.

3328, Greenaway Disposal Co., 570 Warren Street, Roxbury, MA 02119.

3334, T. C. Murphy, 440 Gallivan Boulevard, Dorchester, MA 02124.

3335, W. P. Kilroy Construction, Inc., 4975 Washington Street, West Roxbury, MA 02132.

On June 1, 1995, your Honor approved the award of a requirements contract by Property Management to each of the firms listed above for the period July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996, each in the amount not to exceed $120,000.

Pursuant to the procedures that govern the above-referenced contracts, the Transportation Department may enter into one or more contracts with the above-named businesses as may be required from time to time to provide the service described in the first paragraph hereof. Each such contract shall be procured through a solicitation of a minimum of three oral or written bids or quotes. In no event shall any single contract with an applicant for work equal or exceed $10,000, although the aggregate amount of any and all such contracts with an applicant may equal or exceed $10,000.

The work to be performed by the above vendors involves cleaning and maintaining parking lots under the care, custody and control of the Off-Street Parking Facilities Board, a board within the Transportation Department. Such work is the same or similar, in terms of scope, nature of work and price as that to be performed by these vendors pursuant to their agreements with the Property Management Department. Furthermore, Property Management, through a publisher advertisement and qualifications process, has determined that these are qualified to do the work and otherwise eligible to contract with the City. Therefore, it would serve no useful purpose for the Transportation Department, and such duplication would be a needless waste of City resources.

Based upon the foregoing, and in particular upon the public advertisement and solicitation of applications conducted by the Property Management Department, I am now requesting your permission to dispense with further public advertising and to award a requirements contract to each of the above applicants for the period August 1, 1995, to June 30, 1996, in an amount not to exceed $75,000, under the terms and subject to the same single and aggregate dollar limitations and procedures for the solicitation of quotations.

The contract will be charged to the Parking Facilities Fund #031-251-7156-0000.

Respectfully yours,
Frank A. Tramontozzi,
Commissioner.

Now, every week is "your week" to recycle.

EVERY WEEK RECYCLING PICK-UP

EXPANDED RECYCLING PROGRAM

The new recycling program lets you include MAGAZINES, CARDBOARD and BROWN PAPER BAGS. So, now you can put out almost twice as much.

IT'S JUST AS EASY AS EVER

Here's how: save your newspapers, brown bags, corrugated "waffled" cardboard (no cereal or tissue boxes) and magazines in a brown paper bag or tied up with twine. Then put it out, on garbage day, next to your trash, by 7:00am.

Exceptions: If your area has 2 trash pick-up days, you should recycle on the first day, if you have three garbage days, recycle on the middle pick-up day.

ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO CERTAIN RECORD-KEEPING REQUIREMENTS (DOCKET NO. 1363)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

October 13, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I transmit herewith for your approval an Ordinance that would eliminate certain record keeping requirements from the City's Residency Ordinance, CBC Ord. s. 5-5.3.

The Residency Ordinance presently requires that copies of the annual list of city employees compiled by the City Auditor be maintained by the City Clerk, the City Treasurer, the Boston Finance Commission, and the main branch of the Boston Public Library.

Given the number of city agencies which already serve as repositories of this list, inclusion of the Boston Public Library is duplicative and burdensome. Accordingly, this measure will relieve Boston Public Library of the burden of maintaining a copy of the list.

I urge your Honorable Body to approve this Ordinance at the earliest possible date.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

City of Boston

IN THE YEAR NINETEEN HUNDRED AND NINETY-FIVE AN ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO CERTAIN RECORD KEEPING REQUIREMENTS

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1, Chapter 9 of 1976, as most recently amended by c. 10 of the Ordinances of 1994, and appearing as s. 5-5.3 of City of Boston Code, Ordinances, 1985 Edition, is hereby amended by deleting the following language from paragraph six, "and the main branch of the Boston Public Library."

Referred to the Committee on Residency.

ORDER ORDER TO ACCEPT AND EXPEND SECTION 108 LOAN GUARANTEE OF $2,000,000 FROM U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HUD (DOCKET NO. 1364)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

October 17, 1995

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I transmit herewith for your approval an Order to accept and expend a Section 108 loan guarantee in an amount not to exceed $2,000,000 from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

I urge your Honorable body to pass this order as soon as possible so that the City of Boston may expend these HUD funds expeditiously.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

Whereas, Section 108 of Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended (42 U.S.C. 5308; 24 CFR Part 570, subpart M), contains provisions authorizing the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to provide loan guarantees and notes or other obligations issued by Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) entitlement communities; and

Whereas, The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development awarded the City of Boston an Economic Development Initiative (EDI) grant in the amount of $1,000,000 to be used in conjunction with Section 108 loan guarantee funds to provide assistance for economic development projects located outside of the area of Boston designated as a Federal Enterprise Community; and

Whereas, On August 2, 1995, the City Council authorized the City of Boston to apply to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for Section 108 loan guarantee assistance in an amount not to exceed $2,000,000 to be used in conjunction with the said Economic Development Initiative (EDI) grant; and

Whereas, The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development awarded the City of Boston Section 108 loan guarantee assistance in the amount of $2,000,000 on September 30, 1995; and

Whereas, The Public Facilities Department (PFD) will administer the proposed Section 108 loan guarantee assistance on behalf of the City of Boston, now, therefore be it

MAYOR CALLS FOR SAFETY DEVICES ON GUNS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino is filing legislation at the State House which would hold manufacturers of firearms and assault weapons liable for costs incurred due to injuries or deaths resulting from gunshot wounds. The proposed statute specifically exempts from liability manufacturers that employ in the production of the guns "smart gun" technologies, such as frequency tags, automated fingerprint ID systems, and mechanical locks.

Mayor Menino said, "This legislation is a much needed wake-up call for gun manufacturers to build a safer product — because they can. This will allow individuals to file suit to recover medical costs and damages brought on by gunshot wounds. We're saying to gun manufacturers, 'Either put safety devices on weapons or be held responsible.'"

The proposed statute would amend Massachusetts General Laws chapter 140 to insert language in section 131J holding manufacturers, importers, dealers, and distributors liable for damages resulting from a shooting in Massachusetts of a firearm or assault weapon which does not include a device limiting the weapon's use to its owner. The legislation will be sponsored on Beacon Hill by Representative James Brett of Dorchester and a dozen co-sponsors.

Several violence prevention advocates praised the legislation, including John Rosenthal, co-chair of Stop Handgun Violence and NOT BULLETPROOF: "The Mayor's legislation would put an end to senseless and easily preventable deaths. Recently, we have witnessed young children killed in Lynnfield, New Bedford and Springfield as a result of easy accessibility to guns."

The legislation would hold gun manufacturers responsible for gun accidents in Massachusetts even if the manufacturers are not located in the state. Last year, Massachusetts hospitals reported nearly 1,000 cases involving gunshot wounds. Guns are present in 40 percent of all households in the United States. Studies show that firearms have become the leading cause of traumatic death in the U.S. The legislation does not apply to hunting and sporting rifles and a weapon used in self defense.

ing Newt Gingrich and Dick Army that they are wrong. The people of Boston and Massachusetts want fewer guns on our streets, not more.

Last month, the Massachusetts House approved legislation that would ban 25 types of assault weapons in the Commonwealth. If passed into law, Massachusetts' assault weapons legislation would be the toughest in the country. So before I proceed, I want to congratulate the members of the Legislature — and the citizens groups who have joined me today — for their courageous efforts to break the NRA's ugly grip on our legislative process.

The NRA would like people to believe that legislation such as this assaults constitutional rights. But when the NRA talks about violation of the Second Amendment, they never tell us about the tragedy that so many people experience because of guns. The numbers are alarming. Last year, Massachusetts hospitals reported nearly 1,000 cases involving some type of gunshot wound. Studies show that firearms have become the leading cause of traumatic death in the United States — especially among young people. Guns are present in 40 percent of all households in the U.S., yet they remain a virtually unregulated product. Banning assault weapons is a good start to ending the tragedies that gun-bringing to our homes and our streets but we can do more.

I am proposing legislation that would impose strict liability on the manufacturers and distributors of firearms and assault weapons when discharge of these weapons cause physical injury or death. I'm not talking about sport rifles used by hunters or handguns used by the police. I'm talking about those guns which are manufactured solely to injure, maim or kill. This legislation would allow individuals to file suit to recover medical costs and damage brought on by a gunshot wound.

GUN LEGISLATION PRESS CONFERENCE

Remarks of

Mayor Thomas Menino

March 22, 1996

Today, in Washington, the Republican leadership in Congress is trying to create another group of victims of the Contract on America. Newt Gingrich and Dick Army are fulfilling their promise to the National Rifle Association by enacting a vote to repeal the Assault Weapons Ban for which all of us fought so hard last year. This is a ban that this country stands by. A recent poll showed that it has the overwhelming support — 72 percent — of the American people.

Well, we've gathered here today to say "enough is enough." We're tell-legislation, saying it goes too far or that it's crazy to hold manufacturers liable. But we didn't go too far when we put safety caps on prescription drug bottles, or installed air bags in cars, did we? This legislation employs the same principle — that the product is dangerous and that manufacturers have a responsibility to make it safer.

This legislation won't affect all guns. Like I said, hunting and sport rifles would be exempt, and a weapon used in self defense would be exempt as well. This is a much needed wake-up call for gun manufacturers to build a safer product — because they can. This is an encouragement to use techniques like "smart gun" technology — mechanisms that allow only the registered owner to fire a gun, or trigger locks.

The bottom line is — guns are dangerous. All of us here know that. Police officers know that. Victims and their families know that. Even Newt Gingrich and the Republicans in Congress know that. Most of all, gun makers know that, and I think it's time we held them accountable.

Some people would say there is little chance of this legislation being passed. If I could only remind them of another fight that was ridiculed when it began many years ago — the fight against tobacco companies. The skeptics said it was a losing battle, but with hard work and persistence from elected officials, health care professionals and citizens groups, anti-tobacco groups are making progress everyday — and proving the skeptics wrong.

Like the vote in the State House last month, the legislation we are announcing today is another great step for the health and safety of the people of Boston and Massachusetts. This is our way of telling the NRA and their friends in Congress that we've seen enough. We can't undo the damage that has already been done. But if we work together to pass this legislation, we can prevent future gunshot injuries — and save countless lives.

TESTIMONY OF BOSTON MAYOR
THOMAS M. MENINO
IN SUPPORT OF H5568,
THE EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY BOND BILL,
MARCH 20, 1996

Chairman Scaccia, Chairman Magnani, the future of the Massachusetts economy is heavily dependent upon our having a highly educated work force, particularly in the area of technology. For that reason, I am pleased to testify on behalf of H5568, the Educational Technology Bond Bill.

Recently, when I sat down with a columnist for one of our daily newspapers, I had a copy of the Sunday Help Wanted Section sitting in front of me. He asked me, "Are you looking for a new job, Mayor?" I told him that I was very happy with my position and hoped to continue in it for a while. But what did concern me was whether the young people of our city, as well as older workers in transition, could qualify for these jobs.

Just take a look at the ads yourself — companies are looking for people to fill jobs that didn't exist five years ago, or even less. They are looking for internet programmers, software developers and client server professionals.

And, if we do not prepare our young people from those jobs — whether they are graduates from Hyde Park High or from Framingham North and South — they are not going to be competitive in the 21st century economy. That is why we urgently need this legislation.

In my State of the City speech, I spoke of how computers can offer our teachers and our children the tools to make major breakthroughs in education. And, I promised that by the year 2001, Boston would provide one computer for every four students.

This need for technology is particularly urgent in urban schools, because the gap between technology "haves" and "have nots" is growing every day. Young people growing up in public housing don't come home to Windows 95 or America online. As a matter of fact, you could call a number of our poorer neighborhoods, "America Offline", because there are few, if any, computers available there.

In Boston, we are working every day to correct that situation, and we are acquiring a growing number of allies. For example, President Clinton and Vice President Gore are spearheading an effort to wire every school in every Empowerment Zone, including Boston, to the Internet, by the end of the year.

Locally, Boston Edison has stepped forward with a major donation of computer equipment to our schools — a donation that they and I plan to challenge businesses around our city to match. Almost every day, I hear from some organization that wants to work with us on our goal of "computer literacy for every person, in every neighborhood".

That goal is not an easy one — it's not just a question of obtaining a number of computers for our schools. It's getting the right computers and the right software, training our teachers well, and wiring the schools, some of which because of their age and condition, can best be termed "technologically challenged". It's also providing after school and evening access to computers in technology poor neighborhoods.

So I urge you to pass this bill as soon as possible. I ask that you consider some measure of targeting to school systems serving technology poor communities. I also ask that you consider some level of support for innovative community projects that bring computers to underserved neighborhoods.

My friends, we must make technology a continuing part of Massachusetts' competitive advantage — we need to step far out in front of other states so that the firms we have today will stay here and grow here.

EXPAND AIR SERVICE BETWEEN THE U.S. AND JAPAN

*Statement of Boston Mayor
Thomas M. Menino,

Boston is a great city for tourism, for trade and for educational opportunities. With this in mind, I am pleased to offer my strong support to the goals and objectives laid out in the Statement of Purpose of ACCESS, U.S. - Japan. This framework would promote a more open and competitive air service between the two countries, resulting in increased trade and tourism. Boston can only benefit from such an arrangement.

I urge the governments of the United States and Japan to rapidly reach consensus on these principles so that the citizens and businesses of both countries may reap those rewards.

WALK FOR HUNGER

Thousands of Boston-area people will "vote with their feet" in a gigantic effort to alleviate hunger on Sunday, May 5 this year. The 27th annual Walk For Hunger will continue a tradition of effort and care that has seen a sea of people surging through twenty miles of streets in and around Boston since 1969.

Walk For Hunger day is often a gala event for many of the participants as families, school friends, workers from the same job, neighbors and a myriad of others team up for the effort. But the purpose of the Walk For Hunger is as serious as the commitment the many walkers make: To raise funds to alleviate, prevent and end hunger in Massachusetts. That is the ongoing goal of Project Bread which includes the Walk For Hunger in its many efforts in the battle against hunger.

Among the work done by Project Bread is:

- The support of 477 soup kitchens, food pantries, homeless shelters and other emergency feeding programs in 119 Massachusetts communities.
- Operating a FoodSource Hotline that responds to nearly 35,000 calls a year from hungry people struggling to feed their families.
- Delivering over 5 million pounds of donated and low-cost food each year to emergency feeding programs through its Food Drive for the Hungry program.
- Working with concerned individuals and organizations to develop public policies that address hunger, particularly hunger among children.
- Providing technical and management assistance to hundreds of emergency feeding programs to enable them to meet the challenges posed by the hunger crisis in Massachusetts.
- Working with local communities to establish sorely needed food pantries and soup kitchens in underserved areas.
- Creating partnerships with schools, local community organizations and public institutions to provide children with the nutritious food they urgently need to learn and grow.

The Walk For Hunger plays a big role in meeting those diverse obligations. Since it was founded, more than 422,000 walkers have raised nearly $30 million to help the hungry. An even greater number of Massachusetts citizens are Walk For Hunger sponsors, giving generously to encourage and support those who do the walking. For example, in 1995, more than 47,000 people participated as Walkers and volunteers while more than 500,000 people sponsored them to raise nearly $3 million in pledges.

Given these impressive statistics, it probably comes as no surprise to learn that the Walk For Hunger is the nation's largest annual one-day fundraiser to alleviate local hunger. By any measurement, hunger in Massachusetts is a real and all too wide spread of a problem. In these volatile economic times, more than 600,000 people in the state live below the poverty line and face hunger every day.

And the recent recovery has only meant continuing hardship for many; a large proportion of new jobs offer low wages, have few benefits and little or no security.

POET'S CORNER "HOPPY, GENE & ROY"

Tell me, where have all the cowboys gone,
Where are heroes like Roy Rogers and Gene Autry
Or the special men like Hop-a-long Cassidy

Boy, those were the days of our deepest pride
We sure felt safe knowing they were on our side
Kids, like I once was, looked up to the cowboys
Yep! They were great....Hoppy, Gene and Roy

Heroes like the cowboys are what kids all need
So, wake up folks, please, hear this plea
There's knowledge in a Hoppy, Gene or Roy show
So, give the cowboys back to us kids to know

We cry out for someone to love and to respect
Hoppy, Gene and Roy lessons were pretty direct
So, give us a good old cowboy and his cattle song
Remember how they helped us....We didn't go wrong

Hoppy, Gene and Roy, it is my honor to salute you
Here's to you and all loving things you tried to do
We learned so much from you three wonderful men
The kids of yesterday love and respect you as our friend.

MAYOR SUPPORTS EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY BOND BILL

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has submitted testimony in support of House Bill 5568, "An Act Authorizing Capital Outlays for Investments in Education Technology."

The Mayor said, "The need for technology is particularly urgent in urban schools, because the gap between technology 'haves' and 'have nots' is growing every day. Young people growing up in public housing don't come home to Windows 95 or America online. As a matter of fact, you could call a number of our poorer neighborhoods, 'America Offline,' because there are few, if any, computers available there."

The legislative committee heard testimony in Gardner Auditorium on HB5568. The proposal would set aside state money to support the planning, design, acquisition, implementation, and oversight of education technology equipment in cities and towns.

The Mayor called on legislators to approve the bill and target those school systems which serve technology poor communities. The Mayor also asked lawmakers to support innovative community programs which provide computers to underserved neighborhoods.

The City of Boston has implemented several programs in the last year meant to provide residents access to computers. Trust Fund money is purchasing computers for several Boston Community Centers. The Mayor has established partnerships with companies such as Boston Edison to get computers donated to public schools. And the Mayor has won a promise from the Clinton Administration to wire every school in every Empowerment Zone area. 19 schools in Boston are in Empowerment Zone areas.

GRAFFITI VANDALS PAY CITY FOR DEFACING COMMUNITY BUILDING

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced that the City has received a $1,400 check from three young teens in Jamaica Plain after they were found guilty under the Graffiti Law of defacing Curtis Hall, 733 Centre Street, in Jamaica Plain, with graffiti during the early morning of October 29, 1995; the payment covered the cost of removing the graffiti. Mayor Menino, over the past year, has increased efforts to remove and prevent graffiti in the neighborhoods through his basic services team. The Graffiti Law allows vandals to be arrested on probable cause, even though graffiti is a misdemeanor, and forced to make restitution for the offense.

Mayor Menino said, "We have been working to stop graffiti in Boston because it creates the wrong image about a neighborhood for the people who live, shop or just drive through the neighborhoods. We have basic services and police working to get the message out that we are not tolerating disrespect for the neighborhoods of this city."

Boston Police Sergeant Jim Hasson, while investigating the suspicious behavior of three suspects, gained enough information to identify one of them before they fled the scene and left a backpack containing several items used by graffiti vandals including 2 cans of spray paint, 1 can of deodorant, different sized nozzles, chalk, black marker pen and gloves. The bag was also marked with the tag line "Lecter" which was also painted in several places on Curtis Hall. Sgt. Hasson later found the suspect owning the backpack and tag line, and took him home to be identified by his parents. Complaints were sought against the three suspects in West Roxbury District Court.

In a hearing, the Clerk Magistrate ordered that the suspect pay a $1,400 fine based on estimates from the Chief of Basic Services for the cost of removing the graffiti. The difficulty of the removal required contracting Mr. Clean, a graffiti removal company. The suspects' parents divided the cost of the fine and a check from Greater Boston Legal Services was issued as payment. Boston Police Area E-5 Captain Parlon presented Chief Galvin with the check recently.

The basic services team has been working with a number of communities and Mr. Clean, on a strategy for removing graffiti and ways, including the use of a sealant, to prevent it. These efforts were successfully demonstrated earlier this year in Mission Hill.

BLUE HILL AVENUE OWNERSHIP DAY

Mayor Thomas M. Menino,
March 23, 1996.*

Since I became Mayor, one focus of my administration has been to build neighborhood pride throughout Boston.

- We've done it with the Main Streets program — which is revitalizing our neighborhood business districts.
- We've done it with Yard Sale program — which is helping to clean up vacant lots in our neighborhoods.
- We've done it with legislation that makes absentee landlords more accountable for their property and their neighborhoods.
- And we've done it with those basic city services that are being delivered better than ever.

Partnerships — between the public and private sector — around the city are helping to build, and rebuild, our neighborhoods and our downtown. And, there is no place where that is more apparent than here on Blue Hill Avenue.

During my Inaugural Address, over two years ago, I announced the comeback of Blue Hill Avenue. This past January, during my State of the City address, I was happy to report on the great progress that we have made. All along the avenue, new businesses are moving in, existing businesses are being revitalized through the RESTORE program, sidewalks and streets are being cleaned up, and families are setting up new homes.

Over the past few years, I have been working to build economic security for everyone in Boston — through good jobs, safe streets, public health, quality of life and better schools. And when you think about it, having a nice place to call home is important to the success of all these goals.

Throughout this neighborhood, the City is helping to build homes for hard-working families who know the importance of raising their children in a nurturing environment. You'll see it at Savin/Haywood and Waverly — where new homes are going up, and at Dove Street — where the site of a former drug den is giving way to beautiful new housing units.

They say that owning a home is the American dream. So today, I am happy to join with you for Blue Hill Avenue Homeownership Day — another great step in the comeback of Blue Hill Avenue and the achievement of the American dream for many of you.

Thank you.

STATE HOUSE EVENT HIGHLIGHTS ALZHEIMER'S

By Mark Swadling

The Elderly Commission along with the Alzheimer's Association of Eastern Massachusetts helped to stage an emotional event at the State House on March 14th highlighting the needs and concerns of Alzheimer's disease sufferers and their families. The Legislative Education and Awareness Day is an annual event sponsored by the Alzheimer's Association to promote the issues related to Alzheimer's and related diseases and educate Legislators to the needs and experiences of those who suffer from this affliction. The Elderly Commission helped to promote the event and arrange for transportation to the State House.

This year's event held in Nurses Hall attracted more than 200 people including legislators, advocates, people in the early stages of Alzheimer's and their families. Advocates dis-passed their legislative priorities for this year promoting the establishment of a state Office on Alzheimer's Disease to coordinate policy, programs and services and preserving Medicaid services and eligibility in the face of proposed federal cutbacks.

People in the early stages of the progressive brain disease attended the event to underscore the realities of Alzheimer's and related diseases for more than 100,000 people and their families in Massachusetts. Family members, support group members and Alzheimer's sufferers offered powerful and emotional personal stories of what it is really like to live with the disease. Amongst those sharing their experiences were Jeff Peacock, 57, of Dover who told the audience what it's like to have Alzheimer's. "You can see it coming, but you can't stop it. On a bad day I feel like I am in a trap, a dark place, locked far away." Peacock described how his diagnosis developed and how he and his wife are working with support groups to plan for his future care giving needs. At the 1995 event Bill Saunders, of Hingham told a similar personal story. This year his wife, Betty, spoke instead. "Bill is unable to speak to you this year, the disease developed rapidly in him despite medications. He is still at home with me, but he needs constant care."

Don Freedman, chair of the Alzheimer's Association advocacy committee, pointed out, as the audience moved out into the State House to meet their local legislators, that the personal testimonies "have given us a sense of direction. We are not talking about bureaucracies, but about real the bill to create an Office of Alzheimer's Services has passed the House and is gaining support in the State Senate. The proposed House Ways and Means State budget in FY 1996 was included for the first time appropriation to fund this much needed and valuable resource for Alzheimer's patients and their families.

Roscoe Morris,

Mr. Morris:

September 6, 1995, Mr. John A. May, was appointed to the position of Senior Administrative Assistant, R20-1, at the Suffolk County Registry of Deeds.

Mr. O'Leary is a graduate of Boston College with a Bachelor of Science Degree from Suffolk University Law School '63 and a Doctor of Jurisprudence Degree.

Prior to his appointment, he had previous employment experience from 1959 to 1967 as a Mathematics teacher at Boston Latin School and from 1968-1978 as Administrative Assistant in the School Committee from 1967-71. He has been an attorney in private practice dealing with real estate matters from 1971 to the present.

In view of his educational background and work experience and his outstanding performance in his position at this office, it is requested that his 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 increments be waived under Paragraph 1 of the Compensation Plan for Employees of Suffolk County. The effective date of this request would be March 6, 1996.

CONTRACTS AMENDED

The Mayor has approved the amendment to the contracts, based on the following information:

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT Temporaries

C. 70-96
September 21, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:
Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to amend the contract with Lab Force, Inc. located at 33 Indian Rock Road, Salem, New Hampshire 03079, for provision of Temporary Laboratory Personnel. The period of this contract is July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996, at a cost not to exceed $100,000. This amendment is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

This amendment will increase the contract amount by $200,000, thereby increasing the City's total liability under this contract, as so amended, to an amount not to exceed $300,000.

The Laboratory Administration at Boston City Hospital (BCH) requested a contract for $50,000 for fiscal 1996. The additional $50,000 covered by this contract was requested by Boston Specialty and Rehabilitation Hospital. There was a typographical error on the BCH submission. The request should have been for $250,000. Last year, over $250,000 was spent by the Department for these services. Because of the error an amendment must be processed to cover the expenses.

In view of the above, and as the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, I recommend approval of this amendment.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traloy,
Commissioner.

LAW DEPARTMENT

Legal Services

C. 1854-95
August 15, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On May 30, 1994, your Honor approved an award of a contract to the law firm of Lucash, Gesmer & Updegrave, a partnership located at One McKinley Square, Boston, MA 02109, for providing professional legal services and representation of the City of Boston in the case of Lowe v. City of Boston, et al., during the period of July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995, at a cost not to exceed $200,000.

Your approval is now requested to amend this contract to provide the same legal services stated. The cost of this amendment shall not exceed $11,128. The contract, as amended shall not exceed $31,128.69. The period of performance shall remain the same.

This amendment is necessary because the original contracted amount was insufficient to meet the cost of services that have been rendered to date. This amendment is late because the total amount needed was not recognized prior to the end of this fiscal year.

Because of the professional nature of the services performed, and the reasonable cost of the services provided, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,

Merita A. Hopkins,
Corporation Counsel.

C. 1862-95
September 5, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On August 1, 1994, your Honor approved an award of a contract to Finerman, Byrne, Dreschler & O'Brien, a corporation located at 20 Redfield Street, Boston, MA 02122, to provide legal services in the cases entitled W. Bennett v. Dunn et al.; V. Bennett v. Dunn, et al.; and Cox v. Dunn, et al. during the period July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995, at a cost not to exceed $35,000.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract to provide the same legal services previously stated. The cost of this amendment shall not exceed $20,036.69. The contract, as amended, shall not exceed $55,036.69. The period of performance shall remain the same.

This amendment is necessary because the original contracted amount is insufficient to meet the cost of services that were rendered in FY95. This amendment is late because the total amount needed was not recognized prior to the end of this fiscal year.

Because of the professional nature of the services performed, and the reasonable cost of the services provided, it is my opinion that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,

Merita A. Hopkins,
Corporation Counsel.

Research Services

C. 1879-95
August 1, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On September 17, 1991, the Honorable Mayor Raymond L. Flynn approved an award of a three year contract based on public advertising for proposals to West Publishing, Inc., a corporation located at 610 Opperman Drive, Eagan, MN 55123, to provide the Law Department with Computer Assisted Legal Research Services through access to WESTLAW databases during the three year period commencing September 1, 1991, and ending August 30, 1994, at a total cost not to exceed $90,000, at a rate of $30,000 per year.

Your Honor approved an amendment to this contract on August 17, 1994, to include an additional amount of $8,983.86 for said legal research services resulting in a total contract amount of $98,983.86. On January 18, 1995, this contract was further amended to include an additional $30,000 resulting in a total contract amount of $128,983.86 and extending the period of performance to February 28, 1995.

Your Honor is now requested to further amend this contract to provide for an emergency continuation of the above-described services. The cost of this amendment, which was effective March 1, 1995, shall not exceed $23,530.47, which I have determined to be reasonable. The contract, as amended, shall not exceed $152,514.33. The period of performance was extended to June 30, 1995.

This emergency amendment is necessary because both proposals submitted in response to the Law Department's Request for Proposals for Computer Assisted Legal Research Services, issued on or about February 6, 1995, were legally defective. The Law Department issued a new RFP for these services on June 5, 1995, and shall have a new contract effective July 1, 1995. However, in the interim, this emergency amendment became necessary to ensure the City attorneys had continuous access to the most up-to-date legal authority and to important on-line legal resources unavailable elsewhere.

This emergency amendment is limited to only supplies or services necessary to meet the emergency, and all unit prices shall remain the same.

The late submission of this amendment is because of the delays caused by long distance correspondence, and the need to complete the selection and contract execution processes in connection with the Fiscal year 1996 contract.

Very truly yours,

Stephen H. Clark,
Acting Corporation Counsel.

Expert Testimony

C. 1883-95
July 19, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On July 27, 1994, your Honor approved the award of a contract without public advertising for bids to Martin J. Kelly, M.D., for expert psychiatric review and testimony in court cases in which plaintiffs are alleging damages of post traumatic stress syndrome during the period commencing July 1, 1994, and ending June 30, 1995, at a cost not to exceed $10,000. This contract was amended on March 3, 1995, for an additional $2,500, bringing the total cost not to exceed $12,500.

Your approval is now requested to amend this contract to provide for additional services that were needed due to an unanticipated demand for this type of specific expertise. The cost of this amendment shall not exceed $3,550, which I have determined to be reasonable. The contract as amended shall not exceed $16,050. This amendment is late because the total amount needed was not recognized prior to the end of this fiscal year.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,

Stephen H. Clark,
Acting Corporation Counsel

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT Preventive Maintenance

C. 4003-96
August 29, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On May 10, 1995, your Honor approved the award of a contract, without public advertising for bids, to Lynwell Associates, Inc., 524B Dorchester Avenue, South Boston, MA 02127, for preventive maintenance of electrical equipment in various schools at a cost not to exceed $1,084,860. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B, and is awarded under the authority of Chapter 149 of the General Laws.

Contract 4003-96 was not publicly advertised because the original contract contains an option to renew for two additional one-year periods. Contract 4003-96 starting July 1, 1995, is the first renewal.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract to provide for additional maintenance work not anticipated when the contract was renewed, and required by the Inspection Services Department in order to obtain Certificates of Occupancy for 117 school buildings including such work as the installation of additional egress exit signs, additions to emergency lighting systems, and additional fire protection devices such as smoke detectors and heat detectors. This type work is covered in the contract for preventive maintenance of electrical equipment in various schools and was performed at the unit bid price.

The cost of this amendment, which is effective August 15, 1995, shall not exceed $1,084,860, which I have determined to be reasonable.

The contract as amended shall not exceed $2,169,720. The period of performance shall remain the same.

Because of the nature of the services, and the urgent need to complete the work in the short period of time before school opened, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This letter has been delayed because the inspections and requirements by I.S.D. have been an ongoing process, the cost of which could not be determined at the start.

Sincerely,

Arthur W. Steller,
Acting Superintendent.

ORDER FOR PETITION FOR SPECIAL LAW RE RENT CONTROL (DOCKET NO. 1455)

Couns. McLAUGHLIN, IANNELLA, NUCCI, HENNIGAN, YANCEY, MODICA, SAUNDERS, and O'NEIL offered the following:

Ordered, That a petition to the General Court, accompanied by a bill for a special law relating to the city of Boston to be filed with an attested copy of this order be, and hereby is, approved under Clause (1) of Section eight of Article two, as amended, of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the end that legislation be adopted providing precisely as follows, except for clerical or editorial changes of form only:

Section 1. Whereas, a serious public emergency exists with respect to the housing of citizens in the city of Boston who reside in governmentally-involved subsidized housing, inasmuch as there is a threat that many low-income individuals and families residing in such housing, and particularly those who are elderly and disabled, may be threatened with displacement as a result of prepayment of mortgage financing, loss of use restrictions, expiring subsidy contracts, and expected increases in rent, and there is a threat that affordable housing stock will be lost due to expiration of use restrictions and such pre-payment, further exacerbating an extreme housing shortage within the city for low-income families and individuals, and that it is the goal of the city of Boston to encourage owners of governmentally-involved housing to accept incentives to keep such housing affordable and avert displacement, that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately and with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the city of Boston, and, therefore, this act is declared to be in the public interest

Section 2

(A) Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, including, without limitation, the provisions of General Law chapter 40 O and chapter 282 of the acts of 1994, the city of Boston may by ordinance control the rent for the use or occupancy of governmentally-involved or formerly governmentally involved housing to the extent that such regulation is not otherwise pre-empted by federal law or by section 6 of chapter 708 of the acts of 1966, as amended, once the basis for federal or Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency rent pre-emption no longer exists. For the purpose of this act, "governmentally-involved housing" is defined as housing accommodations which the United States or the Commonwealth of Massachusetts or any authority created under the laws thereof either owns, operates, finances, subsidizes, or insures the mortgage thereon, or regulates the individual rents thereof, including without limitation housing accommodations which were constructed or rehabilitated pursuant to Sections 202, 221(d) or 236 of the National Housing Act, or pursuant to project-based programs under Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937; provided, however, housing accommodations which the United States or any authority created under the laws thereof insures or insured the mortgage thereon pursuant to sections 207, 220 or 608 of the National Housing Act shall not be included within this definition, nor shall housing accommodations the mortgage of which is insured under Section 221(d) of the National Housing Act and which never received a federal rental subsidy or below market interest rate mortgage subsidy, nor shall housing accommodations owned or acquired by the City of Boston through tax foreclosure. "Formerly governmentally-involved housing" is defined as housing which was governmentally-involved housing as of July 1, 1994, or which newly becomes governmentally-involved housing after July 1, 1994, but which may no longer be owned, operated, financed, subsidized, mortgage-insured, or rent-regulated by the United States, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, or any authority created under the laws thereof. Said city may create a board and empower it to establish as the maximum rent for governmentally-involved and formerly governmentally-involved housing accommodations the rent in effect thereon on July 1, 1994, or six months before the basis for federal or MHFA rent pre-emption lapsed, whichever is later, adjusted to insure that such rent provides a fair net operating income as of the date of the loss of rent pre-emption, provided, however, that said ordinance shall authorize the board, by order to make such individual adjustments in such maximum rents as may be necessary to remove hardships or to correct other inequities, and provided further, however, in the event of any reduction in or forgiveness of mortgage debt for governmentally-involved housing or formerly governmentally-involved housing, the rent shall be reduced to reflect the corresponding reduction in operating expenses and/or debt service. In making individual adjustments to remove hardships or to correct other inequities, said board shall observe the principle of maintaining maximum rents for such housing accommodations at levels which will yield to owners a fair net operating income from such housing accommodations. In determining whether the maximum rent for such housing accommodations yields a fair net operating income from such housing accommodations due consideration shall be given to the following, among other relevant factors: (1) increases in property taxes; (2) unavoidable increases in operating and maintenance expenses; (3) major capital improvements of such housing accommodations as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement, and maintenance; (4) increases or decreases in living space, services, furniture, furnishings or equipment; (5) substantial deterioration of such housing accommodations, other than ordinary wear and tear, or failure to perform ordinary repair, replacement, or maintenance; and (6) any reduction in, or forgiveness of, mortgage debt. Upon a decision by the board regarding the rent for a housing accommodation, either party concerned may appeal to the district court for the judicial district within which the housing accommodation is located or to the housing court of the city of Boston within thirty days of such decision.

(B) Such ordinance may also provide that no person shall bring any action to recover possession of a governmentally-involved housing accommodation, or any housing accommodation receiving tenant-based rental assistance from a federal, state, or local housing program, to the extent that such regulation is not otherwise pre-empted by federal law or by section 6 of chapter 708 of the acts of 1996, unless:

(1) the tenant has failed to pay the rent to which the owner is entitled;

(2) the tenant has violated an obligation or covenant of his tenancy other than the obligation to surrender possession upon proper notice and has failed to cure such violation after having received written notice thereof from the owner;

(3) the tenant is committing or permitting to exist a nuisance in, or is causing substantial damage to, the housing accommodation, or is creating a substantial interference with the comfort, safety, or enjoyment of the owner or other occupants of the same or any adjacent accommodation;

(4) the tenant has been using or permitting a housing accommodation to be used for any illegal purpose;

(5) the tenant, who has a written lease or rental agreement which terminated on or after the passage of this act has refused, after written requests or demand by the owner, to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration and in such terms as are not inconsistent with or violative of any provision of this act;

(6) the tenant has refused the owner reasonable access to the housing accommodation for the purpose of making necessary repairs or improvements required by the laws of the United States, the commonwealth, or any subdivision thereof, or for the purpose of inspection as permitted or required by the lease or by the law, or for the purpose of showing the housing accommodations to any prospective purchaser or mortgagee;

(7) the tenant holding at the end of a lease term is a subtenant not approved by the owner;

(8) for the tenant-based rental assistance programs only, the owner seeks to recover possession in good faith of a unit for his or her own use and occupancy or for the use and occupancy by his or her spouse, children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, parents, grandparents, brother, sister, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law; or

(9) the owner seeks to recover possession for any other just cause, provided that his purpose is not in conflict with the provisions and purposes of this act.

The provisions of this section shall be construed as additional restrictions on the right to recover possession of such housing accommodations.

(C) Such ordinance may also provide that no person shall remove any governmentally-involved or formerly governmentally-involved housing accommodation from low-income rental housing use, or convert such housing to a condominium or cooperative, without first obtaining a permit for that purpose from the board, to the extent that such regulation is not otherwise pre-empted by federal law or by section 6 of chapter 708 of the acts of 1996. Such permit may be subject to such terms and conditions not inconsistent with the purposes and provisions of this act, including, without limitation, (a) incentives to continue in effect the low-income use restrictions previously in place for the property, (b) where sale, lease, or disposition of the property may result in the loss of all or a portion of the property for low-income rental housing use, the right of an incorporated tenants association in such housing, the city of Boston, or non-profit community development corporations to negotiate for, acquire and operate such property on substantially equivalent terms and conditions to a bona fide third party purchaser.

(D) Such ordinance may also provide that an owner of governmentally-involved housing, or formerly governmentally-involved housing, must affirmatively seek out and accept any prospective governmental housing resources, whether tenant-based or project-based, which maximizes affordability of the housing accommodations for low-income tenants and applicants, consistent with the owner's right to obtain a fair net operating income for the housing accommodations.

(E) Such ordinance may also provide that, so long as such regulation is consistent with the owner's right to obtain a fair net operating income, the city of Boston may regulate the occupancy of governmentally-involved housing or formerly governmentally-involved housing to: (a) insure that, as units turn over, they are rented out to low-income households and not to households whose income exceeds 80 percent of the area median income; and (b) that any priorities established by the owner for admission to such housing are based on objective criteria and are consistent with local preferences as established by the city of Boston. Such regulation shall not affect the right of the owner to screen out tenants with histories of failure to pay rent, failure to care for the premises, failure to respect the rights of others to peaceful enjoyment of their housing, drug-related criminal history or other criminal activity that is a threat to the life, safety, or property of others, or failure to comply with other essential conditions of tenancy.

(F) The city of Boston, in any ordinance adopted pursuant to this act, shall be empowered to promulgate any rules, regulations or orders, not inconsistent with the purposes and provisions of this act, for the enforcement of this act, for the setting of rents, for the regulation of evictions, or for the granting or denying of removal permits in governmentally-involved or formerly governmentally-involved rental housing.

(G) Any hearings regarding matters related to regulation of rents or removal permits for governmentally-involved housing or formerly governmentally-involved housing or regarding compliance with other provisions of this ordinance shall be conducted by the board in accordance with the provisions of section 11 of chapter 30A of the General Laws except that requirements (7) and (8) of such section 11 shall not apply to such hearings.

(H) All decisions of the board may be appealed to the district court department of the trial court for the judicial district within which the housing accommodation is located or the housing court department of the trial court, city of Boston division, within thirty calendar days after the notice of such decision.

(I) The superior court department of the trial court and housing court department of the trial court, city of Boston division, shall severally have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this act, any ordinance adopted thereunder and any rules or regulations promulgated pursuant to such ordinance, and may restrain or enjoin violations of such ordinance.

Section 3. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional or otherwise invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions.

Referred to the Committee on Housing.

Whereas, Additional police cadets are needed for traffic detail in identified problem areas other than just certain downtown intersections as specified in collective bargaining agreements; and

Whereas, Citizens, both motorists and pedestrians, are those most aware of dangerous intersections and areas in their neighborhoods and can serve the city as a valuable source of up-to-date information; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Council requests the Transportation Commissioner to establish a traffic safety hotline to which citizen complaints and identification of problem intersections could be reported, and be it further

Whereas, Many of the City's busiest intersections are not presently covered by school crossing guards due to the lack of funding needed to provide for an adequate staff, therefore be it;

Resolved, The City Council requests that the Mayor submit a supplemental appropriation of $1,200,000 for the Police Department to fund the hiring of approximately 150 additional crossing guards that are needed for the 1995-1996 school year.

Whereas, It is incumbent upon the city to take all steps to ensure that existing authority granted to the Transportation Commissioner is exercised as it relates to protecting citizens from the dangers posed by heavy construction equipment; therefore be it

MAYOR ANNOUNCES SCHOOLYARD IMPROVEMENTS

15 schools getting foundation money this year

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced the first round of grants to be awarded to Boston Public Schools for the redesign of their schoolyards. 15 schools are getting money in this first year of a five-year initiative in the neighborhoods of Brighton, Charlestown, Dorchester, East Boston, Hyde Park, Jamaica Plain, Roslindale, Roxbury, South Boston, South End, and West Roxbury.

In the coming year, each school will receive between 5 and 11 thousand dollars from the Fund For Boston Schoolyards in addition to money the Menino Administration has set aside for design assistance and capital construction costs. The Fund was established by a group of local foundations to help build strong schoolyard constituencies. Schools will use the money to transform asphalt, concrete, and dirt areas to grass, community gardens, and playgrounds.

The Mayor said, "We are going to once again have schoolyards in this city which look like schoolyards and not parking lots. There will be places for children to toss a football, to plant flowers, and to play on slides and swings. We are going to reclaim schoolyards that have been neglected and turn them back over to children to use for fun and learning."

Superintendent Thomas Payzant added, "Starting almost immediately, students will be actively involved with planning schoolyard projects, working with landscape architects, horticultural experts, engineers, and other professionals. When the work is completed the schoolyards will be settings for science projects, school-to-career opportunities, performances, and other hands-on learning experiences."

The 15 schools are recipients of the Boston Schoolyard Initiative's first round of Organizing and Planning Grants. The Menino Administration has set aside 2 million dollars to pay for design assistance and capital construction costs in this first year of the five-year Initiative. 116 thousand dollars is coming from the Fund for Boston Schoolyards during this first year. Schools which did not receive funding in round one may apply again in round two or in any of the remaining five years of the initiative.

In December 1994, a task force appointed by the Mayor, began meeting to create a public-private partnership for revitalizing Boston's schoolyards. The challenge for members was to develop a program incorporating enhanced educational and recreational opportunities, community concerns, and responsibility for maintenance.

Here is a list of the 15 schools and the amount of money they will each receive during the first year from the Fund for Boston Schoolyards:

Condon Elementary School, South Boston, $10,834
Dearborn Middle School, Roxbury, $9,200
Dorchester High School, Dorchester, $8,750
Haley Elementary School, Roslindale, $7,810

Hennigan Elementary School/Early Learning Center, Jamaica Plain, $5,000

Holland Elementary School, Dorchester, $9,590

Holmes Elementary School, Dorchester, $5,000

Hurley Elementary School, South End, $9,240

Hyde Park High School, Hyde Park, $10,860

O'Donnell Elementary School, East Boston, $5,000

Trotter Elementary School, Roxbury, $10,050

Warren Prescott Elementary School, Charlestown, $5,000

Wilson Middle School, Dorchester, $9,800

Winship Elementary School, Brighton, $5,000

Several of these schools have already started schoolyard improvements with money allocated by the Menino Administration. At the Condon Elementary School in South Boston, planning efforts are under way, looking at the library patio and rear of the building in an effort to convert asphalt and concrete into green space. Dorchester High has started developing a community garden on half an acre of land. Surveys have been distributed to residents near Hyde Park High School to find out what residents would prefer for schoolyard rehabilitation.

Kirk Meyer, Director of the Fund For Boston Schoolyards said, "Foundations interested in public education, urban open space, and community development see this initiative as a way to create ties between schools and neighborhoods. Schoolyards should be centers for active learning and community use."

Boston Public Schools must apply for schoolyard funding. In January the Fund sent out a request for proposals to 65 schools that had responded to the Mayor's call for participation in the program. In February, the Fund received responses from 40 schools interested in making improvements. In March, a selection committee made up of public and private sector representatives met and made funding decisions, choosing 15 schools.

WALK FOR HUNGER

Thousands of Boston-area people will "vote with their feet" in a gigantic effort to alleviate hunger on Sunday, May 5 this year. The 27th annual Walk For Hunger will continue a tradition of effort and care that has seen a sea of people surging through twenty miles of streets in and around Boston since 1969.

Walk For Hunger day is often a gala event for many of the participants as families, school friends, workers from the same job, neighbors and a myriad of others team up for the effort. But the purpose of the Walk For Hunger is as serious as the commitment the many walkers make: To raise funds to alleviate, prevent and end hunger in Massachusetts. That is the ongoing goal of Project Bread which includes the Walk For Hunger in its many efforts in the battle against hunger.

Among the work done by Project Bread is:

- The support of 477 soup kitchens, food pantries, homeless shelters and other emergency feeding programs in 119 Massachusetts communities.
- Operating a FoodSource Hotline that responds to nearly 35,000 calls a year from hungry people struggling to feed their families.
- Delivering over 5 million pounds of donated and low-cost food each year to emergency feeding programs through its Food Drive for the Hungry program.
- Working with concerned individuals and organizations to develop public policies that address hunger, particularly hunger among children.
- Providing technical and management assistance to hundreds of emergency feeding programs to enable them to meet the challenges posed by the hunger crisis in Massachusetts.
- Working with local communities to establish sorely needed food pantries and soup kitchens in underserved areas.
- Creating partnerships with schools, local community organizations and public institutions to provide children with the nutritious food they urgently need to learn and grow.

The Walk For Hunger plays a big role in meeting those diverse obligations. Since it was founded, more than 422,000 walkers have raised nearly $30 million to help the hungry. An even greater number of Massachusetts citizens are Walk For Hunger sponsors, giving generously to encourage and support those who do the walking. For example, in 1995, more than 47,000 people participated as Walkers and volunteers while more than 500,000 people sponsored them to raise nearly $3 million in pledges.

Given these impressive statistics, it probably comes as no surprise to learn that the Walk For Hunger is the nation's largest annual one-day fundraiser to alleviate local hunger. By any measurement, hunger in Massachusetts is a real and all too wide spread of a problem. In these volatile economic times, more than 600,000 people in the state live below the poverty line and face hunger every day.

And the recent recovery has only meant continuing hardship for many; a large proportion of new jobs offer low wages, have few benefits and little or no security.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES GRAND OPENING OF THE BOSTON HOME CENTER

Mayor Thomas Menino, has announced the Grand Opening of the Boston HOME Center. The Boston HOME Center or BHC, was created by the Boston Public Facilities Department (PFD) to simplify the process of buying or maintaining a home.

Mayor Menino said, "I'm pleased that the City of Boston has taken such an active role in helping the people of Boston get a head start on buying a home. Initiatives like the HOME Center, and all of the services and support they provide, are putting the dream of home ownership within the reach of many hardworking individuals and families in Boston. This is important, because their future success and prosperity are the success and prosperity of our neighborhoods and entire city."

The Boston HOME Center provides information on real estate and financial programs and services available to assist home buyers and homeowners in Boston. Residents and would-be residents of Boston can now go to one location to find everything needed to purchase or maintain a home within Boston. Counselors will be able to identify what programs and services are available and what steps need to be taken to access those programs and services.

PFD Director Charles Grigsby said, "The Boston HOME Center is a much needed resource for home buyers and home owners. It has information on over 100 programs and services for homebuyers and homeowners from both the public and private sector."

The hours of operation for the Boston HOME Center will be Mondays and Wednesdays, 9 a.m. - 7 p.m.; and Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, from 9 a.m. - 6 p.m.

The Boston HOME Center is staffed and supported full time by the education and counseling unit of PFD's Home Owner Services Division. Customers will be assisted by a knowledgeable program manager. English and Spanish speaking staff are available.

The Boston HOME Center can be accessed by walk ins or by calling the number 635-HOME. Program marketing materials on Home Buyer/Owner Programs will be available at the site and/or can be mailed.

MAYOR MENINO ANNOUNCES NORMANDY STREET PROJECT

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has kicked off a major project that will level and clean the eight acres of land at 42-60 Normandy Street in Dorchester which is known for long standing gang loitering, drug dealing and illegal dumping problems. Mayor Menino and police officials, following a gang related shooting last fall, asked the Basic Services Team to plan a project improving the landscape of the parcel in a way that would discourage criminal activity. The Basic Services Team coordinated the project in conjunction with the Boston Police, the Massachusetts Army National Guard Counter Drug Office and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Mayor Menino said "The decline of this lot began long ago and some people wondered if anything was ever going to be done to clean up the place. Today, we have a partnership assembled here for getting that job done. As Mayor, I owe it to the people of this neighborhood to work on improving the quality of life here.

This is the start of something great for Normandy Street, a success story that I would like to see duplicated around Boston."

The Massachusetts Army National Guard 101st Engineers Battalion, under the Guard's Counter Drug Office, which was empowered in 1989 to assist law enforcement agencies with counter drug activities, will use two "D7F" bulldozers to level the entire lot; however, some trees will be left standing. City crews will clean the wall marked with the gang's graffiti, eliminating a significant symbol of the gang territory. Tons of building materials, car parts, appliances and household trash on the property will be removed. Improved lighting and a white picket fence will be installed at the Normandy Street end of the property. The project will enhance the visibility of the lot for police.

Police Commissioner Paul Evans said, "Cleaning up this lot will not only make it easier for our patrols to observe activity here, but make it possible to plan a more productive use of the property by the community. Both of these end results embody the objective of our neighborhood policing theory."

While planning the project, it was determined that equipment heavier than anything owned by the city would be required to accomplish the job properly; the Boston Police and Project Pride then asked the National Guard for help. Several tasks including the creation of a staging area, the removal of the gang's "furniture" and two "sneaker trees," used to mark the gang's territory, were completed by the Team in preparation for the National Guard's work.

The project will cover 358,500 square feet of land, extending from Normandy Street to a parcel bordering Columbia Road. The Department of Housing and Urban Development owns about 38,500 square feet of the land abutting Normandy Street where the gang sneaker trees once stood. The City owns the remaining land in back of the HUD property. Last fall, HUD notified the City that the Normandy Street lot was in their real estate portfolio and joined the City in developing an improvement plan for the property.

"We are pleased to join the City of Boston in this effort to reduce and prevent crime. As head of the HUD Boston Office, I am wedded to the principle of working in partnership with local government to help eradicate problems that destabilize neighborhoods. By cleaning up and fencing this property, we eliminate a location convenient for drug dealers and others to commit their crimes," said Mary Lou Crane, the Regional Director for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. "HUD is concerned not only about housing, but about the quality of life in the neighborhoods where housing is located."

The project will take about thirty days to complete. The work will open the property up and provide greater visibility from the street, eliminating a breeding area for illegal activity. Any future use of the property will be determined through a community process.

GRAND OPENING OF BOSTON HOME CENTER

Remarks of

Mayor Thomas M. Menino

March 28, 1996.

Since I became Mayor, one of the things I have been trying to build is a sense of pride throughout our neighborhoods. And we're doing this in many ways — by delivering city services better than ever before, improving our schools, fixing up our parks and playgrounds and encouraging people to call Boston home — whether it's Charlestown or Roxbury, Brighton or Mattapan, or any of our great neighborhoods.

Today marks the grand opening of the Boston HOME Center — a one-stop shop to make programs and other information about buying and maintaining a home in Boston more accessible. Purchasing a home can be one of the more challenging events in someone's life — it can be a maze of information and paperwork.

Well, the chase for information is over — it's all right here. If you are a prospective homebuyer, counselors will be here to work with you, to identify your needs, put you in touch with the right bank and help you to get your piece of the American dream. Through them, the HOME Center will help the good, hardworking people of Boston buy homes in our neighborhoods. I'm talking about things like:

- Buyer Education Programs — like "Home Buyer 101"; and
- Financial Assistance Programs — such as the "Boston Home Certificate" program; and
- Homeowners Programs — like the "Homeworks Program" and;
- A new comprehensive "graduate course" starting next month called "Homeowner 101" — available to any interested homeowner in Boston.

All of these programs and the opening of the HOME Center coincide with some of the other efforts we are undertaking around the city — such as the encouragement of owner-occupied rental property, or the legislation I enacted to hold landlords accountable for what happens in their buildings, or the initiative I launched last fall to sell vacant lots to those neighbors who have spent years maintaining them and keeping them clean. All of these initiatives are helping to build a better Boston.

Building and owning homes is good for our local economy, too. In 1995, through the Public Facilities Department, the City of Boston completed 23 housing projects in our neighborhoods — all of which are fully occupied. These projects represent 547 units of housing at an investment of nearly 45 million dollars. In the process, they created 236 construction jobs. This is what our future is all about — investments, homes and jobs — all for Boston residents.

I'm pleased that the City of Boston has taken such an active role in helping the people of Boston get a head start on buying a home. Initiatives like the HOME Center, and all of these services and support they provide, are putting the dream of homeownership within the reach of many hardworking individuals and families in Boston. This is important, because their future success and prosperity are the success and prosperity of our neighborhoods and our entire city.

NORMANDY STREET CLEAN-UP

Remarks of

Mayor Thomas M. Menino

April 1, 1996.

For gang members, a "gang-tree" is a symbol of their brutal cowardice — of the evil that they do. For hardworking, law-abiding people — it is a symbol of fear. Just a few weeks ago, a "gang tree" stood on this very spot. But to begin the official comeback of this neighborhood, the first thing we did here was take the "gang tree" down.

Partnerships — between the public and private sector — are helping to build, and rebuild, our neighborhoods and our downtown. And that's what we're seeing right here on Normandy Street. Last fall, Project Pride and the Anti-Gang Unit of the Boston Police Department, asked the National Guard for their assistance in cleaning up this lot. The Guard agreed to provide the heavy equipment that we would need and now, five months later, we're ready to go.

The decline of this lot began some time ago. First it was the neglect, then the garbage and the debris, and then the drug dealers and the gangs. Some people wondered how the lot could get so bad in the first place, or they wondered if anything was ever going to be done to clean the place up.

This gathering today, of neighborhood people, police officers, members of the National Guard and a wide range of departments from City Hall, means that the days of neglect and crime are over.

This is a great neighborhood, and a lot of hardworking people live here and are raising their families here. As Mayor, I owe it to them to provide the best possible place for them to do that — to give them the quality of life that they need and deserve. We want kids to be able to play here, and we want our cherished seniors to be able to take a walk around here. That's what a neighborhood is all about. It's not just houses and buildings, it's homes and local businesses. It's about neighbors and friends helping each other and looking out for one another.

It's that neighborhood feeling which has made this day and this clean-up possible. This is the start of a great thing for Normandy Street — a success story that I would like to see duplicated around Boston. I want to thank the neighbors, the National Guard, Project Pride and everyone involved for working with us on this clean-up. I look forward to watching your progress in the weeks and months ahead.

Thank you.

ICELANDAIR BEGINS NON-STOP SERVICE TO BOSTON

Mayor Thomas M. Menino greeted Iceland Prime Minister David Oddsson, April 1, as the Prime Minister stepped off Icelandair's inaugural non-stop flight to Boston at Logan Airport.

The Mayor spoke to dignitaries at International Terminal E, "It is my pleasure to witness the arrival of the first Icelandair flight into Boston. I see this as a giant step that will benefit the cultural atmosphere of our city and the great country of Iceland. This direct flight will be beneficial to local economies because the increased line of transportation will foster new relationships and increase the exchange of ideas which are critical to success in the world of business."

Following a ribbon cutting ceremony, Mayor Menino presented the Prime Minister with a Paul Revere bowl as a welcoming gift.

Traveling with the Prime Minister were his wife, Astridur Thorarensen, Einar Benediktsson, Ambassador of Iceland to the United States and Canada, and other dignitaries, including, Halldor Blondal, Minister of Transportation of Iceland.

CONTRACTS AMENDED

The Mayor has approved the amending of contracts, based on the following information:

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Textbooks

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On April 26, 1994, your Honor approved the award of contracts without public advertising for bids for certain vendors to supply textbooks and educational materials for the Boston Public Schools for the period July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1997.

On September 26, 1995, your Honor approved an amendment to the original award letter. Your approval is now requested to further amend that award letter to include a contract with the following vendor:

M0541695, Rosen Publishing, D/B/A Action Publishing Company, 175 Fifth Avenue, Suite 2791, New York, NY 10010.

A contract will be awarded to this vendor pursuant to the authority of M.G.L. c. 30B, s. 7, for a period not to exceed that of the original award.

Under the terms of these contracts, vendors will provide books and educational materials directly related to the curriculum as may be requested from time to time by a designated representative of the Boston Public Schools. Because these materials are unique to a particular publisher, I have determined that only one practicable source exists.

Although this request is through June 30, 1997, not all contracts may be executed for the full term. Due to the indeterminate needs of the Department some of the contracts may be executed for a period less than the full term based on when and for what length of time the materials are expected to be requisitioned and purchased.

Under these contracts the cost of each item will not exceed standard catalog prices in effect at the time of purchase. The amount for each vendor will not exceed $150,000 per year. This amendment will not increase the total amount awarded for the vendor listed here and on the original letter of award for the three-year term. The amount of each contract is only an estimate based upon anticipated needs. The Auditor may certify an appropriation in an amount less than the face amount of each contract hereunder pursuant to the Standard Contract General Conditions, Articles 12.3 and 12.4.

This amendment is necessary because the Business Office has received requests from schools in amounts requiring contract agreement with this vendor. These requests were unanticipated at the time the original award was requested.

These contracts may encompass more than one fiscal year. Therefore, the School Department's financial obligation under these contracts are subject to the availability of an appropriation in each fiscal year in accordance with the requirements of City of Boston Code, St. 4, ss. 4 & 8.

Very truly yours,

Thomas W. Payzant,
Superintendent.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Staff Analyst

C. 3753-96
October 26, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On June 27, 1995, your Honor approved the award of a contract to Vincent Vina, an individual residing at 1086 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, MA 02115, for the provision of services as a Staff Analyst to the Treasury Department during the period of July 1, 1995, through September 30, 1995, at a cost not to exceed $9,308. This contract, an individual employment contract, is exempt from the provision of G.L. c. 30B, and was awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract in two respects: first, to extend Mr. Vina's current ninety-day contract through the end of the current fiscal year, which will require an increase of $28,066 in the contract amount in order to compensate Mr. Vina through June 30, 1996; and second, to enumerate the specific responsibilities that Mr. Vina will be required to fulfill in his capacity as Staff Analyst. The contract, as amended, shall not exceed $37,374.

This amendment is being submitted late due to the need to reconsider the scope of Mr. Vina's job responsibilities following an evaluation of staffing needs in the Treasury Department. Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, and Mr. Vina's experience assisting with the City's finance transactions, it is my determination that no public purpose would be served by further advertisement.

Very truly yours,
John C. Simmons, Collector-Treasurer &
Chief Financial Officer.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without advertising, based on the following communications:

COMMUNITY CENTERS

Support Services

C. 1399-96
August 7, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the Economic Development and Industrial Corporation of Boston (EDIC), a body corporate and politic created pursuant to Chapter 1097 of the Acts of 1971 of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, located at 43 Hawkins Street, Boston, MA 02114. Under the terms of the contract, EDIC will provide programmatic and administrative support services in support of the City's Alternative Education Initiative (AEI). This contract is exempt from the provision of G.L. c. 30B as it is an agreement between agencies of the City of Boston.

EDIC was selected as the staff of the Jobs and Community Services (JCS) Department, formerly the Mayor's Office of Jobs & Community Services, has provided these services for the previous nine (9) years. EDIC/JCS staff will continue to fund and monitor community-based, nonprofit organizations offering programs which target out-of-school youths, in collaboration with Boston Community Centers.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $31,500, payment being made from funds set aside for the Alternative Education Initiative (AEI). The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1995, until June 30, 1996. This request has been delayed due to the late determination of funding availability.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, solely to establish a mechanism for payment to EDIC, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful or practical purpose.

Sincerely,
Evelyn Riesenberg,
Executive Director.

Tenant Empowerment, etc.

C. 1346-96
August 1, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to the Committee for Boston Public Housing, Inc., a nonprofit corporation located at 100 Terrace Street, Suite B, Roxbury, MA 02120, for tenant empowerment, education, employment and training and daycare services. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B because it is a grant agreement with a nonprofit corporation and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, the Committee for Boston Public Housing Inc. (hereinafter referred to as the Committee) will continue to work with public tenant task forces in eleven neighborhood family developments in the areas of tenant empowerment and service delivery advocacy.

Activities will include:

1. Developing and maintaining child care resources with parent involvement, including the Washington-Beech Community Daycare Center and early childhood care and education programs at Orient Heights, Faneuil, Franklin Hill, Orchard Park, Gallivan, and Whittier Street. This is and will continue to be the single most important task on the project's agenda, and it will continue to command the largest portion of staff time and involvement at the local and central office levels.
2. Improving tenants' access to and involvement with social and community services through increased collaboration with public and voluntary agencies. The project will continue to help tenants foster working relationships with agencies close to their developments, and with larger institutions which can provide resources for their developments.

It will also continue to generate increased collaboration among agencies and institutions so that they can better understand and respond to children and family needs in public housing.

3. Securing adequate program space as a prerequisite to program development including continued work on renovation of city-owned recreation centers at Gallivan and Archdale; redevelopment planning at Orient Heights and Cathedral; and negotiating space use arrangements with public and/or private agencies located in and adjacent to Orchard Park.

These activities are a continuation of the Committee's efforts to enhance the quality of life of public housing tenants in Boston that have been supported by grants awarded by the Bernard van Leer Foundation, the Boston Foundation, the City of Boston, and the Massachusetts Department of Social Services, among other funding sources.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $115,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of the contract shall be September 15, 1995, to June 30, 1996.

The Committee was established through a consortium of tenant associations, government agencies, and human service organizations to assure that the needs of public housing tenants living in Boston were addressed. Since the Committee is receiving funds from other private and public sources as well for this same purpose, and the City's contribution is viewed as a required "cash match" in order to secure these funds, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,
Evelyn Riesenberg,
Executive Director.

Camp Joy

C. 1334-96

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Mr. Edmund Nazzaro, an individual located at 29 Spencer Avenue, Saugus, MA 01906, for the position of Administrator/Consultant to Camp Joy. As an employment contract this contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract Mr. Nazzaro will, under the supervision of the Unit Manager, Child Care, perform administrative and consultative services for the Camp Joy program, as specified in the attached personal service contract agreement.

In regards to your Executive Order of January 19, 1995, relative to individual employment agreements and Boston residency, I respectfully submit the following. For over a decade Messrs. Nazzaro, Younis and Gately have served as Co-Directors of the program. Mr. Gately, recently deceased, was the only Boston resident. All three were full-time educators who ran this program on a part-time contractual basis. All three served as a team and by virtue of their education, skills and longtime association with Camp Joy, were able to successfully operate and expand this highly complex and sophisticated program.

As part of my evaluation of the Department I determined that it best served departmental and programmatic needs for Camp Joy to come under the control of a full-time Program Manager. This manager would be subject to the requirements of the Residency Policy. This contract is transitional. It will be in effect for six months rather than the customary twelve. Mr. Nazzaro's and Mr. Younis' responsibilities will include the administration of the summer program and consultation with the Department on the future direction of the program and the training of the new Program Manager.

This contract submission was delayed due to the complex negotiations necessary to effect the transition of the administration of the Camp Joy program from two part-time co-directors to one full-time program manager. Much detailed administrative and programmatic planning was required in bringing this negotiation process to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Nazzaro is uniquely qualified in therapeutic recreation. For the past 25 years, he has served in various capacities in the special needs program. It is due to his efforts, as well as other Camp Joy staff, that the program enjoys an excellent national reputation. Mr. Nazzaro has also used his expertise to obtain additional grant monies for the program, which has enabled this department to expand services.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $14,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, to December 31, 1995. The hourly rate will be $35, for a total of 400 hours for the term of the contract.

Because of Mr. Nazzaro's professional knowledge of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. I therefore, respectfully request that your permission be forthcoming to enter into this contract.

Respectfully yours,
Evelyn Riesenber,
Executive Director.

C. 1335-96

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Mr. Thomas Younis, an individual located at 575 Washington Street, Brookline, MA 02146, for the position of Administrator/Consultant of Camp Joy. As an employment contract this contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L.c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract Mr. Younis will, under the supervision of the Unit Manager, Child Care, perform administrative and consultative services for the Camp Joy program, as specified in the attached personal service contract agreement.

In regards to your Executive Order of January 19, 1995, relative to individual employment agreements and Boston residency, I respectfully submit the following. For over a decade Messrs. Nazzaro, Younis and Gately have served as Co-Directors of the program. Mr. Gately, recently deceased, was the only Boston resident. All three were full-time educators who ran this program on a part-time contractual basis. All three served as a team and by virtue of their education, skills and longtime association with Camp Joy, were able to successfully operate and expand this highly complex and sophisticated program.

As part of my evaluation of the Department I determined that it best served departmental and programmatic needs for Camp Joy to come under the control of a full-time Program Manager. This manager would be subject to the requirements of the Residency Policy. This contract is transitional. It will be in effect for six months rather than the customary twelve. Mr. Nazzaro's and Mr. Younis' responsibilities will include the administration of the summer program and consultation with the Department on the future direction of the program and the training of the new Program Manager.

The contract submission was delayed due to the complex negotiations necessary to effect the transition of the administration of the Camp Joy program from two part-time co-directors to one full-time program manager. Much detailed administrative and programmatic planning was required in bringing this negotiation process to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Younis is uniquely qualified in both experience and education in therapeutic recreation. He has been engaged in this program's activities over the past twenty-four years and has proven himself to be a dedicated and tireless worker. It is our opinion that it is due to his efforts, as well as other program staff, that our special needs program has gained a national reputation for excellence.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $14,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, to December 31, 1995. The hourly rate will be $35, for a total of 400 hours for the term of the contract.

Because of Mr. Younis's professional knowledge of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. I therefore, respectfully request that your permission be forthcoming to enter into this contract.

Respectfully yours,
Evelyn Riesenber,
Executive Director.

Whereas, These "Urban Wilds" have long been neglected, and, failure to fund the referenced programs in a timely fashion would not only deprive citizens of important environmental and recreational assets, but would also put at risk prior public expenditures in that major portions of the sites presently lack public access and/or required facilities, and

Whereas, The committee must shortly resolve differences in the legislation, and

Whereas, The improvements to be funded would benefit not only the citizens of Boston neighborhoods adjacent to the Charles River, Neponset River, Stony Brook Reservation and Dorchester Harbor, but also visitors to the city from within the Commonwealth and residents of the several municipalities bordering these natural open areas, and

MAYOR RELEASES RECOMMENDED BUDGET FOR FY 97

Education, Public Safety Dominate Funding Agenda. "Doing Things Smarter" Through Continuous Review of City Operations.

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has submitted his Recommended Budget for the Fiscal Year beginning July 1, 1996, to the City Council, his third balanced budget submission. The total Operating Budget of $1.347 billion represents a 4.7 percent increase ($60 million) over the current year, after making an adjustment for hospital revenues which are expected to be routed through a separate, independent authority.

Mayor Menino said, "I have turned city government inside-out to achieve greater service performance and control spending. Steady progress has been made on my Administration's top priorities — educational reform, reducing the fear of crime, economic opportunity — to improve the quality of life for our residents and attract visitors to the City of Boston. This has been accomplished within our means, through partnerships in the communities and with businesses, and through better, smarter management."

New Boston Public Health Commission

The budget document contains the recommended funding level for a new Public Health Commission, to succeed the current Department of Health & Hospitals which runs Boston City Hospital (BCH) as well as Boston Specialty and Rehabilitation Hospital in Mattapan, the City's public health programs and ambulance services.

The Public Health Commission requires $60.89 million in City funding next year to subsidize the hospital operations and maintain public health programs at current levels, an increase of approximately $4.7 million. It is expected that the Public Health Commission, as an independent authority, will be able to institute efficiencies in procurement and other operations to improve the financial health of BCH and BSRH in the competitive hospital industry. Both hospitals are suffering from declining admissions and high costs. The City's funding of the authority ensures that services such as primary care funding of neighborhood health centers, maternal and child health, substance abuse, and other clinical programs will be provided at the same level as this year. Ambulance services, which added shifts to reduce response times in the last year, is also funded through the Public Health Commission. The Mayor will be submitting separate legislation to implement the independent authority.

Continuous Review: Nine-Point Action Plan

The Mayor's challenge to every department to review its operations led to a nine-point Action Plan to ensure the success of proposed innovations and ongoing creativity in city government.

1. Continuous review of operations and business practices. This will be a year-round discussion point for the cabinets.

2. Managed Reduction. A task force will review opportunities for redirecting personnel resources.

3. External Funds: A special working group will systematically inventory current funding arrangements, potential service collaborations, and shifts in available levels and sources of funding outside of the City budget.

4. Early retirement incentive: legislation to implement an offer to non-public safety city employees will be forthcoming, as an expedient and cost-saving means of reducing headcount and controlling filling of positions.

5. Initiatives milestones: the Mayor will receive constant status reports on funded initiatives and new ideas under development, to hold departments accountable for results.

6. Performance Unit Costing: a useful unit costing methodology to related service outcomes and costs is under development.

7. Productivity Investment Fund: the Mayor has submitted a Home Rule petition to the City Council to establish a mechanism to create "loans" to departments for cost-saving ideas that are difficult to fund on an annual budget basis, to account for long-range benefits.

8. Cabinet structure: the cabinet will continue to focus on cross-departmental strategies; some functions have been regrouped to promote better coordination.

9. Two-year budget: the City budget presents a two-year planning horizon to reflect the impact of current decisions on future funding levels.

Service Highlights and New Program Initiatives in FY97

Two-thirds of the increase in the Recommended Budget ($40.4 million

FY 97 Budget . . .

of $60 million increase) will go to the School Department, Police Department, and Fire Department.

The School Department appropriation increases 5.3% or $23.8 million over current budget. Enrollment increases, accreditation, and curriculum development account for the additional funding required. The Superintendent's reorganization and school-by-school staffing analysis are expected to yield savings within this budget plan.

The Police Department's budget will grow by 7.6% or $11.8 million next year. A total of 160 new officers hired between now and June 30th will hit the streets, at a cost of $6 million, and 50 additional police recruits are funded in the Mayor's Recommended Budget. The New Police Headquarters is scheduled to open next year, and funding for the Jamaica Plain Area Station is included in this budget. The focus in the next fiscal year will be on increasing the time officers spend on the streets, through continued improvements in crime-fighting technology, and expanded use of civilians in administrative areas.

The Fire Department budget for FY97 contains over $3 million in funding for three classes of firefighters to make up for attrition in staffing. The City will be purchasing new breathing apparatus to update devices that have not been replaced in nearly 20 years, to ensure that firefighters are protected with state-of-the-art life-saving equipment. Overall, the Fire Department budget will increase 5.2% or $4.8 million.

Other Service Highlights in the Neighborhoods

- Mattapan Branch Library additional hours

HOSPITAL MERGER ANNOUNCEMENT

Remarks of Mayor Thomas M.
Menino, April 10, 1996

I'm joined by Jack Valentine, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of University Hospital, to announce that after months of hard work, Boston City Hospital and University Hospital will have a full asset merger into a single hospital, which will be a 501c3 corporation. For the moment this merged institution is being called "Boston Medical Center."

This merger makes good sense for the City, and I'll tell you why:

- I pledged to maintain the historic mission of BCH to serve the uninsured and underinsured of Boston. The merger creates a financially viable institution that will do that;
- I pledged to keep the "public" in public health and this merger will do that by keeping all the public health programs in the Public Health Commission;
- I pledged to protect as many jobs as possible, and this merger, when compared to all the other scenarios we studied, will do that. In addition, the reduction in force will be done by the (1) early retirement incentive program; (2) normal attrition at both hospitals and (3) lastly, by lay offs.
- I pledged to exercise financial responsibility with respect to city hospital. Closing BCH was not an option; nor was I willing to walk away from public health; nor was I willing to allow BCH to sink to an irresponsible financial condition. This merger bucks the national trend in cities, and ensures that there will be a quality hospital in Boston with a public mission.
- And most importantly, this hospital will work in tandem with the 8 community health centers which have created the Boston Healthnet. This healthcare system will be a national model because it will truly be community based and driven through our community health center partners.

All my advisors studied the numbers and debated the merits of each case, but I looked behind the numbers and statistics to the people who will be affected by this decision. I would like to spend a moment and talk about the people.

First, and foremost, I believe that it is the responsibility of government and my Administration to provide quality health care for residents, regardless of their ability to pay. I said in my State of the City address earlier this year that the safety net for the people of Boston will stand, and this merger is, in part, what I meant.

The poor, the homeless, children, immigrants and the uninsured will not go without appropriate health care in this City while I'm Mayor. This provision of health care does not directly affect all our residents, but it affects the most vulnerable and it is the responsibility of ALL of us to make sure it is delivered.

Second, the health care providers who work at BCH and provide the care and nurturing to patients must be protected to the best of our ability. The health care and hospital business is a very volatile marketplace, but these workers have families, mortgages, rent payments, car payments, and kids to educate and feed, and I will not be the Mayor who turns his back on loyal, hard working people. I did not create the crisis in health care, nor the glut in hospital space, nor the managed care systems, but I want to protect our workers, to the best extent possible.

We will make every effort to minimize lay offs, but every hospital institution in Boston is laying off health workers because the volume of patients is declining. During this upcoming period of time, the workers who will be successful in maintaining their jobs will be flexible, creative and cooperative.

And third, the "public" will stay in public health. The dedicated people who work in public health programs will remain in the Public Health Commission. I will not shirk our responsibility for the public side to remain in the forefront in the fight against AIDS, to educate our youth about the dangers of drugs, alcohol and tobacco, to ensure the health and well being of the next generation with pre and post natal care and family development. We will continue to protect the public health and safety in our regulatory functions.

The merger is about these people and many more. I believe that the merger, when compared to all the other options, is the best that we can do for the greatest number of people. And the system that will be created — the Boston Healthnet — will be the one that truly represents a sustained commitment to the health care of our city's poor.

WALK FOR HUNGER

Thousands of Boston-area people will "vote with their feet" in a gigantic effort to alleviate hunger on Sunday, May 5 this year. The 27th annual Walk For Hunger will continue a tradition of effort and care that has seen a sea of people surging through twenty miles of streets in and around Boston since 1969.

Walk For Hunger day is often a gala event for many of the participants as families, school friends, workers from the same job, neighbors and a myriad of others team up for the effort. But the purpose of the Walk For Hunger is as serious as the commitment the many walkers make: To raise funds to alleviate, prevent and end hunger in Massachusetts. That is the ongoing goal of Project Bread which includes the Walk For Hunger in its many efforts in the battle against hunger.

Among the work done by Project Bread is:

- The support of 477 soup kitchens, food pantries, homeless shelters and other emergency feeding programs in 119 Massachusetts communities.
- Operating a FoodSource Hotline that responds to nearly 35,000 calls a year from hungry people struggling to feed their families.
- Delivering over 5 million pounds of donated and low-cost food each year to emergency feeding programs through its Food Drive for the Hungry program.
- Working with concerned individuals and organizations to develop public policies that address hunger, particularly hunger among children.
- Providing technical and management assistance to hundreds of emergency feeding programs to enable them to meet the challenges posed by the hunger crisis in Massachusetts.
- Working with local communities to establish sorely needed food pantries and soup kitchens in underserved areas.
- Creating partnerships with schools, local community organizations and public institutions to provide children with the nutritious food they urgently need to learn and grow.

The Walk For Hunger plays a big role in meeting those diverse obligations. Since it was founded, more than 422,000 walkers have raised nearly $30 million to help the hungry. An even greater number of Massachusetts citizens are Walk For Hunger sponsors, giving generously to encourage and support those who do the walking. For example, in 1995, more than 47,000 people participated as Walkers and volunteers while more than 500,000 people sponsored them to raise nearly $3 million in pledges.

Given these impressive statistics, it probably comes as no surprise to learn that the Walk For Hunger is the nation's largest annual one-day fundraiser to alleviate local hunger. By any measurement, hunger in Massachusetts is a real and all too wide spread of a problem. In these volatile economic times, more than 600,000 people in the state live below the poverty line and face hunger every day.

And the recent recovery has only meant continuing hardship for many: a large proportion of new jobs offer low wages, have few benefits and little or no security.

Tale A Hike For Hunger...It's Easy!!

To participate in the Walk For Hunger is easy. Just put on some comfortable walking shoes and go to Boston Common (where the walk starts and ends) on the morning of Sunday, May 5, 1996. Registration at Boston Common will be open between 7 and 9 a.m., but you also can register at the checkpoints.

Transportation on the T to Boston Common will be free between 6 and 9 a.m. Just show your "walking papers" (pledge sheet) when you board the train.

You may walk as much or as little as you wish; plenty of free buses will be available to shuttle you back to the finish line from each checkpoint. There will be plenty of toilets, first aid and mileage checkers at every checkpoint. In addition, there will be entertainment and music at 20 locations enroute as well as free snacks and drinks at checkpoint 5.

Sue Donohoe, 83, a Cambridge resident, is all smiles after being named "Employee of the Century" by the United Way of Massachusetts Bay. Donohoe was honored at a reception by her co-workers for her 60 years of dedicated service to United Way.

EMPLOYEE OF THE CENTURY

Local woman celebrates 60 years of service with United Way

Sue Donohoe has always felt right at home while working at the United Way of Massachusetts Bay.

"The United Way has been a major part of my life," said Donohoe, 83, and a Cambridge resident. "I've been working here for so long I consider it my second home. It's where I'm comfortable and where I belong."

On March 15, 1996, Donohoe celebrated her 60th anniversary as an employee with the United Way of Massachusetts Bay (UWMB). She arrived here one year after the UWMB first opened its doors in 1935, and remains an official eyewitness of the United Way's successful role in the community during the last six decades.

In today's environment of rapid change and turnover in the job market, including company mergers and downsizing, Donohoe's 60 years of employment is truly remarkable. Her achievement is best suited for display in a workplace Hall of Fame, along with the Cal Ripkins of the world.

"Sue Donohoe is a living legend at our United Way," said Marian L. Heard, president and chief executive officer of the UWMB. "She is a special woman who believes in working hard and giving that extra effort. Her loyalty, dedication and commitment to our organization is cherished to the highest degree."

Donohoe first reported to work for the Greater Boston Community Fund (now the UWMB) on March 15, 1936. She began her career as a clerk in the Campaign Department, earning $12 a week. The office was located on 80 Federal St., today the home of the Bank of Boston (currently one of UWMB's largest supporters).

In that year, the Greater Boston Community Fund raised $4.5 million. Today, the UWMB raises more than $40 million a year and serves nearly 200 health and human care agencies in 81 eastern Massachusetts cities and towns.

"The job was supposed to be for six months and it lasted 60 years," laughed Donohoe, blessed with a delightful personality and a heart of gold. "I still can't believe it."

When she turned 65 years old, Donohoe actually retired from the United Way. Nine months later, much to her surprise and excitement, she was asked back to work. She has been with the United Way ever since.

"I was very happy to receive that telephone call," said Donohoe. "I love to work in a busy environment and be around people. Working at the United Way is the perfect place for me."

Looking back, Donohoe is amazed how technology has made her job easier. "Years ago, we had to type all the pledge cards and statements going out," said Donohoe, who now works part time as a Securities Specialist in United Way's Finance Department. "The computer has really improved the process of getting things done."

Donohoe has established a reputation of being a meticulous and conscientious employee. "Sue's a perfectionist," said co-worker Dot Driscoll, who is second to Donohoe on United Way's seniority list with 38 years of service. "Every job she does has to be done right."

Asked how long she plans on working at the United Way, Sue Donohoe smiled and shrugged her shoulders. "I guess for as long as I can," she said. "I still enjoy what I'm doing and the people I work with are marvelous. We're like a family."

Poet's Corner

"YEARNING"

Yearning is a word that I know by heart
'Cause I've been yearning for you, ever since we had to part
As I travel through this land, with restlessness on my mind
Yearnings for you which are all I can find

If I search and search my whole life through
The only happiness I will find, is the happiness I find with you
And as time goes by, and I grow older
The only thing I yearn for is your head on my shoulder

I yearn for you to be with me, holding tight to my arm
So I can hold and protect you, and keep you from harm
The feelings I feel just have to be true
You're constantly on my mind, my heart yearns to be with you

One day we'll be together, it will be so much fun
We'll walk through this world together, you and I together as one
But until that day, my dreams will only be
Of the one I yearn for, I yearn for thee

CITY OF BOSTON AND BOSTON UNIVERSITY
MEDICAL CENTER HOSPITAL REACH AGREEMENT ON PLAN FOR MERGER

Plan Protects Public Health Mission in Fiscally Viable New Institution

Mayor Thomas Menino and John H. Valentine, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Boston University Medical Center Hospital, announced that their negotiating teams have reached agreement on key terms for the merger of BCH and BUMCH. The terms define an organizational structure which will protect BCH's public mission and maintain public accountability over the city's public health programs. The agreement also includes a financial plan for the new entity anchored by commitments from the City, BUMCH and Boston University School of Medicine. Pending approval by the City Council and the BUMCH Board of Trustees and Overseers, the merger is scheduled to take effect on July 1, 1996.

At a City Hall press conference, Mayor Menino praised the commitment of the many parties involved in the merger. "Specifically, I want to thank Peter Nessen for his tireless work on behalf of the City in these negotiations." The Mayor continued, "This agreement is very good for Boston — it is the absolute best opportunity our City has to preserve BCH's public mission. At a time when other cities in the country are being forced to abandon the poor, this merger will allow Boston to continue our commitment to the thousands of indigent patients served yearly by BCH. In addition, the agreement also saves the greatest number of jobs and protects the city financially.

The City of Boston was presented with four options regarding the future of BCH ranging from continuing the status quo which would cost the city an average of $25 million annually to closing BCH at a cost of $17 million — which would be in addition to the loss of both jobs and the public health mission. The Mayor summarized by saying, "Of the four options available, supporting the merger not only protects the BCH mission and preserves the greatest number of jobs but also represents the lowest cost option for the City of Boston.

"We have an historic opportunity to create a national model which brings the best care to all our citizens, regardless of their ability to pay." The Mayor added, "I look forward to working with the City Council to get this done for the people of Boston and the region."

Equally enthusiastic about the agreement, Mr. Valentine said, "BUMCH looks forward to working with the city to make the Mayor's vision a reality. These two institutions have proud and distinguished medical traditions, and I believe we are creating a unique world class urban health care system which will contribute greatly to the quality of life for all our patients. We look forward to July 1st."

The new merger will also have an integral role in the mission of the BU School of Medicine. The School's dean, Dr. Aram Chobanian said, "Our relationship with BCH and BUMCH is of enormous importance in attracting the world class medical talent that has made BU Medical School one of the top ten medical schools in the country. We are actively supportive of this merger because of the contribution the new entity makes not only to its patients and to urban medicine nationally but also to the training mission of tomorrow's most promising physicians."

Elaine Ullian, President and CEO of Boston University Medical Center Hospital, highlighted the cooperation which has been integral to the merger's negotiations. "I want to thank the Mayor for his vision in bringing us to the table two years ago and his unwavering resolve in making this happen. I also want to thank the medical staff and employees of both institutions, who have stood by us through these many months of negotiations, always focused on delivering the best care. With this agreement we can now move forward to make this a reality by July 1st. I look forward to working with the City Council over the next few weeks to ensure they have all the information they need to make this a reality."

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without advertising, based on the following communications:

HEALTH & HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT

Repair Services

C. 56-96
August 3, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Hausted, a corporation located at 927 Lake Road, Box 710, Medina, OH 44258-0710, for maintenance and repair services. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. Chapter 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Hausted will provide repair and preventative maintenance services to 82 Hausted stretchers and 9 Hausted stretcher chairs located at Boston City Hospital. The vendor will spend 1 day a month at the hospital. Half the time will be spent on repairs and half the time will be spent on preventative maintenance. The cost of this service is $95/hour plus parts. Travel time is based on a portal to portal basis and there is a required minimum of 2 hours per visit.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $10,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

Because Hausted is the manufacturer with trained personnel and available parts, and as the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This contract is being processed late because the Insurance Certificate was not received from the vendor until August 3, 1995.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

C. 99-96

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to MDT Corporation, located at 1777 East Henrietta Road, Rochester, NY 14692, for preventive maintenance and repair services for sterilizers. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract MDT Corporation will provide, during the hours 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., repairs, parts, labor, travel and four (4) preventive maintenance checks per unit per year.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $50,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be September 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

Because MDT Corporation is the manufacturer and has the personnel specially trained to maintain and repair the above equipment, at a cost I consider to be reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Health Care Services

C. 99-96

August 21, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to enter into an agreement between the City of Boston and South Boston Health Center, a non-profit entity, located at 133 Dorchester Street, South Boston, MA 02127, to award a grant to the health center to support its provision of primary health care services.

Under the terms of the agreement, South Boston Health Center will provide basic primary care programs.

South Boston Health Center is uniquely qualified to do this work as part of Boston's network of neighborhood health centers. The Department of Health and Hospitals has had a contract to support health care services at South Boston Health Center for the past 27 years, during which time South Boston Health Center has demonstrated its ability to have a significant impact on the health of the people in Boston's neighborhoods.

I am requesting your permission to dispense with public advertising in awarding this grant, the public purpose of which is to support and stimulate health care services. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

This award is being processed late because the documents necessary to complete this contract were not returned to the Contract Office until August 18, 1995.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $480,485, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Computer Training

C. 76-96

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Digital Equipment Corporation, a corporation located at One Burlington Drive, Burlington, MA 01803, for computer training. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L., Chapter 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract the Department of Health and Hospitals will be enrolled in the Learning Advantage Program EY-ADVTG-L4 offered by Digital Equipment Corporation. This program allows the purchase of all Digital Learning Service products including on-site/exclusive training, walk-in registrations, custom training, self-paced training, multimedia training and Digital Press books. Over 600 courses are offered on various software including Digital, Microsoft and Novell products.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $41,500, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

Digital Equipment Corporation is an authorized Microsoft Trainer and a Novell Certified Trainer. Although other vendors could provide training for Microsoft and Novell software products no trainer other than a Digital trainer can provide training for the Digital product line. In view of the above and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This contract is being processed late because the documents were not received from the vendor until July 25, 1995.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Telephone Support

C. 77-96

August 9, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Cabletron Systems Sales & Service, Inc., a corporation, located at 35 Industrial Way, P.O. Box 5005, Rochester, NH 03866, for telephone support. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L., Chapter 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Cabletron Systems Sales & Service, Inc. will provide telephone support, replacement parts and software upgrades to the hardware and software of the LANCap Plus system located in the Office of Technology Services (OTS) at Boston City Hospital. The contract will provide twenty-four (24) hour, seven (7) day per week coverage with a two (2) hour response time at a cost not to exceed $47,169.01. In addition $4,000 is being added for on-site service if the OTS technicians are unable to repair the equipment themselves.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $51,169.01, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995 through June 30, 1996.

Because Cabletron Systems Sales and Service, Inc. is the manufacturer of the hardware and the proprietary software and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This contract is being processed late because the documents were not received from the vendor until August 9, 1995.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Cribs, etc.

C. 602-96

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Hard Manufacturing Co., Inc., 230 Grider Street, Buffalo, NY 14215-3707 for the provision of cribs and accessories to Boston City Hospital. This contract is exempt from G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract, Hard Manufacturing Co. will provide Boston City Hospital with the following equipment:

1	38 Vinyl side curtains	$10,047.20
2	19 Vinyl top covers	2,565.00
3	4 Chrome Springfield Cribs with Gatch Spring	9,633.00
	Rental credit on above cribs	(1,500.00)
4	2 Chrome Springfield cribs with Gatch Spring including a 3" mattress, 5" casters and vinyl-side and end panels	4,816.50
5	2 Central lock and steer caster system	437.00
	Factory Assembly - 2 cribs	100.00
	Freight - 2 cribs	400.00
		$26,498.70

As a result of a public bid for the new infant facility, Hard Manufacturing Co., Inc. was awarded a contract to provide nineteen cribs to Boston City Hospital at a cost of $52,957.75.

The vinyl side curtains and top covers are to be used on these cribs. In addition, four Hard Manufacturing Co., Inc. cribs are presently being used at Boston City Hospital on a rental basis. The Hospital now has the funds to buy these cribs plus an additional two new cribs.

The side curtains and top covers for all these cribs must come from Hard Manufacturing Co. Additionally, because the cribs currently being purchased are prices less than the original bid price, and because the Hospital wants to standardize and use only one manufacturer's cribs for purposes of upgrades and maintenance, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $26,498.70.

In accordance with Article 3.2 of the City's Purchasing Contract General Conditions the vendor shall furnish at the price or prices specified such additional quantities of goods, not to exceed 25 percent of the quantities specified, upon receipt of my written request. The contract period is from September 1, 1995, through February 29, 1996.

Very truly yours,
Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Furniture

C. 607-96
August 16, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to McCarthy Bros., 20 Prince Street, Jamaica Plain, MA 02130. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract McCarthy Bros. will provide Boston City Hospital with the following furniture:

4 ea. Critical Care Bed
#896G53 with mattress	$51,644
14 ea. Patient Mate Jr.
#631 Over Bed Table	6,356
12 ea. Vista/2303
Bed Side Cabinet	5,340
	$63,340

As a result of a public bid in 1994 the Boston City Hospital purchased Hill-Rom furniture from its authorized dealer, McCarthy Bros. to furnish the new Boston City Hospital at a cost of $1,850,685.

The Department wants each patient's room in the new hospital furnished with the same furniture. Hill-Rom is the sole source for this furniture. Hill-Rom sells only through its authorized dealers. McCarthy Bros. is the authorized dealer in this area.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $63,340.

The term of this contract shall be October 1, 1995, through April 30, 1996.

In view of the above and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

In accordance with Article 3.2 of the City's Purchasing Contract General Conditions the vendor shall furnish at the price or prices specified such additional quantities of goods, not to exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the quantities specified upon receipt of my written request.

Very truly yours,
Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT

Books, etc.

C. 1938-96
August 7, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On behalf of the Boston Public Library of the City of Boston, I am respectfully requesting your approval to award a contract without advertising to the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston, a Corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts (see St. 1878, c. 114), for the purchase of books and certain other library bibliographical acquisition materials for the period

September 5, 1995, through June 30, 1996, at a cost not to exceed $2,214,000.

The Library is now requesting that a contract be established between the City of Boston (Official) and the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston (Contractor), in the amount of $2,214,000. This amount is available from the Library approved City Budget (001-110-0110-0390) for the FY-96. The contract will allow the purchase of books and materials from publishers and dealers that can supply the required titles and quantities. In the past, the Library book purchasing operation involved over 3,000 individual book supply companies, and this supply network is still needed.

This contract has been discussed with the Law Department and the City Auditor, and has been agreed to as an acceptable approach to this unique purchasing situation.

In view of the circumstances outlined above, public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

During the prior three fiscal years (Fiscal Years 1993, 1994 and 1995), contracts for the purchase of books and certain other library bibliographical acquisition material were awarded without advertising to the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston in the following amounts: FY95 $2,028,000; FY94 $1,987,656; FY 93 $2,020,000.

With the award of this contract for the period September 5, 1995, through June 30, 1996, the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston will now be able to order books and other library materials from the main supply source and the general needs and interest will be served more efficiently.

Respectfully,
BOARD OF TRUSTEES IN CHARGE OF THE LIBRARY DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

Liam Kelly,
Associate Director.

MANAGEMENT & INFORMATION SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Professional Services

C. 2566-96

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Mary E. Harrington, an individual, located at 180 Beacon Street, Boston, MA 02116-1455, for provision of contracted services to assist the Chief Information Officer in achieving the strategic objectives of the Management and Information Services Department. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B because it is an employment contract and is therefore awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Ms. Harrington will be responsible for reviewing the City of Boston MIS environment, providing tactical support to enhance the MIS infrastructure, and providing operational support at the divisional level.

I have determined after reasonable investigation that Ms. Harrington is uniquely qualified to do this work because of her extensive experience with emphasis in information systems and finance industries, plus state and local government. She is further qualified in project planning and management, marketing, customer service, organizational structure and large systems management.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $80,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be August 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996. This contract will be charged to appropriation code 011-140-0149-M101-0290 with an initial encumbrance of $50,000.

Because of Ms. Harrington's unique knowledge and expertise in this field and costs estimates that far exceed the rate to be paid to Ms. Harrington ($100 per hour) I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Michael T. Hernon,
Chief Information Officer.

PARKS & RECREATION DEPARTMENT

Outreach Services

C. 7095-95

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a grant agreement to The Boston Private Industry Council, 2 Oliver Street, Boston, MA 02109, for the processing of outreach and recruiting services to Boston public school students. Students are selected by PIC Career Specialists located full time at 14 Boston Public High Schools through ongoing outreach and recruitment efforts. These efforts include homework presentations, announcements at assemblies and individual referrals from headmasters, teachers and guidance staff. Students will be drawn from every impacted neighborhood in Boston. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B because it is a Grant Agreement as defined in Section 2 of said General Law.

Under the terms of the Grant Agreement, The Boston Private Industry Council will develop workbooks, recruit students, complete all appropriate enrollment documentation, follow-up and monitor students and workbooks, and maintain records on all program activities in order to provide quality work experiences for youth during a seven-week period. The Boston Private Industry Council will staff the At-Risk Program with Career Specialists who will be responsible for conducting outreach, recruitment and job placement of all enrollees. In addition, job developers will identify workbooks and develop workbook agreements. Priority is given to youth, aged 14 to 21, who reside in at-risk Boston neighborhoods with a high incidence of poverty, crime, violence and unemployment. Documentation will include a complete profile of students enrolled in the At-Risk Program, eligibility requirements, demographic data and statistics on the youth served. Compensation under this grant shall not exceed $250,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this Grant Agreement shall be June 20, 1995, to August 25, 1995.

This Grant Agreement is being submitted late due to the late availability of funding for the Mayor's Coordinated Summer Jobs Program.

Very truly yours,
Patrick S. Harrington,
Commissioner.

POLICE DEPARTMENT
Youth Service Providers Network

C. 1144-95
August 21, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Bridge Over Troubled Waters, Inc. (BOTW), a nonprofit corporation located at 47 West Street, Boston, MA 02111. BOTW will provide essential human needs services to the runaway street population of Boston under the Youth Service Providers Network, the third component of a three-part strategy under the Comprehensive Communities Program (CCP) Grant. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B as it represents a grant agreement with a nonprofit corporation.

Under the terms of this contract, BOTW will provide substance abuse counseling, advocacy/survival aid, medical, educational and residence placement services to the homeless and individuals in crisis between the ages of 11 and 23. A detailed description of the services to be performed is included in the CPP Implementation Plan attached hereto.

The contractor was selected for funding based upon an evaluation of a proposal submitted by the Boston Police Department to the Department of Justice (DOJ) on August 15, 1994. BOTW was determined to be uniquely qualified to perform these services due to the comprehensive assistance and support offered to its clients. Further, the agency has an intake system whereby no youth, regardless of his/her status, is refused admission.

Compensation under this contract shall be a total amount not to exceed $46,573.87, which I have determined to be reasonable for the extensive work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be the period October 1, 1994, through December 31, 1995.

Inasmuch as the contractor is the designated recipient of the CCP Grant funds to provide the aforementioned services and inasmuch as BOTW offers a unique and wide range of social services to individuals in crisis, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This contract is being submitted late for the following reasons: The CCP Grant was not approved by the Department of Justice until January 19, 1995; the acceptance of the grant funds by the City Council was not approved until March 1, 1995; the revised CCP Budget was not finalized until July 24, 1995; and Special Condition number 15 of the CCP Budget was not lifted by the Department of Justice until August 18, 1995.

Respectfully,

Paul F. Evans,
Police Commissioner

C. 1149-95
August 21, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to United Methodist Urban Services, Inc. (UMUS), a nonprofit corporation located at 566 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, MA 02215. UMUS will provide urban outreach services and training programs to enhance police and community relations under the Youth Service Providers Network, the third component of a three-part strategy under the Comprehensive Communities Program (CCP) Grant. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c.

30B as it represents a grant agreement with a nonprofit corporation.

Under the terms of this contract, UMUS will work directly with minority youth to foster positive relations with police and communicate the benefits of neighborhood policing initiatives in Boston's communities. UMUS will also educate youth in the development of conflict resolution and communication skills and provide peer leadership training through local workshops. A detailed description of the services to be performed is included in the CPP Implementation Plan attached hereto.

The contractor was selected for funding based upon an evaluation of a proposal submitted by the Boston Police Department to the Department of Justice (DOJ) on August 15, 1994. UMUS was determined to be uniquely qualified to perform these services due to its extensive work and familiarity with the City's urban communities and its contribution to neighborhood policing efforts. UMUS currently offers an advocacy program ("Youth and Police in Partnership") for the advancement of community police relations.

Compensation under this contract shall be a total amount not to exceed $46,855, which I have determined to be reasonable for the specialized work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be the period October 1, 1994, through December 31, 1995.

Inasmuch as the contractor is the designated recipient of the CCP Grant funds to provide the aforementioned services and inasmuch as UMUS brings unique and valuable community experiences and knowledge to the Comprehensive Communities Program, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This contract is being submitted late for the following reasons: The CCP Grant was not approved by the Department of Justice until January 19, 1995; the acceptance of the grant funds by the City Council was not approved until March 1, 1995; the revised CCP Budget was not finalized until July 24, 1995; and Special Condition number 15 of the CCP Budget was not lifted by the Department of Justice until August 18, 1995.

Respectfully,

Paul F. Evans,
Police Commissioner

C. 1142-95
August 21, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Advocates for Human Potential, Inc. (AHP), a corporation located at 323 Boston Post Road, Sudbury, MA 01776. AHP will provide case management training to service providers and coordinate long-term planning under the Youth Service Providers Network, the third component of a three-part strategy under the Comprehensive Communities Program (CCP) Grant. Since the procurement of these services involves the expenditure of federal assistance in the form of the CCP Grant, the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B do not apply to the extent that such provisions would prevent compliance with the expressed terms of the grant which specifically name AHP as the intended recipient.

Under the terms of this contract, AHP will develop the planning phase for the Youth Service Providers Network, facilitate the Network's Steering Committee meetings and provide training to the Network's Service Providers under its Case Management System. AHP will also coordinate with the other CCP Networks and the Boston Police Department on the progress of the overall project design and its implementation. A detailed description of the services to be performed is included in the CPP Implementation Plan attached hereto.

The contractor was selected for funding based upon an evaluation of a proposal submitted by the Boston Police Department to the Department of Justice (DOJ) on August 15, 1994. AHP was determined to be uniquely qualified to perform these services due to its extensive experience in coalition building, community and organizational development and leadership programs. AHP is currently working with the federal government on the creation of the National Center for the Advancement of Prevention (NCAP) and has worked with various CSAP Community Partnerships around the United States in the areas of strategic planning and programmatic design.

Compensation under this contract shall be a total amount not to exceed $100 per hour for planning and facilitation services for a total amount not to exceed $86,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the specialized work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be the period October 1, 1994, through December 31, 1995.

Inasmuch as the contractor is the designated recipient of the CCP Grant funds to provide the aforementioned services and inasmuch as AHP possesses a unique compilation of credentials to effectively consolidate the work of the service providers in the Network, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This contract is being submitted late for the following reasons: The CCP Grant was not approved by the Department of Justice until January 19, 1995; the acceptance of the grant funds by the City Council was not approved until March 1, 1995; the revised CCP Budget was not finalized until May 29, 1995; and Special Condition number 15 of the CCP Budget was not lifted by the Department of Justice until August 18, 1995.

June 30, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to award a contract to the Fund for Boston Neighborhoods, Inc., a nonprofit corporation, located at Boston City Hall, Room 802 Boston, MA 02201. Under the terms and conditions of the contract, the contractor will operate clean and maintain the Parkman House. This contract is exempt from Chapter 30B as it is a grant to a nonprofit corporation to carry out public purpose of support or stimulation.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $210,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the service to be performed. The term of this contract shall be from July 1, 1995, to June 30, 1998. Funds for this contract come from the Operating Budget for fiscal 1996.

This contract is awarded subject to the availability of appropriations in subsequent fiscal years.

I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose due to the expertise of the Fund's operation of said property and the understanding of its function and purpose. It is therefore requested that permission be granted to dispense with inviting sealed bids in the City Record, per uant to authority granted under the City of oston Code, St. d, s. 5.

Respectfully yours,

Michael J. Galvin,
Chief of Basic City Services.

AUTO INSURANCE DISCOUNT PLAN FOR CITY EMPLOYEES

Dear City of Boston Employee:

I am very pleased to announce an auto insurance discount plan for City of Boston employees through Arbella Mutual Insurance Company. As Mayor, I was troubled by the extremely high auto insurance rates that confront those of us who live and work in the City. Beginning May 1, 1996, all City of Boston employees will be eligible to receive a discount on their auto insurance premiums from Arbella. This program will be administered through Allied American Agency, Inc., Arbella's agent.

Under the discount plan, all City employees who select Arbella will receive 10% off of their auto insurance premiums. For those individuals who qualify as "good drivers" (rated 9 or 10), and additional 5% discount will be available. Furthermore, all City employees who insure their cars with Arbella will receive 10% off of their homeowner's policy as well. As you can see, this program will allow you the opportunity to save money, and it gives me great pleasure to provide such an opportunity.

All City personnel officers have been briefed on the particulars of the discount plan and will provide additional information regarding the program. More importantly, Arbella has established a toll-free telephone information line, and I encourage anyone with questions regarding the program to call 1-800-876-5510 to speak to an Allied representative.

Thank you for your continuing efforts on behalf of the City of Boston.

Sincerely,

THOMAS M. MENINO,
Mayor of Boston.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES SPRING BEAUTIFICATION INITIATIVE

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced a major beautification project for this spring in Boston that will include installing 300 flower beds, 400 hanging planters and planting 1,000 trees and over 90,000 flowers city wide. The effort will begin as 106,000 Daffodils, planted last fall, begin to blossom citywide. Mayor Menino initiated this program to highlight spring time after a long winter while improving the appearance of business districts and major thoroughfares in Boston.

Mayor Menino said, "These plantings will go a long way to improve the appearance of many areas of our city. It is a basic task that can make a tremendous difference to the eye of any resident, tourist, shopper or worker in Boston. This will make Boston a much more colorful, pleasant and enjoyable place."

Two additional gardening crews will be hired to assist in the implementation of the plan. Existing programs such as Broom to Bloom, Parks Partners and Main Streets have been used to determine the location of plantings and maintenance. All of the work will be completed this year and cost about $320,000. The work will be conducted citywide, focusing mostly on key thoroughfares and the Main Street districts. The plan will brighten the city this spring with:

300 planters — 20 planters will be distributed at 14 locations throughout the city, including three Main Street designated business districts. These planters are an expansion of the 75 original planters given to the city by Prins Recycling. The program was expanded based on their success.

400 Hanging Plants — Four other different Main Street designated business districts will have two baskets hung from 30 lampposts. Lampposts in downtown area currently without either a planter or banner will receive the remaining baskets. These hanging baskets will build upon the basket program already on Congress and Tremont Streets.

1,000 Trees — Citywide 1,000 trees will be planted for shade and improved horticulture. A campaign to have each tree adopted by an abutting homeowner will be undertaken. 470 will be planted this spring, the rest will be planted during the course of this year.

Thoroughfare Maintenance — 10 main thoroughfares have been selected for stronger maintenance under Broom to Bloom and the BYCC Red Shirt program. The process will also include mulching and where possible, improving the turf on the medians.

Petunias, Marigolds, Pagonias, Dusty Miller, Salvia, and Ivy will be the types of plants used in the hanging baskets, planters and 90,000 flower plantings across the city. A planting schedule has already been outlined. Tulips around the Downtown and 106,000 Daffodils planted last fall are currently sprouting in parks, school yards and city squares.

The 1996 beautification initiative will be conducted in addition to the normal spring clean up resources including 60 neighborhood plantings, 40 park partners and 60 Broom to Bloom clean ups.

BROOM TO BLOOM SPRING CLEAN UP SCHEDULE

The Mayor's Basic Services Team will work with community members to clean up the neighborhoods on the following arranged dates. A number of activities including street cleaning, graffiti removal, painting traffic light posts, boxes and fire hydrants, repairing broken street lights, removing rubbish and other refuse and cleaning storm drains will be conducted. This year graffiti removal will be a stronger part of the Broom to Bloom program through the implementation of the graffiti removal plan unveiled in this year's budget.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENTS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced the appointment of Frank Tramontozzi to the position of Director of Planning and Development for the Boston Water and Sewer Commission. The Mayor also announced that William Luster would take over the position of Transportation Commissioner being vacated by Tramontozzi.

The Mayor said, "Frank Tramontozzi has worked hard and professionally as Commissioner in the Transportation Department for the last two years. Under Frank's leadership the city has received millions of dollars in state and federal grants, the city has launched several traffic and pedestrian safety initiatives, and several programs have been launched to ensure that our parking system is fair and 'customer friendly.' I'm calling on Frank to now put his management skill to work with the Water and Sewer Commission. He will continue to build on relationships he developed as Transportation Commissioner in dealings between the Water and Sewer Commission and the Central Artery and state and federal governments."

Tramontozzi assumed his new position May 1 for a salary of $80,000. Luster will be paid $80,000 a year and started work May 1.

As Director of Planning and Development, Tramontozzi will be coordinating contractors and vendors for the Commission, planning for a new operating center, and acting as the city liaison on water and sewer issues with the Central Artery Project and state and federal governments.

Luster has served as Director of the Planning Department, the Community Development Department, and the Salem Redevelopment Authority in Salem, Massachusetts, since 1989. He has worked as a planner in several positions in Salem since 1983. Luster's professional experience includes overseeing the community's Block Grant Program, working on improvements to parks, municipal buildings, and streets.

JIM BRADY APPLAUDS
MASS. HOUSE MEMBERS FOR THE PASSAGE OF
THE STATEWIDE ASSAULT WEAPONS BAN, CALLS ON SENATE TO FOLLOW SUIT

James S. Brady, former White House Press Secretary to President Reagan and current Center to Prevent Handgun Violence Board member, flanked by local Stop Handgun Violence co-founders John Rosenthal and Michael Kennedy, urged members of the Massachusetts Senate to pass the statewide assault weapons bill that passed the House in late February.

"The Massachusetts House of Representatives is to be commended for its courageous and timely support of the statewide assault weapons ban. The Senate should act now to ensure the safety of law enforcement officers and for the good of the entire Commonwealth. There is no use for assault weapons in a civilized society and I am pleased to join you here today in this important effort," said Brady.

Brady was joined by members of Stop Handgun Violence and NOT BULLETPROOF; sponsors of the bill, Attorney General Scott Harshbarger, Senator Cheryl Jacques and Representative James Brett; members of the House and Senate; Mayor Thomas M. Menino; representatives from the Boston Police Department and law enforcement community.

The bill calls for a statewide ban of 25 assault weapons. According to a report recently released by Handgun Control in Washington, "36% of law enforcement officers killed with firearms, when the make and model could be identified, involved assault weapons or guns sold with magazines affected by the assault weapon law."

Rosenthal echoed Brady's remarks by adding, "We, unfortunately, live in a country where 15 children, 105 Americans die every day as a result of gun violence. It is time to say wake up America, we are killing ourselves. The assault weapons ban is a step in ensuring the safety of law enforcement and citizens."

Rosenthal continued, "I have the distinct privilege today of standing with Jim Brady, a man who has worked tirelessly on the issue of gun violence, a man who personally knows about gun violence. Unfortunately, many who join me today have first hand experience with the tragedy of gun violence. I call on the citizens of the Commonwealth to let their voices be heard. Nationally, 80% of the population support the ban, call your State Senator today and ask for their support of the ban. Your call will make a difference."

Stop Handgun Violence, was founded in the Spring of 1995 by John Rosenthal, President of Meredith Management, a property management concern in Newton and Michael Kennedy, President of Citizens Energy and son of the late Robert Kennedy. In October, Stop Handgun violence unveiled the largest tribute wall of its kind, a 252-foot billboard behind Fenway Park, overlooking the Massachusetts Turnpike. The board has the pictures of 15 children who were all killed with a handgun, above their faces 'The cost of Handguns keeps going up. 15 kids killed every day.' The goal of the organization is to communicate the relatively simple solutions that will effectively reduce handgun violence without limiting access to responsible gun owners. Such solutions include: trigger locks, smart gun technology that allows only the intended operator of the gun to be able to operate it and violence awareness and prevention program.

NOT BULLETPROOF, INC., is the sister organization to Stop Handgun Violence set up to address legislative solutions to gun violence.

BOSTON RANKS TOPS NATIONALLY FOR PRE-SCHOOL IMMUNIZATION

MAYOR MENINO PRAISES CITY'S IMMUNIZATION EFFORTS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino visited Greater Roslindale Medical Center on April 24 to recognize the work of four Boston health centers and the Boston Immunization Coalition at successfully immunizing children by age 2 against childhood diseases. The Centers for Disease Control's publication of the National Immunization Survey reports that Boston leads all U.S. in age-appropriate immunization by successfully immunizing 87 percent of the children by age 2. Four Boston health centers have exceeded that average and achieved the citywide goal of a 90 percent effective rate for age-appropriate immunizations.

The CDC report found Boston's 87 percent effective rate of immunization to be 12 percent above the national average. The report was based on a full year of collected data drawn from immunization levels of children ages 19 - 35 months.

"The CDC's report confirms that our Boston coalitions of 21 health centers, public health, five hospitals and 60 family agencies is leading the country in protecting our children against preventable childhood diseases and bringing them into a network of primary health care," said Mayor Menino.

"During National Immunization Week, I want to recognize the work of all the participating providers in the Boston Immunization Coalition for their efforts. In particular, I congratulate the four health centers who have already reached our goal of 90 percent effective immunizations by age 2. Boston has always had great success at immunization, but the challenge persisted to reach children by age 2. This coalition, with a small investment by the CDC and city support, jumped from an effective rate of approximately 55 percent three years ago to what the CDC today reports is 87 percent."

The Boston Immunization Coalition of the city health department, Boston hospitals, health centers and 60 family service agencies joins coalitions nationwide seeking to expand access to immunization services through an awareness and outreach campaign. In Boston, local health centers are providing varied activities including immunization education and 'graduation exercises,' walk-in immunization days, "Blitzing Boston" — a flyer distribution effort and a citywide raffle.

Approximately 6 percent of Boston's population is age 5 or under. Nearly one-third of all children under 6 grew up in poverty in 1989. 1992 surveys reveal that 55-58 percent of Boston's children completed an immunization series by age two. A dramatic dropout rate following the first visit (to a provider) was a significant reason for low immunization in all children under 2.

Boston Department of Health and Hospitals, Boston hospitals, community health centers and community-based organizations play critical roles in immunization awareness, education and keeping Boston free of a major outbreak of disease. Massachusetts and Michigan are the only states that help control the costs of vaccines by producing their own. Massachusetts is the only state to completely provide 'universal vaccine distribution' of vaccines.

Boston's immunization action plan is meeting the challenges to improving immunization by age 2 by providing:

- increased vaccine availability and access to care;
- a new centralized citywide immunization registry;
- a citywide immunization tracking system; and,
- increased outreach and awareness efforts, particularly in communities with greater incidence of under-immunization against measles, mumps, rubella (MMR) and whooping cough.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, The Boston Immunization Coalition includes the Department of Health and Hospitals, five Boston hospitals, twenty-one neighborhood health centers and 90 family service agencies across the City; and,

Whereas, April 21 through 27, 1996 is National Pre-School Immunization Week to nationally recognize the efforts of health professionals to expand access to immunization services through an awareness and outreach campaign; and,

Whereas, The goal of this Coalition is to heighten the awareness of the community of the need to fully immunize in a timely manner all children, especially those under two years of age and, furthermore, to link children with a regular source of healthcare where they can receive ongoing preventive healthcare, which includes immunizations; and,

PRE-SCHOOL IMMUNIZATION . . .

Whereas, Boston is successful at fully immunizing 98-99 percent of the City's children by the time they enter school; and,

Whereas, The City of Boston has successfully achieved an 87 percent effective rate of immunization for children by the age of 2, which is far above the national average; and,

Whereas, The Boston Department of Health and Hospitals, Boston hospitals, neighborhood health centers and community-based organizations play critical roles in immunization awareness, education and keeping Boston free of a major outbreak of disease; now,

Therefore, I, Thomas M. Menino, Mayor of the City of Boston, do hereby proclaim Wednesday, April 24, 1996 to be

"Immunization Day in the City of Boston" and I urge all my fellow Bostonians to join me in recognizing the truly outstanding work of the Boston Immunization Coalition to improve the quality of life for future generations of Bostonians.

STATEMENT FROM MAYOR THOMAS M. MENINO IN CONNECTION WITH THE COURT SETTLE- MENT PERTAINING TO THE DEATH OF REV. ACCELYN WILLIAMS:

"I feel the settlement is a fair one which evenly balances the interests of Mrs. Williams and the responsibility we have to the taxpayers of Boston. The concerns I had about providing for Mrs. Williams have been met. I also appreciate the judge's remarks from the bench in saying that my Administration approached this case in a fairhanded manner and with a desire to come to a just settlement."

MAYOR MENINO PRESENTS 1996 ENVIRONMENTAL BLUEPRINT

1995 Update and Action Agenda for 1996

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has presented the "1996 Environmental Blueprint," which imparts his vision for a cleaner, greener, well-preserved City and provides an update on accomplishments of 1995 and an action agenda for 1996. Mayor Menino was joined by Cathleen Douglas Stone, his Chief of Environmental Services and community leaders for the announcement at the John Hancock Observatory.

The framework of the 1996 Blueprint is based on recommendations made by the community in response to last year's Blueprint and Sustainable Boston Conference. Every program, more than 60, outlined in the Blueprint, demonstrates Mayor Menino's commitment to improve quality-of-life issues throughout Boston and proves that programs based on public/private partnerships are essential to the city's well-being.

Mayor Menino said, "My Environmental Blueprint is an effective tool to set and accomplish an agenda which will preserve the past while forging ahead toward a future of opportunity and progress as we approach the next millennium."

Highlights of the 1996 Blueprint include:

- The Schoolyards Initiative, together with Boston Greenspace Alliance, which will "green" approximately 115 schoolyards over the next five years with trees, shrubbery and nature education programs.
- The award-winning Boston Environmental Strike Team, also known as BEST, dramatically increased its presence in the neighborhoods and will do even more in 1996 toward cracking down chronic trouble spots, illegal dumping of hazardous waste and slumlords.
- Emerald Necklace Centennial — design will begin on path improvements for the Riverway, Ward Pond and for the renovation of Mother's Rest Playground in the Back Bay Fens.

- Clean up and redevelopment of environmentally contaminated sites, or brownfields, located around Dudley Square in Roxbury.
- Chelsea Creek Pilot Project — a city project to form a watershed coalition to organize Chelsea and East Boston around the clean up of Chelsea Creek.
- Implementation of the Seaport Study — a plan which calls for making Boston's port more competitive in the global marketplace, while benefiting all who live, work and visit Boston's harbor-side.
- a partnership with the Audubon Society to relocate create the Audubon Nature Preserve at Boston State Hospital site in Mattapan and progress on plans to turn West Roxbury's Gardner Street Landfill into a grass and tree-filled park, larger than Boston Common and the Public Garden combined.
- the reopening of the Parade Ground on Boston Common, redesign of the Tremont Street edge of Boston Common and construction of the Frog Pond.
- partnerships with other groups to develop the Boston Harbor Islands National Park.
- the creation of pedestrian and bicycle paths to the city's beaches to promote access to the beaches including the East Boston and Neponset Greenways. Expansion of the "Back to the Beaches" and "T-to-the Sea" programs.
- Boston Bicycle Initiative — a program to encourage bicycling in Boston's neighborhoods and the creation of a Boston Bicycle Advisory Committee.
- implementation of the Downtown Transportation Plan which include the redesign and rehabilitation of selected downtown streets, the redesign of the Old State House Square and the expansion of side

- walk areas along Franklin Street.
- programs to increase recycling participation rates in Boston and educate residents on the wide range of materials Boston can now handle ranging from milk cartons and juice boxes to expanded opportunities to recycle household cleaners and motor oil.
- transfer of 24 new acres to the Arnold Arboretum to create a pedestrian link from the Arboretum to the Forest Hills MBTA Station in Jamaica Plain.

MAYOR MENINO PUTS SOME "MUSSEL" INTO BOSTON'S SEAFOOD INDUSTRY

The City of Boston gave Massachusetts' floundering seafood industry a boost when Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced that the City is seeking requests for proposals for aquaculture development, otherwise known as fish farming.

"Aquaculture projects will nurture our environment and our economy at the same time. They are an innovative way for us to supplement traditional fishing methods with new technology,"

Mayor Menino said. "It's simply a controlled environment — either on land or at sea — where we can encourage certain marine species not only to survive but thrive."

The U.S. Department of Commerce predicts that by the year 2005, more than one-third of the seafood market will be farm-raised and anticipated industry growth is expected to generate a half a million new jobs. In New England alone, Maine has developed an $80 million aquaculture industry, with Connecticut close behind at $60 million. Massachusetts lags far behind generating only $6 million from its aquaculture industry in 1993.

As part of Phase One, the City of Boston will use property on Moon Island and at the Charlestown Navy Yard. Industry experts believe that Boston can be successful in nurturing uniquely New England species such as lobsters and codfish as well as high-end products like sea urchin and ocean cucumbers.

As part of the Menino administration's ongoing effort to support and promote this emerging industry, the City of Boston, Massport and the New England Aquarium hosted a conference entitled: Boston Harbor Aquaculture: Boom or Bust? The subsequent report issued by the New England Aquarium indicated that Boston can be successful in this arena.

Aquaculture is the controlled cultivation and harvest of aquatic animals and plants. It includes land-based pond culture and fresh and salt-water recirculating systems, coastal flow-through systems, bottom culture, line culture and ocean cage or net pen culture.

Developers interested in responding to the RFP can pick up development kits from the City of Boston's Environmental Services Cabinet from Monday, May 6 through Friday, May 17. Respondents must reply by June 21 in order to be considered.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF RFP FOR AQUACULTURE AND MARICULTURE PROJECTS

Remarks of Mayor

Thomas M. Menino, April 26, 1996.

Last Saturday — on Earth Day — I was pleased to release the City's second Environmental Blueprint. The Blueprint outlines a number of existing projects that serve two purposes — (1) to make Boston cleaner and greener, and (2) to foster economic development. Today, I'm pleased to launch a project that addresses both of these priorities.

These aquaculture projects — or "fish farms" — will nurture our environment and our economy at the same time. They are an innovative way for us to supplement traditional fishing methods with new technology. It's simply a controlled environment — either on land or at sea — where we can encourage certain marine species not only to survive but to thrive.

This is an idea I've been excited about since my earliest days as Mayor. I first discovered fish farms on an official visit to Israel — where fish farms produce hundreds of millions of pounds of fish every year. Since then, I've learned that this is one of the fastest-growing industries in the world:

- Norway — the largest salmon producer in the world — uses fish farming to produce half-a-billion pounds of salmon every year.
- And worldwide, one-quarter of the world's shrimp now comes from aquaculture.

Clearly, this is the wave of the future — and it's something we should put to use right here in Boston.

With the help of our friends at the New England Aquarium, we will use City property — on Moon Island and at the Charlestown Navy Yard — to bring a variety of marine life back to Boston. I'm talking about mussels, scallops, sea urchins, rosefish, sea cucumbers, and a local favorite — lobsters.

We all know that Boston enjoys an international reputation as a "city by the sea." Every year, people come from near and far to reap the benefits of Boston Harbor — especially our outstanding seafood. And even though Boston is the seafood processing capital of New England, most of the fish we process comes from out-of-state. These fish farms will allow us to start processing our own fish.

As Boston Harbor became more and more polluted, the seafood industry suffered greatly. Some would even say it — floundered. But now — as you know — is the dawn of a new era for the Harbor:

- Water is cleaner that it's been in fifty years.
- People are returning to our beaches.
- The Harbor Islands are getting the attention they deserve.
- And now that the federal government has committed 50 million dollars to the cleanup, we can expect even more progress in the years ahead.

That's why now — more than ever — it's time to give the seafood industry a jump start, too.

The U.S. Department of Commerce predicts that by the year 2005, more than one-third of the seafood market will be farm-raised. This project is our way of preparing for that demand. Best of all, we will be protecting and creating jobs in the process.

So today, we are pleased to kick-off the Request for Proposal process to get this exciting project under way. With this announcement, we are one step closer to revitalizing our historic waterfront, protecting the treasures of Boston Harbor, and shaping a bright economic future.

I look forward to working with all of you to launch a new era for Boston's seafood industry.

Thank you.

NEIGHBORHOOD YOUTH FUND GRANTS AWARDED

Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced on April 24 that a total of $48,000 in Safe Neighborhood Youth Fund grants has been awarded to forty-two neighborhood organizations across the city which offer safe, positive learning activities and alternatives for young people in Boston. Mayor Menino has awarded over $348,000 in Safe Neighborhood Youth Fund grants for Fiscal Year 1996.

Mayor Menino said, "These awards will help fund programs that have proven themselves as an important element in helping Boston's young people. They address the need for informal, community-based programs that support and educate Boston's young people. All these groups are out in the neighborhoods making a difference in people's lives and I'm glad we can play a role in helping them in that effort."

The grants have been awarded to neighborhood groups across the city which have identified their ability to improve the quality of life for Boston's youth, address community needs, and maintain youth outreach and parental or volunteer participation. They have also demonstrated their ability to work with other agencies in pursuing program goals. The grants range from under $1,000 to $7,000.

The funded programs focus on a number of different themes, including cultural understanding and identity, health and environmental issues and the arts. All programs work toward promoting life skills, violence prevention and community responsibility.

This is the third of three funding cycles for this fiscal year. The Safe Neighbors Youth Fund is now in its fifth year.

BRIGHTON ILLEGAL DUMPER CAUGHT

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced that members of the Basic Services Team have issued $4,200 in fines to a Brighton property owner at 165 Chiswick Street for his blatant violation of illegal dumping ordinances. The fines were issued over a six-day period and were given in conjunction with an abatement order from the Fire Department for the fire hazard created at the location.

Sasson Cohen, owner of 165 Chiswick Street, was given four $300 tickets since April 18 for dumping more than 1 cubic yard of waste on his property and one $3,000 ticket under M.G.L. Chapter 270, section 16, for illegally dumping waste on city property. Cohen had been dumping construction refuse on his Chiswick Street property from a gourmet Jewish Deli he was planning to open in Brookline. Neighbors began to fear the accumulation of refuse was a fire hazard to their homes, fire officials agreed and issued and abatement order to have the area cleaned. Sasson, allegedly known to police in Brookline and District 14 Boston Police, threatened the Code Enforcement officers, Boston Police Officers and fire officials issuing the fines and abatement order. He threatened to have "the Israeli Air Force bomb the police station" and swore profusely at the officers from his third-floor window, calling them cowards and telling a Code Enforcement Captain that if he wanted the mess cleaned up to "lick up the mess with your tongue."

Cohen apparently cleaned the property by April 24, but failed to produce a receipt for the proper disposal of the refuse which is a requirement of the abatement order. There is a twenty-one-day appeal process for the fines. If the fines are not paid in that time period then the Special Prosecutor's Unit will take legal action.

MAYOR MENINO ANNOUNCES THE THIRD ANNUAL BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS

Once more, City Hall walls are brightened by the creative talents of Boston Public School children as Mayor Thomas M. Menino launches the third annual B.P.S. Festival of the Arts.

As a new mayor two years ago, Tom Menino was most anxious that others have the opportunity to appreciate the skill and imagination of Boston schoolchildren. With that in mind, he organized the Festival to bring visual and performing artistry to City Hall employees and visitors. Over 2,000 pieces of artwork, from most schools in the city, are displayed on every floor — and will remain up through most of May. (In years past, the only disappointment employees expressed was when the artwork was taken down.)

On Saturday, May 18, 1996, from 12:00 - 5:00, phase II of the Festival comes to life. Hundreds of Boston schoolchildren will sing, dance, recite poetry, and act on two City Hall plaza stages. Last year, nearly 6,000 visitors enjoyed the afternoon.

Mayor Menino is delighted to announce that this year, Keith Lockhart will serve as the Honorary Chair. The Boston Pops conductor will join Mayor Menino and Superintendent Payzant on stage at 2 p.m.

The Mayor extends an invitation to all City employees, their families, and guests to enjoy the Boston Public School Festival of the Arts on May 18. There is no rain date scheduled for the performing arts. City Hall, however, will remain open on Saturday, May 18, regardless of the weather, to allow the public to enjoy the visual artwork.

Those interested in helping out with the Festival on May 18 should contact Martha Pierce at 635-4476. (And if you see a picture slipping a bit, please gently replace it.)

SUFFOLK COUNTY

Jail

HIV Control Program

C. 3684-96
July 1, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to the Trustees of Health and Hospitals of the City of Boston, Inc., a non-profit corporation located at 1010 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, MA, to provide communicable disease services at the Suffolk County Jail. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B, s. 2, because it is not a service for the benefit or use of the Suffolk County Sheriff's Department, rather, it is a grant agreement with a nonprofit organization to provide intensified communicable disease services to detainees at the Suffolk County Jail, thereby carrying out a public purpose of support. Services shall include a comprehensive evaluation system of HIV detainees for communicable disease problems. This contract is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Trustees of Health and Hospitals of the City of Boston, Inc., will provide an HIV control program at the Suffolk County Jail. The program includes initial assessment of HIV infected detainees, verification of treatment histories and referrals to physicians for medical evaluation. Trustees of Health and Hospitals of the City of Boston, Inc., is uniquely qualified to do this work because of their extensive experience in providing these services and the fact that they have in the past provided these services to the Suffolk County Jail.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $44,157, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, to June 30, 1996.

The Trustees of Health and Hospitals compensation for services provided in the past is as follows: FY 95, $14,719 (length of this contract was for one quarter only).

Please excuse this contract for being submitted late due to the time it took the contractor to turn all the proper documents that were needed.

Very truly yours,

Robert C. Rufo,
Sheriff.

House of Correction

Legal Services

C. 2982-96
July 7, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract with New England School of Law, a non-profit corporation located at 154 Stuart Street, Boston, for legal services at the Suffolk County Sheriff's Department. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B, and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, the Contractor shall provide legal services to the inmates at the Suffolk County House of Correction. Through an internship program, five (5) legal interns and their supervisor will provide counseling in various aspects of the law as well as assist with document preparation. New England School of Law is uniquely qualified to perform these services due to their extensive experience in offering prisoners' rights clinical programs. New England School of Law is completely familiar with the Sheriff's Department's policies and procedures.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $89,840, which I have determined to be reasonable for the services to be performed. The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996. This contract is being submitted late due to the time required to obtain proper signatures from the contractor and due to the lengthy negotiations required to define the agreement.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

Robert C. Rufo,
Sheriff.

HVAC

C. 3006-96

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Your Honor's permission is requested to dispense with public advertising and award an emergency contract pursuant to M.G.L. c. 30B, s. 8, for modifications to the HVAC systems at the Suffolk County House of Correction to Balco, Inc., 306 Northern Avenue, Boston, for the period July 1, 1995, through August 15, 1995.

The modifications include the installation of a water source heat pump to improve the ability to modulate temperatures within the facility. In particular, the modifications are necessary due to the increased temperature readings within certain areas of the facility which created a health and safety risk.

Three vendors were solicited for quotations via telephone and fax and two responded. Balco, Inc. provided the lowest bid for the work as specified. The total cost of this contract shall not exceed $17,056, for the period July 1, 1995, through August 15, 1995, which cost is reasonable for the services being provided. This contract is being submitted late due to the time required to obtain properly executed documents from the vendor.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Rufo,
Sheriff.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Program Design Consultant

July 3, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a personal services contract to Ms. Susan Stuebing, of 2 Hawthorne Place, Boston, MA 02114, to serve as Program Design Consultant for the Blue Ribbon Commission, appointed by your Honor to review and make recommendations with respect to the condition and needs, and the rebuilding of the physical facilities, in association with Boston Public Schools. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B as it is a contract of employment, and is being awarded under the provisions of the City Charter.

Compensation under this agreement will not exceed $60,000, payable at a daily rate of $450, which I consider reasonable for the work to be performed by Ms. Stuebing, particularly in view of her background and relevant experience as an Assistant Professor for Research at the New Jersey Institute of Technology. Her current research explores the relationship between educational curriculum and the physical learning environment. Up to $5,000 of this contract may be used to cover expenses associated with the performance of this contract.

This contract is being submitted late because it was considered essential to obtain her services before it was possible to initiate the necessary contract documents.

The term of this contract is the period from July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996, and shall be paid for from Account No. 011-104-0144-C001-0290.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive program and proposal review, I therefore, request for permission to dispense with inviting sealed bids in the City Record, pursuant to authority granted under the City of Boston Code, Sec. 4, s. 5.

Sincerely,

Robert J. Ciolek,
Chief Operating Officer.

Health Benefits and Insurance

Insurance

C. 1741-96
October 2, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

In accordance with Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 32B, Section 11D, the City of Boston is required to purchase Accidental Death Insurance for eligible policemen and firefighters, on terms deemed to be in the best interest of the City and its employees. (NOTE: Group Insurance contracts are exempt from the requirements of the Uniform Procurement Act, Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 30B).

This coverage provides a death benefit amount of nearly two times the policeman's/firefighter's annual salary, paid to his/her beneficiary, for loss of life due to bodily injury caused by an accident in the line of duty. The death benefit amount is determined by the insurance schedule contained in M.G.L. Chapter 32B, Section 11A.

An employee is considered eligible for this coverage if he/she is employed by the City of Boston as an active full-time policeman or firefighter on a permanent basis and is under age 70.

Employee participation in this plan is on a voluntary basis. However, to ensure that each eligible person is contacted, he/she is required to submit a signed enrollment card either electing or rejecting the coverage.

On July 6, 1995, a Request For Proposals (RFP) "To Provide An Accidental Death Insurance Benefit Program" was issued by this office for insurance coverage to be effective July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996. This RFP was issued late due to the need to direct this office's resources to instituting the new managed indemnity plan (selected by responses to an RFP issued February 21, 1995) and ensuring the success of the Open Enrollment period which was changed and not held on the usual dates.

The bids received in response to this RFP were as follows:

INSURANCE COMPANY
AIG Life Insurance Company	$.035
Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company	$.039
Commercial Life Insurance Company	$.035

Since the AIG and Commercial Life Insurance Companies submitted identical bid amounts, personal interviews were held between this office and representatives of these two companies. Based on the overall quality of their proposal and the quality of their interview, the Commercial Life Insurance Company was selected as the successful bidder.

The Commercial Life Insurance Company has not had a contract with this office during the past three fiscal years.

Therefore, your Honor's permission is requested to approve the award of a contract with the Commercial Life Insurance Company, 15 Corporate Place South, Piscataway, NJ 08854, for Accidental Death Insurance for the period of July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996, in an amount not to exceed $120,000, from appropriation code 011-140-0142-HR03-03-490.

Respectfully,

Irene Carrington,
Director.

MAYOR MENINO KICKS OFF SUMMER JOBS CAMPAIGN

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on May 2, kicked off his "Hire a Kid" Summer Jobs Campaign to provide over 9,000 teens with summer jobs. The "Hire a Kid" campaign will be a unified effort including Mayor Menino, the Private Industry Council (PIC) and Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) which will focus on increasing the number of jobs by expanding the number of businesses participating. Corporate downsizing and a 30 percent cut back in federal summer jobs funding has forced the campaign to use a strategy that targets greater participation by the 15,000 businesses located in Boston. Mayor Menino has also provided the highest city funding level ever for summer jobs to off set any lost job opportunities.

Mayor Menino said, "Despite our strongest financial commitment yet to summer jobs, we still need businesses to step forward to meet the demand. I am calling on businesses to please call 542-WORK even if you only have one job, that one job can make such a difference to the teen who receives it."

The "Hire A Kid" campaign will pull together Boston's three major employment initiatives: ABCD's Summer Works Program will provide income eligible teens with a job that is educationally based in an office or outdoor setting; Mayor Menino will provide teens with Boston Youth Cleanup Corps "Red Shirt" jobs by providing an unprecedented $4 million in funding. The Red Shirt program and other city summer job programs will provide almost 4,000 teens with manual labor jobs. The PIC will place teens in private sector office jobs in a number of different industries. This year, ABCD and the PIC will share the pool of private sector jobs pledged to the campaign. Through all three programs 9,000 teens will be placed in good summer jobs.

Mayor Menino kicked off the campaign after hosting a meeting with over thirty businesses who have already pledged jobs. Mayor Menino told the meeting to seek advice and support for reaching out to more employers. Last year, less than 5 percent of the 15,000 businesses in Boston provided all the private sector summer jobs, leaving a large untapped resource for summer jobs this year. Increasing private sector participation will also reduce Boston's dependence on government funding for summer jobs.

Marshall Carter, chairman and CEO of State Street Bank and Trust Company, and leader of the PIC program for the fourth consecutive year, joins with Mayor Menino in asking local employers to become a part of this important initiative.

"The big companies that can hire twenty or more students have traditionally been the foundation of this program," Carter said. "The real growth of the program must now occur with small to medium size companies. The ones who can hire one or two students. That's where our success stories will really come from this year."

PIC Executive Director Neil Sullivan praised Mayor Menino for making summer jobs part of his education strategy. "We also see the summer jobs program really as an education initiative," said Neil Sullivan, "It is through the summer jobs experience that students begin to see the essential connection between working and learning."

"The government has been key in providing disadvantaged youth with the opportunity for a first real life job experience," Bob Coard, president and CEO of Action for Boston Community Development, a multi-service community agency, said. "These jobs are critical towards a lifetime of economic self sufficiency and continued education for our youth. With the shift in government funding, the commitment from the business community will provide business and society with a dramatic long term return on their investment."

Summer jobs provide many young people with money that is often spent in the local retail stores, boosting the neighborhood economy. 1995 figures also show that 55.5 percent of the teens placed at least some of their money in the bank and 14 percent said they would use the money for tuition. Teens gain life skills and insight on career decisions through summer jobs. Summer jobs help in developing a qualified labor pool for the future and have been credited with contributing to safer summers. Many of the teens are also networked into health screening and further job training programs through their summer jobs. Boston's summer jobs program is a nationally recognized program.

The jobs begin the last week of May and run until August. The teens receive between $5 and $6 an hour and work 35 hours a week. Any business seeking to employ a young person can call 542-WORK.

Merari Perez is a senior at South Boston High School. Perez spoke about her employment experience at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston. She urged local employers to give other young people a similar opportunity.

The event on City Hall Plaza also featured live entertainment by several local groups, including Boston Police Department's "Voices in Blue," "Tough Assignment," and "Special Forces." WBZ AM 1030's Gary LaPierre, one of the leading spokespersons for WBZ's Stop the Violence Campaign, and Virginia Cha, also helped kick off the press conference to support the "Hire A Kid" campaign.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES OVER $9M IN IMPROVEMENTS TO PRESERVE HIGH SCHOOL ACCREDITATION

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on May 2, joined School Superintendent Thomas Payzant and Boston School Committee member Edwin Melendez at East Boston High School to announce a plan for more than $9 million in upgrades and new construction at four Boston public high schools to preserve their accreditation status.

Mayor Menino said, "In my State of the City speech last January, I vowed to create school buildings we could be proud of and today we continue to make good on that promise. What we are announcing today is forward progress to ensure that every Boston high school will be well equipped, educationally sound and accredited."

The plan calls for using $9 million in Mayor Menino's Capital Plan to make the following improvements at four high schools:

- East Boston High School — relocation and expansion of the existing library/media center by the fall of 1997; construction of a new gym with kitchen facilities by the fall 1999; relocation and renovation of the cafeteria; total cost: $6.2 million.
- Hyde Park High School — renovation and expansion of the existing library by the fall of 1997 at a cost of $551,000.
- Dorchester High School — relocation and expansion of the existing library by the fall of 1997 at a cost of $760,000.
- South Boston High School — construction of an addition to the school to house a new library at a cost of $1.55 million

Boston School Superintendent Thomas Payzant said, "As we move toward expecting more from our students, it is vitally important that we also provide these students with the best possible learning environment. Making sure that all of our high schools meet and exceed accreditation standards is one way of demonstrating our commitment to the students and their capacity to succeed."

Mayor Menino's commitment to the work in East Boston is part of a larger educational commitment to that neighborhood. An Early Learning Center is planned for East Boston. The East Boston community will also be able to use the new gym, complete with a kitchen facility, for events and meetings; the gym is being built in back of the school to provide better community access. All four high schools will provide community access to the new and improved facilities.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FURTHER COMMITMENT TO ACCREDITATION

Remarks of

Mayor Thomas M. Menino

May 2, 1996.

In my State of the City address last January, I vowed to create "school buildings we could be proud of." Today, we continue to make good on that promise.

I have come to East Boston High School today to announce further progress in our efforts to ensure that every Boston high school is well-equipped, educationally sound — and accredited.

Over the next year and a half, we plan to invest more than nine million dollars to renovate and expand libraries and media centers at four Boston high schools — East Boston, Dorchester, Hyde Park, and South Boston.

This initiative will help transform our school libraries and media centers into state-of-the-art facilities that prepare our students for the challenges of the twenty-first century. These centers will not only bring the world to our students — through access to the Internet and the World Wide Web — but will also bring our community to our schools.

We will make sure that what goes into these libraries is appropriate, current, and meaningful. Over the next four years, we have earmarked an additional four million dollars for library materials that will help all of our high school students receive the quality education they deserve.

Here in East Boston, we are accelerating our commitment. We are focusing on the entry and final years of formal schooling. For our youngest student, we are creating a new Early Learning Center. And we are investing in our older students by building a vibrant library/media center, a modern gym and cafeteria here at East Boston High School.

But we also realize that education does not end at graduation. The facilities we build and renovate — at the four high schools I mentioned — will be open and accessible to the public. For example, the new East Boston gym will be constructed at the back of the school to facilitate community access. And with a kitchen nearby, it will be easier to serve food at gym events — which I always think is a good idea.

With the approval of the City Council, we will allocate more than nine million dollars to this effort. This is an investment in our city, in our future, and most of all, in the students of the Boston public schools.

Thank you

HOSPITAL RELEASE
FINANCIAL PROJECTIONS
FOR NEW BOSTON
MEDICAL CENTER

Coopers & Lybrand Report Supports Merger Best Option for City

Mayor Thomas M. Menino and Elaine Ullian, president and CEO of Boston University Medical Center Hospital recently released the five-year financial projections for the new Boston Medical Center as reviewed by the accounting firm, Coopers & Lybrand.

Financial projections were also included for the two other options which the City of Boston considered regarding the future of BCH. These included the continued operation of BCH as a stand alone entity or under the management of an independent authority. Both of these options were considerably more costly and did not ensure the long-term viability of BCH and, therefore, were rejected by the Mayor.

In releasing the report, Mayor Menino said, "These projections make it clear that the merger of BCH with BUMCH is the best option for our patients, our employees and the taxpayers of our city. It is the only option which ensures a future for Boston City Hospital. With a solid financial base and our unique partnership with BUMCH, Boston University Medical School and HealthNet, Boston can now pioneer a world class urban healthcare system that will serve as a national model. I trust that this report will establish the importance and viability of moving forward to complete this merger as soon as possible."

The five-year financial projections for the three options will inform the debate as the Boston City Council considers final approval of the merger.

Elaine Ullian added, "This report reviews all the options which have been considered for the future of BCH and clearly shows why we are encouraged to embark on this merger. I look forward to the upcoming dialogue with the City Council and to opening the doors to our patients on July 1st."

Peter Nessen, chief negotiator of the merger, concluded, "The financial analysis confirms what Mayor Menino has been saying: that the merger is the only way to preserve the mission of providing health care to all in need, preserve jobs, and create a viable urban health care system. The model that was produced today makes it very clear the merger allows us to survive as a hospital. The real challenge is how we weave that hospital into an urban health care system."

Pending approval by the Boston City Council and the BUMCH Board of Trustees and Overseers, the merger is scheduled to take effect on July 1, 1996.

STATEMENT OF MAYOR
THOMAS M. MENINO RE:
BOARD OF HEALTH VOTE

This morning's vote is great news for the residents of Boston's neighborhoods.

When plans for the asphalt plan received initial approval three years ago, I responded to the outcries of the neighboring communities and called on the state to intervene. I asked the state to conduct a "fail-safe review" of the plans for the plant. After two years of state environmental reviews, design reviews and supplemental reviews, the state failed to respond to the health concerns of Boston's residents and put a halt to the plant.

I congratulate the city's Board of Health for stepping up to the plate and investigating the health concerns of the neighboring communities. After the overwhelming evidence provided at their January 4 public hearing, the board made the only decision they could make — to reject the plant siting.

This win for Boston's neighborhoods shows what can be accomplished when the city, the residents of Boston, and other elected officials work together toward a common goal.

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH AND HOSPITALS

Whereas, pursuant to M.G.L. c. 111 Section 122 and 143, and Chapter 656 of the Acts of 1965, the Board of Health and Hospitals has a statutory obligation to protect the citizens of Boston from adverse health impact which may result from the operation of a trade, occupation, or business in Boston; and

Whereas, on January 4, 1996, the Board of Health held a hearing to determine whether or not the proposed siting of a bituminous concrete manufacturing facility at 139 Cummings Street, Boston, would be dangerous to the public health or otherwise negatively impact the health of the surrounding neighborhood; and

Whereas at the public hearing on January 4, 1996, the Board heard testimony from proponents, public health officials, and other interested parties concerning the alleged potential health risks and harmful impact to the surrounding community; and

Whereas, the Board has also received testimony and evidence during the comment period including but not limited to compilations of analytical data, health studies, and other documents demonstrating that the residents of the area which would most be affected by the operations of the proposed facility are today at a more stressed level of health than are residents of other Boston neighborhoods; and

Whereas, the Board has carefully considered and reviewed all testimony and documentary evidence that has been presented during the public hearing and comment period; and

Now therefore, the Board of Health and Hospitals hereby finds:

1. The evidence and testimony presented at the hearing and during the comment period constitute sufficient information for the Board to make a determination regarding the proposed location for the facility and the impacts the operation of the facility would have on the public health; and
2. Upon considering this testimony and evidence, the Board finds that the trade, occupation, and business proposed here (the bituminous concrete manufacturing facility) may be harmful to the public health; and
3. Further, the Board finds that the operation of the facility may result in a nuisance, harm to the inhabitants, be dangerous to the public health, and be attended by noisome and injurious odors; and

4. Based on this evidence and testimony, the Board further finds that the existing health of the surrounding communities has been compromised with high levels of respiratory ailments, asthma, and other illnesses. Furthermore, testimony presented indicated that if the facility is permitted to operate at this site, fugitive emissions from the proposed plant are likely to increase lung and other cancer rates; and
5. The Board finds that any further degradation of the public health in the immediate communities, however incremental, should be prevented.

Therefore, the Board of Health and Hospitals at a meeting duly called and noticed hereby resolves to prohibit the location and operation of a bituminous concrete manufacturing facility as proposed at the location of 139 Cummings Street in Boston.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES $8 M IN FEDERAL AIDS FUNDING

$1.1 M Increase Over Previous Funding

Thanks to the efforts of United States Senator Edward M. Kennedy, the City of Boston will gain an additional $1.1 million for a total of nearly $8 million for AIDS care. This increase is due to a revised formula for the Ryan White CARE Act making desperately needed resources available for medical care and support services, based on the number of people living with HIV disease.

Mayor Thomas M. Menino said, "The funding for the CARE Act had support across party lines because there is widespread recognition that AIDS care is desperately needed. In addition to the $8 million in CARE Act funding, money for AIDS housing and services was at risk of disappearing only a few weeks ago, but because of the backing of the Clinton administration, the Housing Opportunities for Persons With AIDS (HOPWA) received financing, and this year Boston will receive $1.7 million. Clearly, thanks to real leaders like President Clinton and Senator Kennedy, we are making the best of a dire situation."

Because of the funding, 1,265 persons will receive housing services, 1,059 will receive primary medical care, over 1,300 meals will be provided, over 1,500 persons will receive new drugs that add longevity and quality of life, 620 persons will receive dental care, 541 persons will receive transportation to medical appointments, and 323 families of persons with AIDS will receive respite care.

The CARE Act has had strong bipartisan support due in large part to the persistent work on behalf of the Act by Senator Kennedy. Senator Kennedy was the original author of the landmark legislation, and has been largely responsible for increased appropriations since 1991. Over the past five years, Boston has received $24 million.

Title I of the Act provides emergency relief for cities hardest hit by AIDS. The Boston Eligible Metropolitan Area includes seven counties in Massachusetts and three in New Hampshire. The cumulative number of AIDS cases in this Area is 8,482.

WRITE FOR YOUR RIGHTS ESSAY CONTEST

The City of Boston Human Rights Commission is pleased to announce its 9th Annual Write for Your Rights essay contest Awards Ceremony. Open to high school students throughout Boston, the contest calls on youth to write personal essays about human rights and civil rights issues in the context of contemporary events. The awards ceremony took place at the Media Arts Center Auditorium at Roxbury Community College on Thursday, May 9.

This year students were asked to write about either affirmative action, or censorship — two issues that continue to have an impact on the lives of many high school students. The two contest questions were "Affirmative Action: Should It Be Changed?" and "Censorship: Who Should Decide?" In the context of some of the high-visibility cases that have raised these issues locally and nationally, 250 students submitted essays, expressing their views on subjects like racial guidelines or book-banning.

In commenting on the federal court case challenging Boston Latin School's affirmative action admissions guidelines, one student wrote "I think that race has a lot to do with McLaughlin's suit. By saying that his daughter scored well enough to have been accepted and should not have been denied because of an admissions policy, he implies that she is superior to minority students because of a test grade. In fact, a test score does not reveal even half of a student's total potential, especially when most minority students do not have the privileges and advantages that many white students have had — advantages like a private and parochial education...."

Many students wrote to express an opinion about censorship, and the question of who should control what gets taught in the classroom. In an essay that urged broader use of rating systems to label controversial content, one writer concluded that

"maybe it all just means that everything will have to be labeled so that everyone knows up front what the contents are. This way no one can say that something should be banned because others might get offended by it. I do not believe a person can prohibit what you watch, read, or listen to because they think it is inappropriate...The essence of living is the right to choose how we want to live; if we can not do that, what can we do?"

All Boston high school juniors and seniors who reside in Boston, or attend school in the city, were eligible to enter the contest. For the third year, awards are also being given to recognize students whose first language is not English. About 250 students and guests attended the awards ceremony.

"This contest encourages Boston's youngsters to think about human rights, civil rights, and the basic question of how we live together as a community," said Mayor Thomas Menino. "Our youth are our future leaders, and it's important for them to learn how to express their opinions on these kinds of issues — and to do it in a way that respects other people, even people they disagree with."

Keynote speaker at this year's Awards Ceremony was David Hall, Dean of the Northeastern University Law School. Dean Hall, who is the first African-American to head a law school in the Boston area, is recognized nationally for the work he has done to bring social justice values to bear on the education of lawyers. His publications include work on civil rights, the Constitution, and race.

Students competing in the Write for Your Rights Essay Contest are eligible for a number of cash scholarship prizes, ranging in value from $100 to $1,000. Sponsors of this year's contest are the Bull HN Information, McDonald's Corporation, Bank of Boston, Lotus Development Corporation, Reebok Human Rights Foundation, and Coca-Cola.

INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL OF SHOPPING CENTERS

*Remarks of Mayor Thomas M.
Menino, May 7, 1996.*

Those of you who have been to Boston know that it is a city like no other. We're one of the oldest cities in the nation, and our landmarks and historic places are as important as our skyscrapers and office parks. We're not as big in size and population as New York, Chicago or Los Angeles, but we're home to some of the finest institutions of higher education, medicine and culture in the world. And we're closely identified with what might be called a "New England attitude" toward everything from food, sports and entertainment, to business and retailing.

In Boston, we also have a great tradition of public/private partnerships — like Faneuil Hall Marketplace. The Marketplace, a great historic setting filled with restaurants, local merchants and national retailers, is one of the most popular destinations in downtown Boston for residents and visitors alike. It's a great example of the kind of success that can be created when the public and private sectors work together.

We're also gaining a reputation as an urban leader that is reaching both the national and international levels. Earlier this year, Fortune magazine ranked Boston as the fifth best American city in which to do business. Last year, the Corporate Resources Group of Switzerland chose Boston as having the highest quality of life among American cities.

In order to enhance the fine reputation we have achieved around the country and the world, we're developing new ways to approach our business and retail markets. In every corner of the city, you can see and feel this new approach taking hold. Downtown and in our neighborhoods, we're launching many initiatives that combine our old world charm with our state-of-the-art resources and technology. From the small businesses in our neighborhood "Main Street" districts to the larger, nationally known retailers in our malls and shopping centers — we are sending the message that these are "Bright Times for Boston Businesses."

The work of Boston Main Streets is a perfect example. Eleven years ago, I was a Boston city councillor, working to find a solution to the decline of a neighborhood called Roslindale Village. That's when I first heard about Main Streets through the National Trust for Historic Preservation. Main Streets is a comprehensive program of funding, merchant support, and structural improvements that was designed to revitalize the downtown business districts of cities and towns throughout the country.

Within three years of taking on the Main Street approach, we saw the investment of more than five million dollars in Roslindale — including a new park, rehabilitated buildings, and a new infrastructure. We also saw a net gain of 30 new businesses and 132 jobs. But the most noticeable change was in the people of Roslindale. Main Streets helped to restore a sense of community spirit among merchants and residents.

Today, Roslindale Village has the look of a classic New England community. On the outside, well-kept storefronts preserve the character of an urban New England setting. Inside, merchants are creating a bright future for themselves and their neighborhood by learning about the latest technology and state-of-the-art techniques in retail and services. Roslindale combines the richness, beauty, and character of the past with the abilities, vision, and tools of the future.

When I became Mayor of Boston three years ago, I challenged the National Trust to bring the Main Streets approach not just to one neighborhood but to an entire city — to let Boston launch the first citywide Main Streets program.

And they accepted my challenge. Last May, I had the honor of announcing ten business districts that had earned the designation of a Boston Main Street. Now, one year later, the nation's first citywide Main Streets program is under way! And this is just the beginning. In the next two years, we will add ten more districts to our program — bringing the total to 21 communities.

Several of our Main Streets neighborhoods are located within the federally designated Empowerment Zone. That means businesses that locate there — and put residents to work — will benefit from the 25 million dollars we have been awarded by HUD, and the thousands of dollars available in matching funds from local banks.

The City also offers incentive packages to each designated neighborhood. Over the next four years, in addition to support from the National Trust, each neighborhood will receive more than $200,000 in City funding to help these projects thrive. But this is not a handout. It's a matching funds program that gives the neighborhoods added incentive to raise private funds, and through this process they are organized to welcome new retail and services to their districts.

As I visit the neighborhoods of Boston, I can see and feel the impact of Main Streets. With the help and guidance of a district business manager, local merchants are working together to solve common problems. Larger companies are signing on as "Corporate Buddies." And in neighborhoods that many people had written off, saying their best days had passed, new businesses are emerging.

I often say that our Main Streets are key economic engines for our city — and they are. But more importantly, they are the heart and soul of our neighborhoods. Their success brings new life and new hope to the people of our communities.

If any of you are interested in joining the Main Streets community in Boston — and I hope that you are — you will benefit from access to markets that are virtually new. Many of these neighborhood business districts have been overlooked during the suburban sprawl of the last 30 years — and it's a known fact that residents of the nearby communities would prefer to get their shopping done as close to their homes as possible.

Although our neighborhood businesses are an important part of the equation for retail success in Boston, they don't make up the entire picture. The presence of major retailers in a city is a sign of many things —

- economic health and security;
- an established and reliable customer base; and
- the retailer's confidence that the City shares their vision for success.

I'm aware that there are perceptions, and even some problems, associated with developing the retail industry in cities — a fear of a complicated permit, zoning and development process, or a perception that retail businesses cannot be sustained by an urban clientele. I'm here to tell you today that in Boston — from my office, to the development community, to our citizens — your customers, we're changing the way that retail does business.

A great example of this has taken shape at the South Bay Mall — a 60-million-dollar, newly developed 38-acre shopping plaza in the heart of the city. Its tenants include some of the top names in retail — including K-Mart, Toys'R'Us, and Stop & Shop. These three retailers show their highest sales volume at their South Bay locations than at any other stores in New England.

But the success of South Bay is not limited to sales. Its development also signaled a new era in City-retail relations. From the streamlined permitting process to the collaborative design effort, this project represents public-private partnership at its best. Finally, the complex draws customers from the four diverse neighborhoods it borders. This location has given South Bay a "neighborhood feel" — a reliable base of customers who are loyal to the products and services the shopping center has to offer.

The success of South Bay can easily be replicated throughout the city. My administration knows we can do it — and we're committed to making it happen. I understand that the City needs to help with the development process — to make it more user-friendly — but I also understand that it's the retailers that drive the market. We can't accomplish what we want to without the involvement of the people in this room. Boston is developer-friendly, but we're also retail-friendly as well.

There are other success stories, too. When I became Mayor in 1993, I issued a pledge to bring a supermarket into every neighborhood of Boston. I know that all of you can understand the importance of this pledge and the need to fulfill it. I'm happy to report that the pledge is being fulfilled — so far, we have six new supermarkets in place, six under construction, and more on the way.

Along with them, we have seen new bank branches opening in our neighborhoods, traditional chains like Walgreens and Payless Shoes, and even a cyber-cafe or two — taking advantage of the many students and young people we have in Boston, who know a lot more about computers than I do.

Those of you who have visited Boston may be familiar with a shopping district known as Downtown Crossing. Adjacent to our Financial district and Government Center, Downtown Crossing is several blocks of retail — both large and small — connected by city streets and pedestrian walkways. Just recently, Macy's and Borders Books joined the family of retailers in Downtown Crossing which already included Filene's Department Stores, Woolworth's, McDonald's, the Gap, and a host of small, local retailers. I like to refer to Downtown Crossing as downtown Boston's "Main Street" because it brings that same charm and feel to downtown Boston as the Main Street districts bring to our neighborhoods.

In light of Boston's retail successes — and I think there are many of them — there still remain tremendous untapped profits to be made. I want all of you to know that the focus of my administration will be what we can do for you — to make your arrival in Boston less complicated, to provide you with the support you need to succeed and prosper, and to duplicate that exciting growth and sales volume experienced by our Main Streets businesses and the retailers at South Bay and in Downtown Crossing. If you come to Boston, you will not be alone — we'll be with you every step of the way.

All of this adds up to those "Bright Times for Boston Businesses" that I spoke about earlier. From "Main Streets" to South Bay to the untapped potential in our neighborhoods and downtown. As I speak with you today, I can't help but think of the movie that I'm sure many of you are familiar with — "Field of Dreams" and the expression, "if you build it — they will come." Well, we are building and rebuilding Boston and the customers are coming. I hope you will consider joining us.

Thank you.

MAYOR FILES FINAL BCH MERGER DOCUMENTS

The Menino Administration filed documents on May 7 with the Boston City Council which are the final step in the organization of the consolidation of several hospitals: Boston City Hospital, Boston Specialty Rehabilitation Hospital, and Boston University Medical Center Hospital. Members of the City Council must approve the merger for the consolidation to occur by July 1, the start of fiscal 1997.

In a letter to City Councillors, the Mayor writes, "Today's filing is the last step in the organization of the consolidation of the hospitals but the first step in the creation of a new urban health care system for Boston and its residents." The Mayor stressed that the merger preserves the mission of Boston City Hospital, "This partnership will be to provide consistently excellent and accessible health care services to all in need of care, regardless of status or ability to pay."

The documents filed include:

- The Loan Order: an appropriation order in the amount of 25 million dollars which would go toward planning, designing, and constructing facilities at the new entity to be called the Boston Medical Center.
- The Consolidation Agreement: a document which gives details concerning the operation and financial arrangement of the Boston Medical Center.
- The Lease Commencement Agreement: a document which outlines the utilization of the real estate for the new entity.

Boston Healthnet Spokesman William Walczak says, "The Menino Administration's filing today fulfills the commitment made by the Mayor to Boston Healthnet. What is unique about this merger is that, in contrast to the chaos of the marketplace, Boston will now have one system that stands by residents whether or not they are insured, healthy, or employed. We applaud the Mayor and Elaine Ullian of University Hospital for delivering for our neighborhood residents and we stand ready to help get the merger approved by the City Council before July 1."

It has taken nearly nine months of negotiations to come to the full asset merger of these three facilities. The steps leading up to today's filing have included: the intent to merge announcement, the signing of a standstill agreement between the parties, the conclusion of the Parkman House agreements relating to labor and other matters, and the announcement that consolidation terms had been reached by all three parties.

Codman Square Health Center is uniquely qualified to do this work as part of Boston's network of neighborhood health centers. Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $435,800, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

This contract is being processed late because the amount of money to be awarded under this grant was not determined until July 12, 1995.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,

Infant Mortality Reduction

C. 24-96

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to enter into an agreement between the City of Boston and Codman Square Health Center, a non-profit entity, located at 6 Norfolk Street, Dorchester, MA 02124, to award a grant to the health center to support its Infant Mortality reduction efforts.

Under the terms of the agreement, Codman Square Health Center will provide community health services and programs for the health center's clients which target Infant Mortality reduction initiatives.

Codman Square Health Center is uniquely qualified to do this work as part of Boston's network of neighborhood health centers. The Department of Health and Hospitals has had a contract with Codman Square Health Center for the past fourteen years, during which time the Center has demonstrated its ability to have a significant impact on the health of the people in Boston's neighborhoods.

I am requesting your permission to dispense with public advertising in awarding this grant, the public purpose of which is to support and stimulate health care services which reduce Infant Mortality in the City of Boston. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. Chapter 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $80,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

This contract is being processed late because the amount of money to be awarded under this grant was not determined until July 12, 1995.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Testing

C. 47-96
September 21, 1995

Dear Sir:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your permission to award a contract without advertising to the Mallory Pathology Associates, Inc., 784 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, MA 02118, for Monoclonal Assay Testing. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract, Mallory Associates will perform the following tests:

- 1) T4 and T8 cell counts (also known as leu and 4, and 4, and 8 Helper & Suppressor cells).
- 2) Monoclonal subsets of the above as needed to provide additional information.
- 3) T4 and T8 Ratio to include Pan T and Pan I quality assurance checks on all patients.

The unit cost for each monoclonal assay will be forty dollars ($40.00).

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollar ($100,000.00) which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be January 20, 1996, through June 30, 1996.

No other vendor has been able to guarantee a adequate turnaround time or that the tests would be done within a 2-3 month period. Mallory Associates is located on site, has agreed to give BCI clinical samples first priority and has a hematology pathologist available for consultation on each case as necessary.

In view of the above, and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would accrue to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Analyzers

C. 78-96
September 25, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award contract to Dade International, Inc., a corporation located at One Baxter Parkway, Deerfield, 60015, for maintenance of Paramax Chemist Analyzers. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L., Chapter 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Dade International, Inc. will provide service and maintenance including parts, labor and travel during the hours from 8: a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, for Paramax Chemistry Analyzer B6100-102 serial no. 92653026 at a cost of $12,949.16. In addition, preventive maintenance for a Paramax Chemistry Analyzer B6100-102 serial no. 92823035 will be provided twenty-four (24) hours a day seven (7) days a week to include parts, labor and travel at a cost of $16,350.88. The above equipment is located in the Biochemistry Department at Boston City Hospital.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $29,500, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

Dade International, Inc. is authorized to service this equipment by the manufacturer, Baxter Healthcare Corp. Because Dade International, Inc. also has trained personnel and available parts, and as the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

Contract documents were sent to vendor on June 8, 1995. The vendor was contacted several times by the Contract Office requesting the signed documents. On September 20, 1995, the Standard Contract Form was the only document received and the vendor was contacted by phone regarding the other documents. The vendor responded that the documents were left out of the envelope by mistake. These documents were received at Boston City Hospital's Contract Office on September 25, 1995. Thus, this award is being processed late.

Very truly yours,
Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Professional Services

C. 89-96
August 8, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and renew the existing contract with the Trustees of Health and Hospitals of the City of Boston, Inc., 1010 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, MA 02118. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L., Chapter 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract the Trustees Corporation will provide personnel, payroll, accounting, monitoring and reporting, program development and purchasing services for the Department's Public Health Programs, Administrative Support Services and Physician Services Program.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $18,758,968.13, which I have determined to be reasonable for work to be performed. Said expenditures shall be made in accordance with the attached contract budget.

The term of this contract is the period July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

The Trustees Corporation has provided similar services to the Department of Health and Hospitals for over twenty years. The contract for such services was most recently publicly bid by the Department in FY 1995, in light of the activities of the McGovern Commission and the anticipated imminent change in governance, a decision was made by the Department to amend the existing contract with the Corporation for an additional year under the same terms and conditions. At that time the Department believed a governance change would take place prior to July 1, 1996.

As you are aware, the Home Rule Petition which was recently passed by the City Council and approved by your Honor pursuant to the findings of the McGovern Commission will, if approved by the Legislature, effect a governance change in both the Department and the Corporation as of July 1, 1996. Accordingly, the reasons given for last year's amendment support the Department's decision to award this contract without further advertising to the Trustees Corporation this year as well. It is in the City's best interest not to cause additional disruption to the operation of the various programs covered by this contract.

In view of the above, and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This request for your approval of this contract renewal is being submitted late because the City's Law Department requested certain modifications to this award letter and contract documents.

Very truly yours,
Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Software Maintenance

C. 95-96
August 7, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to SDK Healthcare Information Systems (SDK), 1550 Soldiers Field Road, Boston, MA 02135. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract SDK will provide maintenance services to the following software packages twenty-four (24) hours per day seven (7) days per week.

	Maintenance/ Month	Year
1. ADT/Registration	$1,033	$12,396
2. Medical Records	578	6,936
3. Case Mix	350	4,200
4. Patient Accounting	2,758	33,096
5. General Ledger	385	4,620
6. Payroll	613	7,356
7. Accounts Payable	298	3,576
8. Screen Generator	333	3,996
	$6,348	$76,176

In addition SDK will provide the following:

1. Printing and related services to the Patient Accounting Department at Boston City Hospital. These costs include $1.10 per statement; mail service charge of $.15 per statement; the cost of envelopes; shipping charges and computer dial-up access charges. Estimated cost $105,000.
2. An upgrade to the SDK Hospital Information System presently on line at the Department of Health and Hospital. Cost - $343,212.
3. Software modification, additional interfaces and miscellaneous customizations as needed. Estimated cost $100,000.

Compensation for all services provided under this contract shall not exceed $624,388.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

Because SDK is the creator of these proprietary software programs, and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

The Department had initially intended to purchase only maintenance mailing services and software customization and sent contract documents to the vendor for these services in June, 1995. At the same time the Department was approved by the Office of Capital Planning to purchase an upgrade to the SDK Hospital Information Systems using FHA money. As the City's Purchasing Agent had no existing contract in place for such an upgrade it was decided that this activity should be added to the Department's proposed contract with SDK. Thus, this award is being processed late.

Very truly yours,
Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

R.N. Training

C. 118-96
October 2, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Bunker Hill Community College, a state entity, located at 250 New Rutherford Avenue, Boston, MA 02129. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. Chapter 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Bunker Hill Community College (BHCC) will provide an on-site registered nurse training program for thirty-five (35) licensed practical nurses presently employed at the Department of Health and Hospitals (DH&H). Classes will be held two (2) nights per week in Boston City Hospital's Nursing Education Building. This program is being offered as a result of a union agreement reached between the City and the Service Employees International Union Local 285 AFL-CIO.

The fee schedule is attached.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $47,213, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be September 1, 1995, through June 30, 1996.

BHCC was the only college which agreed to provide these services to the Department. The program began February 1, 1994, and it is anticipated that it will continue for several years. Thirty-five (35) licensed practical nurses have successfully completed the second phase of this program. In view of the above I recommend approval of this contract. No benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This contract is being processed late because the signed documents were not received from the vendor until September 29, 1995. Thus, this award is being processed late.

Very truly yours,
Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

G.I. & ENT Equipment

C. 604-96
August 8, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract, without advertising, to Olympus America, Inc., 8 New England Executive Park, Burlington, MA 01803-5050. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Olympus America, Inc. will provide the Gastroenterology (G.I.) De-

parament and the Otolaryngology Clinic (ENT) at Boston City Hospital with the following equipment:

G.I. - 1 Model #GIF-130 Video Gastro-
scope	$16,300
1 Model TJF-130 Large Channel
Video Duodenoscope	$22,800
1 Model #GIF-N30 Pediatric Gastro-
scope	$16,500
Less trade of three (3) OES
Scopes	($9,000)
ENT - 2 Model #ENF-P3 Rhinologyngo-
scope	$10,300
2 Model #CLK-4 Simplified Light
Source	$1,200
	$58,100

Presently, G.I. and ENT have inventories composed solely of endoscopes, videoscopes, processors and light sources manufactured by Olympus America, Inc. Because the equipment was manufactured by the same company, the parts and accessories are interchangeable. This is a distinct advantage when repairs are needed and it also reduces staff training issues. These scopes will be able to use the accessories already in inventory and thus reduce the total cost to the City. Therefore, the Department has decided it would be in the best interest of the City to purchase this equipment from Olympus America, Inc.

In view of the above, and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $58,100, which I consider reasonable.

The term of this contract shall be September 20, 1995, through March 20, 1996.

In accordance with Article 3.2 of the City's Purchasing Contract General Conditions the vendor shall furnish at the price or prices specified such additional quantities of goods, not to exceed 25 percent of the quantities specified, upon receipt of my written request.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract, without advertising, to Puritan Bennett, 1665 Lakes Parkway, Suite 6510, Lawrenceville, GA 30043. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Puritan Bennett will upgrade five (5) Puritan Bennett adult ventilators (3 Model 7200a and 2 Model 7200ae) which are located in the Respiratory Care Department at Boston City Hospital.

Puritan Bennett, the manufacturer, is the sole source of these upgrades.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $38,845.05.

The term of this contract is October 1, 1995, through April 30, 1996.

In accordance with Article 3.2 of the City's Purchasing Contract General Conditions the vendor shall furnish at the price or prices specified such additional quantities of goods, not to exceed 25 percent of the quantities specified, upon receipt of my written request.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

Ventilators

C. 609-96
August 15, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Siemens Medical Systems, Inc., 16 Electronics Avenue, Danvers, MA 01923. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Siemens Medical Systems, Inc. will provide four (4) Siemens Servo 300 adult/pediatric/neonatal ventilators to the Respiratory Care Department at Boston City Hospital.

In 1992, as a result of a public bid, Boston City Hospital purchased four (4) Servo 300 ventilators at a cost of $118,551. Because of the versatility of these ventilators and because of training and maintenance issues it was decided it would be in the best interest of the City to standardize with these multi-use ventilators.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $118,338.36.

The term of this contract shall be October 1, 1995, through April 30, 1996.

In view of the above and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

In accordance with Article 3.2 of the City's Purchasing Contract General Conditions the vendor shall furnish at the price or prices specified such additional quantities of goods, not to exceed twenty-five percent of the quantities specified, upon receipt of my written request.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

C. 613-96
August 30, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract, without advertising, to Sensor Medics Corporation, 22705 Savi Ranch Parkway, Yorba Linda, CA 92687. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Sensor Medics Corporation will provide Respiratory Care at Boston City Hospital with two (2) Model 3100A High Frequency Oscillatory Ventilators.

As a result of a public bid for the new hospital, Sensor Medics Corporation was awarded a contract to provide one of the above ventilators to Boston City Hospital at a cost not to exceed $27,500.

At the time of the original bid, the Department solicited four (4) vendors for bids but only Sensor Medics Corporation responded. In view of this and because of maintenance and training issues, the Department decided it would be in the best interest of the City to standardize on this ventilator. No benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

The equipment will cost $64,150 and an additional $200 has been added for freight. Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $64,350.

In accordance with Article 3.2 of the City's Purchasing Contract General Conditions the vendor shall furnish at the price or prices specified such additional quantities of goods, not to exceed twenty-five percent of the quantities specified, upon receipt of my written request. The contract period is from October 1, 1995, through April 30, 1996.

Very truly yours,

Thomas P. Traylor,
Commissioner.

POLICE DEPARTMENT Rehabilitative Services

C. 1145-96
October 2, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Crime Justice Foundation (CJF), a nonprofit corporation located at 95 Berkeley Street, Boston, MA 02116. CJF will provide rehabilitative services to criminal offenders involved in corrections under the Alternatives to Incarceration Network, the second component of a three-part strategy under the Comprehensive Communities Program (CCP) Grant. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B as it represents a grant agreement with a nonprofit corporation.

Under the terms of this contract, CJF will work in conjunction with Boston District and Juvenile Courts to provide innovative and successful alternatives to incarceration to juvenile and adult probationers through its two support programs. Metropolitan Day Reporting Center (MDRC) and Project Turnaround (PT). Under the MDRC program, clients will receive job placement assistance, treatment placement and education and training services. PT will offer an intensive probation program to high-risk juveniles. Clients placed in the program by the Juvenile Court will receive training, counseling and treatment for up to six months. Compliance with probationary terms is strictly enforced by CJF, and the participation and progress of offenders assigned to PT and MDRC will be closely monitored and communicated to the courts to ensure the success of the programs. A detailed description of the services to be performed is included in the CCP Implementation Plan attached hereto.

The contractor was selected for funding based upon an evaluation of a proposal submitted by the Boston Police Department to the U.S. Department of Justice on August 15, 1994. CJF was determined to be uniquely qualified to perform these services due to its past success in designing and implementing effective sentencing alternatives for the types of clients the Network expects to handle. Also, its facilities are based in the projected target areas specified in the Comprehensive Communities Program. Established in 1878, CJF is experienced and well equipped to assist clients of diverse cultures and varying needs.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed a total amount of $103,638.17 and shall be allocated as follows: $44,413.17 for services provided under the MDRC Program; and $59,225 for services provided under the PT Program. Given the extensive and valuable services to be performed, I have determined this cost to be reasonable. The term of this contract shall be the period October 1, 1994, through December 31, 1995.

Inasmuch as the contractor is the designated recipient of the CCP Grant funds to provide the aforementioned services and inasmuch as CJF brings a unique compilation of experience, expertise and comprehensive alternatives to incarceration programs to the CCP Network, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This contract is being submitted late for the following reasons: The CCP Grant was not approved by the U.S. Department of Justice until January 19, 1995; the acceptance of the grant funds by the City Council was not approved until March 1, 1995; the revised CCP budget was not finalized by the U.S. Department of Justice until July 24, 1995; and Special Condition number 15 of the CCP Grant budget was not lifted by the U.S. Department of Justice until August 18, 1995.

Respectfully,

Paul F. Evans,
Police Commissioner.

C. 1146-95
September 12, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Roxbury Youthworks, Inc. (RYI), a non profit corporation located at 130 Warren Street, Roxbury, MA 02119. RYI will provide a community based, non-residential alternative to incarceration strategy for at-risk youth under the Alternatives to Incarceration Network, the second component of a three-part objective under the Comprehensive Communities Program (CCP) Grant. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B and it represents a grant agreement with a non-profit corporation.

Under the terms of this contract, RYI will provide clinical and support services to court-involved youth between the ages of 7-17. Through its Ready Train Hire Program, RYI will access the resources of its Juvenile Court Clinic, Employment and Training and Outreach and Tracking programs to assess the social and mental needs of adolescents and their families; assist teens in securing and maintaining employment; and monitor and support youth committed to DYS to ensure successful reintegration into their community. A detailed description of the services to be performed is included in the CCP Implementation Plan attached hereto.

The contractor was selected for funding based upon an evaluation of a proposal submitted by the Boston Police Department to the U.S. Department of Justice on August 15, 1994. RYI was determined to be uniquely qualified to perform these services due to its extensive work with the types of clients the Network expects to handle. Also, its facilities are based in the projected target areas specified in the Comprehensive Communities Program. As an established community organization since 1981 and a member of the Massachusetts Department of Youth Services, RYI is qualified and equipped to design and implement effective alternatives to incarceration for our City's at-risk youth.

Compensation under this contract shall be a total amount not to exceed $54,982.10, which I have determined to be reasonable given the valuable training and support services to be provided. The term of this contract shall be the period October 1, 1994, through December 31, 1995.

Inasmuch as the contractor is the designated recipient of the CCP Grant funds to provide the aforementioned services and inasmuch as RYI brings unique experience and structured, comprehensive programs to the Alternatives to Incarceration Network, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This contract is being submitted late for the following reasons: The CCP Grant was not approved by the U.S. Department of Justice until January 19, 1995; the acceptance of the grant funds by the City Council was not approved until March 1, 1995; the revised CCP budget was not finalized by the U.S. Department of Justice until July 24, 1995; and Special Condition number 15 of the CCP Grant budget was not lifted by the U.S. Department of Justice until August 18, 1995.

Respectfully,

Paul F. Evans,
Police Commissioner.

C. 1143-95
September 13, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston, Inc. (BGCB), a non profit corporation located at 50 Congress Street, Suite 730, Boston, MA 02109. BGCB will provide prevention and intervention services to at-risk youth under the Youth Service Providers Network, the third component of a three-part strategy under the Comprehensive Communities Program (CCP) Grant. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B and it represents a grant agreement with a non-profit corporation.

Under the terms of this contract, BGCB will provide training and outreach services through CCP network referrals to create opportunities for at-risk youth and establish long term relationships between youth and community institutions. Through its Clubhouse facilities, BGCB will also offer recreational activities and educational programs aimed at keeping youth in school. A detailed description of the services to be performed is included in the CCP Implementation Plan attached hereto.

The contractor was selected for funding based upon an evaluation of a proposal submitted by the Boston Police Department to the U.S. Department of Justice on August 15, 1994. BGCB was determined to be uniquely qualified to perform these services due to its history of assisting disadvantaged adolescents through its Clubhouse programs which are located in the target areas identified in the CCP Implementation Plan. As part of the national organization, Boys and Girls Clubs of America, BGCB has access to an abundance of resources which may be utilized to provide additional services to Boston. Through years of community presence and activism, BGCB has established relationships of trust with neighborhood youth. Its reputation will encourage the enrollment of new members referred through the Network and contribute to the overall success of the CCP.

Compensation under this contract shall be a total amount not to exceed $50,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the specialized work to be provided. The term of this contract shall be the period October 1, 1994, through December 31, 1995.

Inasmuch as the contractor is the designated recipient of the CCP Grant funds to provide the aforementioned services and inasmuch as BGCB is a uniquely experienced, committed and recognized neighborhood organization, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This contract is being submitted late for the following reasons: The CCP Grant was not approved by the U.S. Department of Justice until January 19, 1995; the acceptance of the grant funds by the City Council was not approved until March 1, 1995; the revised CCP budget was not finalized by the U.S. Department of Justice until July 24, 1995; and Special Condition number 15 of the CCP Grant budget was not lifted by the U.S. Department of Justice until August 18, 1995.

Respectfully,

Paul F. Evans,
Police Commissioner.

MAYOR MENINO BREAKS GROUND AT BOSTON COMMON FROG POND

Mayor Thomas M. Menino and Boston Parks Commissioner Patrick S. Harrington met with local residents and business leaders at 2:30 p.m. on May 10 for a formal groundbreaking ceremony at Boston Common Frog Pond.

"Historically the Frog Pond has been one of the most popular spots on Boston Common, especially for children," Mayor Menino said in announcing the ceremony. "This project will return the site to its former glory and provide park visitors with a four-season attraction in what is now an underutilized area of the Common."

Located on the Beacon Street side of Monument Hill, the Frog Pond was originally one of several mud ponds in the area. To mark the opening of Boston's first municipal water system in 1848, the Frog Pond was turned into a formal fountain with a 90-foot-high jet of water. The pond was popular for model boating, wading, and ice skating. In 1923, the pond bottom was lined with concrete. Since that time, the site has resurfaced several times and a now-outdated freon system was installed for ice maintenance.

In keeping with the tradition of providing Boston residents with year-round activities at the Frog Pond, the rebuilt structure will feature ice skating in the winter, model boating and a reflecting pool in the spring and fall, and a wading pool with spray plume in the hot summer months.

Among the improvements included in the $3,118,400 construction budget are new benches, pathways, and reconstruction of the reflecting pool and ice skating facility complete with a warming area and pavilions for skate and model boat rentals. The general contractor for the project is Seaver Construction, Inc.

"This project will modernize the Frog Pond while staying true to its past," noted Boston Parks Commissioner Patrick S. Harrington. "The new design will combine the rich history of the site with passive and recreational activities for generations to come."

The rejuvenated Frog Pond is scheduled to be completed and fully operational by December of this year.

FROG POND FACTS

- The Frog Pond was originally one of three natural mud ponds located in the area that became Boston Common, the nation's first public park established in 1634.
- In 1848, the Frog Pond was transformed into a formal fountain complete with a 90-foot-high spray plume to celebrate the opening of Boston's first municipal water system.
- As other natural ponds were filled in to accommodate our growing city, the Frog Pond became a popular oasis for Bostonians both young and old. Favorite activities included sailing model boats, wading, and ice skating.
- One famous visitor to the Frog Pond was Edgar Allan Poe, who was born in 1809 in a boarding house on what is now Charles Street South. Although his family moved to New York in his first year, Poe returned to live in the area in 1827. He later used the Frog Pond as a metaphor for his love/hate relationship with the city of his birth.
- The bottom of the Frog Pond was lined with concrete in 1923.
- The renovated Frog Pond will feature a 16,000-square-foot ice skating surface operable in temperatures up to 55 degrees.
- In warm weather the Frog Pond will feature a spray plume and wading. During spring and fall it will be used as a shallow reflecting pool with model boating once again being offered as an activity for visitors of all ages. There will be a rental concession for those who don't own their own toy boats

- A new structure on the site will house concessions, rest rooms, an office, and a warming area for skaters.

MAYOR MENINO STARTS 1996 "KIDS CAN'T FLY" WINDOW FALLS SAFETY PROGRAM

Gives 1,000 Child Window Guards to Local CDCs

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on May 9, opened the 1996 Boston Window Falls Prevention Program by providing two local Dorchester community development corporations with 1,000 child window guards for their housing units.

Speaking at the Quincy/Geneva CDC's Lawrence Avenue housing development in Dorchester, Mayor Menino noted that "Since we established the 'Kids Can't Fly' program in 1993, we've dramatically reduced the number of preventable window falls in our city. Three years ago, 18 children fell from heights and three of those falls were fatal. Last year, four children fell without any deaths. Window falls have decreased in Boston by 83 percent. The program provides education and outreach to address the dangers of children age six and under falling from windows and porches.

"Our message for parents, guardians, and property owners is simple: 'Take steps to prevent these unnecessary childhood injuries due to window falls,'" said Mayor Menino. "Open windows from the top, install window guards, and lock all unopened outside doors that are not fire exits. It is estimated by the Consumer Product Safety Commission that 70 deaths annually are the result of window falls for all ages. Over 4,700 children (age 14 and under) are treated in emergency rooms for falls every year. In Boston hospitals, they used to treat about 30 children each year for injuries due to preventable window falls. Today, we can acknowledge a reduction of over 80 percent in preventable window falls, thanks in part to our education and outreach efforts, the support of Boston's media in educating the public and increased property owner participation."

Mayor Menino introduced Marc Draisen, president of the Massachusetts Association of Community Development Corporations. Draisen supports increased cooperation by property owners to address the health issue of preventable window falls. As a state representative, he authored legislation supporting window guards. Mayor Menino also acknowledged the support of the Boston City Council, who approved city legislation two years ago that established the new program and the Boston's Window Falls Prevention Task Force for its assistance in drafting that legislation.

"We are asking the support of Boston's media outlets to broadcast the p.s.a.'s that are part of our media and community outreach campaign," said Ellen Freedman, director of the Childhood Injury Prevention Program. "The public service campaign features print and broadcast educational messages, including 30-second p.s.a.'s in English and Spanish languages. This year, we've added Haitian Creole and French languages to the existing English and Spanish education and outreach materials. Also, I thank the Boston City Hospital Kids' Fund for recruiting corporate donations to support the window guard donations we are making this year."

The Childhood Injury Prevention Program at DH&H provides safety tips on the most common injuries that are incorporated into outreach efforts of programs and other city agencies including The Boston HealthNet, Boston EMS, Healthy Baby/Healthy Child and Healthy Boston. These efforts expand on outreach efforts targeted toward young children such as the immunization, lead poisoning and nutrition programs.

Dr. Robert Vinci, chief of Pediatric Trauma at Boston City Hospital, said "We have seen and treated too many young kids in our emergency room whose injuries could have been avoided. Working with other city agencies on these issues will mean fewer children who require our services. This is National Safe Kids Week and we want to focus on preventable injuries such as window falls and head injuries. I'd like to think that the public awareness campaigns such as Kids Can't Fly have something to do with the remarkable decrease in incidents over the last three years."

KEEP BOSTON MOVING SAFELY

BOSTON HOSTS 1996 U.S. OLYMPIC TEAM TRIALS — GYMNASTICS

Mass. Sports Partnership Unites Wang & FleetCenter for this One-Time Event

Tickets Now on Sale

This summer, the trial to watch is in Boston. The U.S. Olympic Team Trials — Gymnastics begin Tuesday, June 25, and continue through Sunday, June 30, 1996. Baaron Pittenger, president, Massachusetts Sports Partnership, announced recently. Tickets are now on sale for the Rhythmic Trials and Finals, June 25 and 26 at The Wang Center for the Performing Arts, and for the Men's and Women's Artistic Compulsories and Optionals, June 27, 28, 29, and 30 at the FleetCenter. The final teams (seven members each for the men's and women's Artistic Gymnastics and one Rhythmic performer) to represent the United States in Atlanta will be chosen during these trials.

Boston was one of 15 cities considered for hosting the Team Trials. "Two crucial elements clinched this great honor for the Commonwealth," Pittenger explains, "The Wang Center and the all-new FleetCenter."

The Centennial of the Olympic Games marks the first time Rhythmic Trials will be held in a theater setting. Josiah A. Spaulding, Jr., president and chief executive officer of The Wang Center, notes, "It is only fitting that the strength and beauty of rhythmic gymnastics share the same stage as great ballerinas and dancers."

The Rhythmic and Artistic Competitions require athletic ability, strength, stamina, agility and timing. The women's trials include vault, uneven bars, balance beam and floor exercise. Men compete on the floor exercise, pommel horse, still rings, vault, parallel bars and horizontal bar. The Rhythmic events include rope, ball, clubs and ribbon.

A new Olympic event — Rhythmic Group — will be introduced at the 1996 Atlanta Centennial Olympic Games. The six-member, U.S. Olympic Rhythmic Group Team will be announced during the Trials and will perform an exhibition.

The Gymnastics Trials were brought to Boston when the Massachusetts Sports Partnership — working together with civic and corporate leaders to strengthen the Commonwealth's unmatched sports tradition — presented a bid to USA Gymnastics. Initially, 16 cities submitted bids to USA Gymnastics; Boston ultimately securing the engagement.

Tickets for both events are now on sale through all TicketMaster outlets. For Rhythmic Trials (June 25 & 26 at The Wang Center for Performing Arts), individual tickets for either day cost $10, $15, $20, and $50. Tickets for the Artistic Gymnastic Trials (June 27, 28, 29 & 30 at the FleetCenter) are sold in "strips" only (i.e., a single seat for all four days) and cost $40, $60, $130 and $190. Call TicketMaster at 931-2000 to order both.

Massachusetts expects to realize more than $8 million in economic impact as 3,000 athletes, staff, officials and members of USA Gymnastics National Congress, as well as 55,000 spectators and visitors converge in Boston for the last week in June.

NBC (WHDH-TV, Channel 7, in Boston) will air five hours of national television coverage of the Artistic Men's and Women's Optionals and Compulsories. Additionally, the Rhythmic Preliminaries & Finals will air on ESPN-TV.

The 1996 U.S. Olympic Team Trials — Gymnastics is made possible by the support of John Hancock.

The Massachusetts Sports Partnership is a not-for-profit organization working together with public and private interests to attract sporting events and meetings to the Commonwealth.

The all-new, state-of-the-art FleetCenter is committed to housing quality sports and family events for all citizens in New England. The Wang Center for the Performing Arts serves as one of Boston's premier not-for-profit venues for theater and dance, now including rhythmic gymnastics.

MAYOR MENINO PRESENTS AWARDS AT THE EMPLOYER APPRECIATION DAY OF INNER CITY, INC.

Boston's Only Welfare to Work Program Sponsored by Private Industry.

At the Inner City center, Mayor Menino honored the Boston employers of Inner City graduates and the graduates themselves for their personal achievements. The ceremony occurred on May 10, 1996, at 9:30 a.m., at 120 Southamptton Street, Boston.

The companies honored included Back Bay Hilton, Dunkin' Donuts, Boston Scientific, Auto Body Supply Corporation, Joseph Pollack Company, Portland Pipe and Fitting, and Advanced Automotive Technology. The program included a keynote speech by Mayor Menino and inspirational statements from graduates and employers.

For the past 27 years, Inner City has turned more than 2,500 lives around and given its trainees a second chance at stability and self-respect by moving them from welfare to work. Most trainees have no consistent employment record, and many have past histories that include addiction and/or legal difficulties. Some have been able to leave homeless shelters permanently as a result of the 7-12-month job and life-skills training and placement assistance. In return, businesses in and around Boston have received pre-screened, well trained, highly motivated, stable employees.

"Inner City shows people how to go forward, develop a good work ethic, and earn a good living," stated Barry Novoson, of Portland Pipes and Fitting Company, Boston. "We have five Inner City graduates working for us; four very reliable people in the warehouse who have been with us for over a year, and one in the office who is just excellent."

Marc Gudema, president of Auto Body Supply Corporation, has also hired five Inner City graduates.

"These people come to work on time, are responsible, and do a really good job," he said.

Through Inner City's programs, which include life skills as well as job training, graduates gain a beneficial role in society, contribute to the Boston community and help local businesses move forward. Moreover, Inner City shows the corporate world that it is not only possible but advantageous to make a business out of helping people. Inner City supports its training programs through printing, packaging, fulfillment, assembly, disassembly, distribution, and mailing services.

Inner City, sponsored by Polaroid, is located at 120 Southamptton Street, Boston, MA 02118. It can be reached by telephone at 617/386-8990 and by fax at 617/386-8965.

CHIEF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT OFFICER RECEIVES AWARD

Marisa Lago Honored By Cooper Union

City of Boston Chief Economic Development Officer Marisa Lago has been chosen by The Cooper Union for the Advancement of Science and Art to receive this year's Presidential Citation in the School of Engineering. The award was presented to Lago May 22 during Cooper Union commencement ceremonies.

Cooper Union President John Jay Iselin said Lago was chosen by the Deans, the President's Office, and the Office of Alumni Relations for outstanding attainments and contributions to her profession.

Mayor Thomas M. Menino commented, "The award is a tremendous honor for the City of Boston because it recognizes the exceptional accomplishments of a top city official. Marisa's reputation as a smart business planner and negotiator is known in Boston, in part because of her work putting together proposals for the convention center and empowerment zone. Now, appropriately enough, that reputation is being recognized outside the state by one of the most respected private institutions in the country."

Lago is a graduate of Cooper Union, having received a BS in physics from the School of Engineering in 1977. As Chief Economic Development Officer for the City of Boston, Lago oversees six departments responsible for economic development, planning, permitting, public housing, affordable housing, and neighborhood development. Lago also serves as Director of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, the planning, zoning, and urban redevelopment agency in the city.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without advertising, based on the following communications:

POLICE DEPARTMENT

Residence Assistance, etc.

C. 1148-95
October 2, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Massachusetts Half-Way Houses, Inc. (MHHI), a nonprofit corporation located at 79 Chandler Street, Boston, MA 02116. MHHI will provide residence assistance and support services to Boston's disadvantaged youth and adults under the Alternatives to Incarceration Network, the second component of a three-part strategy under the Comprehensive Communities Program (CCP) Grant. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B as it represents a grant agreement with a non-profit corporation.

Under the terms of this contract, MHHI will work with the Alternatives to Incarceration Network and the Dorchester, Roxbury and West Roxbury District Courts to provide a multitude of social services and guidance to at-risk adolescents, ex-offenders, homeless and court involved individuals to promote public safety, build community support and reduce recidivism in Boston neighborhoods. Following a needs assessment, a client referred through the Network will receive assistance by MHHI in one of its five programs, the Ambrose House, the Coolidge House, the Brooke House, the Sargent House or the Comprehensive Offender Employment Resource System (COERS). Support services include: health care, substance abuse counseling and placement, housing and residence placement, life skills and educational development, employment training and job placement. A detailed description of the work to be performed is included in the CCP Implementation Plan attached hereto.

The contractor was selected for funding based upon an evaluation of a proposal submitted by the Boston Police Department to the U.S. Department of Justice on August 15, 1994. MHHI was determined to be uniquely qualified to perform these services due to the comprehensive assistance it offers and the wide range of clients it receives. MHHI is the largest service provider in the Boston area. Established in 1964, MHHI has a history of providing all the essential counseling, training and placement necessary for its clients' safe and successful reintegration into the communities. Also, its program facilities are based in the projected target areas specified in the Comprehensive Communities Program.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed a total amount of $56,135.48 which I have determined to be reasonable given the extensive and valuable work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be the period October 1, 1994, through December 31, 1995.

Inasmuch as the contractor is the designated recipient of the CCP Grant funds to provide the aforementioned services and inasmuch as MHHI has the unique experience, organizational structure and capacity to meet the diverse needs of the Alternatives to Incarceration Network, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This contract is being submitted late for the following reasons: The CCP Grant was not approved by the U.S. Department of Justice until January 19, 1995; the acceptance of the grant funds by the City Council was not approved until March 1, 1995; the revised CCP budget was not finalized by the U.S. Department of Justice until July 24, 1995; and Special Condition number 15 of the CCP Grant budget was not lifted by the U.S. Department of Justice until August 18, 1995.

Respectfully,

Paul F. Evans,
Police Commissioner.

Boston City Hall
Emergency Switchgear Repairs

C. 2085-95
August 25, 1995

Dear Mayor Menino:

The above-referenced building is owned by the City of Boston. On April 28, 1995, at approximately 5:00 p.m., an explosion occurred at Boston City Hall and a subsequent fire alarm was sounded. The building was immediately evacuated and closed pending emergency repairs. The Public Facilities Department, acting on behalf of the City of Boston, as well as the Boston Police Department, Boston Fire Department and the Boston Water and Sewer Commission responded to the emergency situation. The explosion and resulting fire were caused by failure of the main electrical switchgear. The emergency situation involved life and safety concerns as well as a need to protect the property and restore minimal basic services in a safe manner. To facilitate the reopening of Boston City Hall as quickly as possible, a number of contractors were immediately called in to perform consulting, service restoration and cleaning services.

On May 3, 1995, an emergency waiver of the public bidding laws was requested, and granted by the Division of Capital Planning and Operations on June 14, 1995.

Replacement air filters were required for twenty-three air handling units in the building. Air Engineering, Incorporated was the first to respond. On May 4, 1995, Air Engineering, Incorporated furnished and delivered via Federal Express air filters to replace the damaged ones.

Your Honor's written permission is requested to award a contract to Air Engineering, Incorporated, with offices at P.O. Box 367, 970 Fellsway, Medford, MA 02155, in an amount not to exceed $10,104.36, which I have determined to be reasonable for the supplies and the delivery costs. The term of this contract shall be from May 3, 1995, to May 4, 1995.

The submission of this request was delayed due to the nature of this emergency. These types of projects require immediate attention, thereby, making it necessary for the vendor to begin work prior to the execution of the contract.

Respectfully,

Charles T. Grigsby, Director.
